HOME-COMING, 1947

The annual Home-Coming, held from November 27-29, was well attended. The register shows visitors in attendance from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Oregon, Iowa, Colorado, and Ontario, Ohio leading with a total of thirty-four. All Home-Coming events, beginning with the Thanksgiving Service on Thursday morning and continuing through the Herbert Lanks lecture, "Circling South America," on Saturday evening, were well attended.

President Miller preached the annual Thanksgiving sermon to a packed auditorium. The After Dinner Program, following a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner, was held in Assembly Hall with Russell Krabill 43 as master of ceremonies. Speakers were Don Berry 47, Mrs. Carl Kreider (Evelyn Burkholder 36) and Harold Oyer 42. Music was furnished between the toasts by Dwight Weldy 40 of Smithville, Ohio; William Wenger 46 of Carlisle, Pennsylvania; and the 1935-36 male quartet, Dwight Weldy, Raymond Troyer 37 of West Liberty, Ohio, Dr. C. Richard Yoder 37 of Bloomington, Illinois, and Francis Smucker 37 of Orrville, Ohio.

On Thursday evening the A Cappella Chorus under the direction of Professor Walter E. Yoder 33 in their first public program of the school year sang to a capacity audience in the Goshen High School auditorium. The Ladies' Chorus under the direction of Miss Mary Oyer 45 and the Men's Chorus directed by Professor Yoder each presented a group of songs in connection with the program.

The well-coached, fast-breaking, swift-passing basketball teams of the College proved too much for the alumni, both men's and women's games going to the varsity with a top-heavy score.

The Friday evening Musicale in Assembly Hall brought out a variety of talent. The program included three numbers by the Collegiate Chorus under the direction of Miss Mary Oyer, several selections on the piano by Charles Burkhart 49 of Goshen, two songs by Miriam Musselman 48 of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, a number on the violin by Martin Friedmann 51 of Kalamazoo, Michigan, and a cornet solo by Lowell Byler 51 of Goshen. A string trio, Jean Rowsey 48, violin, Mary Phyllis Yoder 51, cello, and Gertrude Moyer 49, piano, rendered several numbers. The Vesper Male Quartet, Ralph Wade 49 of Sterling, Illinois, Ralph Buckwalter 48, Albert Buckwalter 47, both of Hesston, Kansas, and David Shank 48 of Goshen sang two numbers.

Professor Willard Smith served as chairman of the faculty committee which co-operated with the social committees of the Y in preparing the schedule of Home-Coming events. Co-chairmen of the Y social committees were Paul Witter 48 of Navarre, Kansas, and Esther Shank 49 of Goshen.

ALUMNI FUND FOR THE AUDITORIUM-GYMNASIUM

Alumni gifts continue to pour into the College treasury from the faithful band of alumni. Between September 1, 1947, the beginning of the new fiscal year, and December 15, alumni paid into the Auditorium-Gymnasium Fund slightly more than eleven thousand dollars An encouraging feature of these contributions is the number of new contributors—alumni who have not contributed to the Alumni Fund for the past several years.

It is regrettable, that entirely too large a number still have made no contribution to this fund. Judging, however, by the interest expressed by alumni everywhere, in the new building that is now actually to get under way as soon as the weather is favorable, the number of contributors to the Alumni Fund will show a healthy growth over last year's record of 789 contributors. Names of contributors will be printed in the News-Letter.

The engineer-contractor employed by the building committee seems to be an energetic, resourceful person. In recent weeks he tried to buy several pieces of equipment, specifically a steel bender and a steel cutter. If these machines would have been available, they would have cost nearly one thousand dollars. Not being able to buy them, he made a steel cutter out of an old punch press and with the help of a blacksmith he "manufactured" a steel bender out of some odd pieces of iron he picked up about the city. The two pieces of equipment, better than he could have purchased if they had been available, have cost about one hundred fifty dollars.

Alumni, you can rest assured that Mr. George Jackson, the engineer-contractor, will stretch your dollars to the limit as he supervises the construction of the new auditorium-gymnasium.

STUDENT CHRISTMAS GIFT

In the regular Chapel Service on Tuesday, December 16, David A. Shank 48, of Goshen, chairman of the Emergency Service Committee of the "Y", presented to President Miller for the Auditorium-Gymnasium Fund as a Christmas gift from students and faculty a check for six thousand thirty-four dollars. This was the amount realized from the work program sponsored by the "Y" committee during the two-day recess from classes which the students spent in earning money to hasten the erection of the new building.

President Miller in accepting the gift commended the zeal and the loyalty of the student body and pointed out a number of items which such a sizeable sum would purchase.

1948 WINTER BIBLE TERM

On account of insufficient space for classrooms at Goshen College, the annual Winter Bible School is being operated on an extension basis from January 5 to February 13, 1948. No day classes are being offered at the College but there are evening classes, not only at the College, but also at the Forks Church near Middlebury, Maple Grove Church at Topeka, the Olive Church south of Elkhart, at Nappanee (North) Church, at the Howard-Miami Church near Kokomo and at the Central Church near Archbold, Ohio.

Classes meet one evening each week for six consecutive weeks for two class periods one following immediately after the other. At the Central Mennonite Church, however, classes are meeting two evenings a week. Instructors at the various schools and centers are Bishop D. A. Yoder x07 of Elkhart, I. E. Burkhart 26 of Goshen, S. C. Yoder of Goshen, J. D. Graber 25 of Elkhart, Amos Swartzentruber, missionary on furlough from Argentina, Guy F. Hershberger of Goshen, A. C. Brunk 12 of Goshen, John Gingerich WBT 39 of Elkhart, Russell Krabill 43 of Goshen, and John David Zehr 48 of Manson, Iowa.

Courses being offered are Mennonite Principles, Teachings of Jesus, Revelation, Missions of the Bible and the China Field, Psalms, Missionary Teachings in the Bible, First Peter, How We Got our Bible, Hebrews, Philippians, and Great Chapters in the Bible.

Special features of the Winter Bible School term are: a concert by the Mendelssohn Men's Chorus of fifty voices on January 29, the annual Ministers Conference, February 11 to 13, and the annual Christian Life Conference, February 13 to 15.

1947 GOSPEL TEAMS

Three gospel teams made tours during the Christmas season.

Between December 26 and January 4 the members of the Vesper Quartet, David Shank, Goshen; Ralph and Albert Buckwalter of Hesston, Kansas; and Ralph Wade of Sterling, Illinois, toured western Pennsylvania and Canada giving more than fifteen programs in Mennonite churches and a radio broadcast at Kitchener.

Another men's quartet under the leadership of Frederick Erb, Waterloo, Ontario, gave programs in more than fourteen Mennonite churches in Ohio. Members of the quartet were Wyman Sundheimer, Walnut Creek, Ohio; Ernest Martin of Columbiana, Ohio; John Hess of Lancaster, Pennsylvania; and Ray Bair of New Springfield, Ohio. Their tour began at Orrville, Ohio, on Sunday morning, December 28 and ended at the Elida church on Monday evening, January 5.

Ivan Kauffman, of Minier, Illinois, and Paul Stoll of Rensselaer, Indiana, headed a third group. They began their tour on December 27 at the Hopedale, Illinois, church and closed the tour at Arthur, Illinois, on Sunday evening, January 3. The ladies' quartet with this group was Lois Buckwalter of Hesston, Kansas; Freda Litwiller of Minier, Illinois; Helen Snyder of Guelph, Ontario; and Miriam Musselman of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

In addition to these gospel teams, service units assisted in the following missions during the Christmas vacation: Detroit, Michigan; Lima, Ohio; and the Pleasant Hill Church near Peoria, Illinois.

ANNUAL NON-CONFORMITY WEEK

The annual series of chapel lectures on Non-Conformity was held December 8 to 12. The series was planned and sponsored by Myron Ebersole of Sterling, Illinois, and Louise Heatwole of Waynesboro, Virginia, co-chairmen of the Church and School Relations Committee of the "Y."

The opening lecture was, "The Biblical Basis for Non-Conformity," by Dean Paul Mininger. Dean Kreider spoke Tuesday on "The Inevitable Conflict." On Wednesday, Professor J. C. Wenger spoke on "The Mennonite Position on Non-Conformity and Separation." Thursday's address by President Miller was "Non-Conformity in Campus Life." The series was closed on Friday by John Miller who spoke on "Resources for Non-Conformed Living." His address summed up the messages of the week when he said that non-conformity would not be successful if outward resources alone were used. The only lasting resource for Christian non-conformity is Christ.

BURKHART GRANTED CITIZENSHIP

Irvin E. Burkhart 26, field secretary of the College whose repeated applications for citizenship have been denied, was admitted to citizenship on Wednesday, November 26, on the recommendation of United States Agent Warren Riedel.

Mr. Burkhart, a Canadian citizen, has resided in the United States for twenty-eight years. In 1938 he was denied citizenship because as a Mennonite he held conscientious objection to bearing arms in defense of the country.

The court's action at that time followed the recommendation of a United States naturalization hearing commissioner who informed Judge Conley, of Elkhart, that in a Supreme Court case of a similar nature citizenship had been denied. Subsequently the United States Supreme Court clarified its ruling to admit a conscientious objector to armed combat who was willing to perform alternative patriotic service for his country.

Mr. Burkhart renewed his application for citizenship last March and was given a private hearing before a federal commissioner. It was upon this commissioner's recommendation that the local court granted him citizenship, the same court which earlier had refused to grant it.

EXTENSION SUNDAY SERVICE

Students of the College are conducting or helping to conduct four extension Sunday Schools: East Goshen just beyond the corporation and south of East Lincoln Avenue; Locust Grove south of Elkhart; Dunlap in the north-eastern part of the village, and at the Byers Church on rural route one, Syracuse, near Lake Wawasee.

The East Goshen work is in charge of Paul M. Miller, formerly of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, who was ordained to the ministry on March 9. The work is conducted in a basement church 24 by 42. Mervin Yoder 48, of Clarence Center, New York, with three assistants, has charge of the club work for boys. Mrs. Margaret Kauffman 50 has charge of the midweek Bible Hour attended by twenty-five to fifty children. She is assisted by Berniece Landis 48, of Alpha, Minnesota. Rheta Mae Hostetler 49 of Aurora, Ohio, has charge of children's services on Sunday evening before preaching. In addition to the Sunday morning Sunday School service, there is preaching Sunday morning and evening.

Russell Krabill 43, who was ordained several years ago, has had general supervision of the work at Locust Grove. John W. Miller 48, is superintendent of the Sunday School. Three young men and three young women have charge of the club groups meeting on Saturday afternoon from two to four. Eight students assist in the visitation work on Sunday. Services are held Sunday morning and evening. There is also a Wednesday evening meeting for Bible study and singing. Ruth Lederach 48, of Lederach, Pennsylvania, has charge of a monthly mother's meeting which takes up practical home-making problems like gardening, nursing, canning, sewing and similar activities. The congregation is also organizing a local unit of the Mennonite Fellowship. Russell Krabill, who has had charge of the Locust Grove work, became an assistant at the North Goshen Mennonite Church after January 1 and was succeeded by Ralph Stahly, a businessman of Wakarusa.

Richard Showalter, an ordained minister of Perryton, Texas, now a student of the Goshen College Theological Seminary, has charge of the work at Dunlap. D. W. Dye 48, formerly of Denver, Colorado, is superintendent of the Sunday School. Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Sundheimer 49, of Walnut Creek, Ohio direct the club work for boys and girls. A visiting committee of six is in charge of Lee Kanagy 49, of Stuarts Draft, Virginia. Sunday School and preaching services are held every Sunday morning in the building 26 by 46 built by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities in what is known as Sunny Side in east Dunlap. At the present time a class is under instruction for baptism.

Alvin J. Zieset 47, formerly of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, is superintendent of the work at the Byers Church where the Sunday School attendance ranges from forty to sixty. David Shank has general charge of the visitation work. Sunday School teachers are Clyde Mosemann 50, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, Mary Maple 50 of Wellman, Iowa, Mary Moyer 48, Souderton, Pennsylvania, Eunice Hartman 48 of Nappanee, Lloyd Gundy 49 of Normal, Illinois, and Eugene Blosser 49 of South English, Iowa. Choristers are Robert Yearout 50 of Fresno, California, and Emerson Bontrager 51 of Goshen.

There are baptized members at most of the mission stations and a considerable number are under instruction for baptism. These congregations are beginning in much the same way that the North Goshen work began eighteen or twenty years ago. The latter has now grown to a good-sized, well-established congregation with a good church building, a bishop, Paul Mininger 34 and two ministers, John C. Wenger 34 and Russell Krabill 43.

ANNUAL PEACE ORATORICAL CONTEST

One of the highlights of the Home-Coming season was the selection of the Goshen College orators for the Indiana Annual Peace Oratorical Contest to be held at Goshen College March 19, Mac Cripe of Goshen winning first place, Emma Sommers of Kokomo, second, and Murray Krabill of Wayland, Iowa, third.

Interest in the contest was unusually high this year. Eight men and one woman entered the preliminaries. From these the judges, in an elimination contest, chose the three above named and Phillip Barwick of Pierceton, Indiana, and Albert Meyer of Sterling, Ohio, to compete in the final contest in the Friday chapel of the Home-Coming weekend. David A. Shank of Goshen, president of the Peace Society, presided.

The judging committee was composed of all the previous Goshen College Peace winners who were on the campus. The audience ballot gave Miss Sommers first and placed Mac Cripe second. In the State Contest in March, Mr. Cripe will represent Goshen College in the men's section. Miss Sommers will participate in the women's section.

One of the elements missing from the State Contest during the past few years is money for the prizes. These were formerly donated by the Seabury Sisters of Boston. Since their death no prizes have been available. Can we find among the peace-loving Goshen College Alumni an alumnus or a group of alumni who will underwrite the prizes for the Annual State Contest. Prizes formerly were fifty, thirty, and twenty dollars for the winners of first, second, and third place. Since that time the State Contest has been divided into two sections, one for men and one for women. If one hundred dollars in prizes would not be available for each contest, might some Goshen College alumnus be interested in donating fifty dollars in prizes for each contest to be divided twenty-five, fifteen, and ten dollars to the winners of first, second, and third place in each contest.

The general topic assigned by the National Committee for this year's contest is "Peace Through World Government." Roy H. Umble, associate professor of speech and director of forensics, will be glad to correspond with any alumnus who is interested in sponsoring one or both of these contests, especially this year since the contest is to be held at Goshen College, the institution which in 1906 led in the founding of the Intercollegiate Peace Society from which sprang the Intercollegiate Peace Oratorical Contest.

WIRE RECORDER PURCHASED

In December the College purchased a wire recorder primarily for the use of the speech, music, and homiletics classes. The recorder will be of great value also to foreign students who have difficulty in "hearing their own voices." The recorder will assist them in objectifying their articulation and their speech rhythm.

Although the wire recorder is not so practical for permanent recordings as the disc recorder, it has several advantages over the disc for instructional purposes. The recording is made by means of magnetizing a wire. It can be played back as often as the operator desires, but the same wire can be used for any number of future recordings, each previous recording being automatically erased or demagnetized as the recording is made. The new device is particularly useful in speech training.

SENIOR VIOLIN RECITAL

On Saturday, December 13, Jean Rowsey, pupil of Professor Edwyn Hames, of South Bend, delighted a large audience with her senior violin recital in Assembly Hall. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Oyer.

In numbers by Grieg, Mendelssohn, Rimsky-Korsakov, Kreisler and others, Miss Rowsey showed herself an artist in interpretation and in her management of the techniques of the instrument.

EDITORIAL CHAT

As we go to press, it is still time to wish everyone a happy Christmas, but by the time this bulletin reaches you in the mail it will be too late to say "happy and prosperous New Year." However, this is the wish of the Alumni officers for all of you.

—o—

The Director of Alumni Relations was considerably puzzled on receiving two of the prepaid return envelopes recently. One returned the November 8 letter and a five dollar bill, but the sender forgot to include his name. The other was even more puzzling. The envelope contained the November 8 letter, but the sender forgot to enclose his contribution as he evidently had intended to do.

—o—

Remember that the alumni goal for 1947-48 is twenty-six thousand dollars, a goal which the Alumni Association has never reached in any one year. If our contributions are to total twenty-six thousand dollars it means that more alumni will need to contribute during this year than last, and that a few will need to add substantial amounts to their 1946-47 contributions.

—o—

An encouraging feature of the contributions received since September 1 of this year is the large number of contributions for one hundred dollars or more and the increased number of twenty-five and fifty dollar contributions. The great need right now is for more alumni contributors from among those who have never before made a donation to Goshen College or who have not done so within the past year or two.

—o—

Goshen alumni in increasing numbers recognize the claim of Christian education to a part of the Christian's tithe. Here are two sentences from the letter of a non-Mennonite Goshen graduate, a pastor of a church of another denomination here in Indiana, inclosing a check for the Auditorium-Gymnasium: "I shall remember the needs of my Alma Mater with a part of my tithe. You are doing a good job in training young people to be Christian in every phase of their lives."

THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Why have Alumni from year to year contributed substantial sums to Goshen College? Why in the earlier days did far-sighted men like J. S. Coffman, J. S. Hartzler, N. E. Byers, J. E. Hartzler, Noah Oyer, and why now are men like S. C. Yoder, Orie Miller, E. E. Miller and many others giving wholeheartedly of their means and energy to assure a good future for Goshen College?

There are many reasons and I want to recount several. First, I believe they were men with kindred souls. They wanted their Sons and Daughters and the Sons and Daughters of their Christian Friends to have a fine community in which to live while they were getting a College Education. They wanted to feel that their Sons and Daughters were meeting the right kind of leaders and companions. They wished to feel that the people their Sons would meet and make friends with would be the fine quality of individuals which would be welcomed into their homes on any occasion.

Second, they wanted their Sons and Daughters to have wholesome attitudes that could not be questioned and would command respect no matter where they would be expressed. They knew such attitudes toward their fellowmen and toward God were basic requirements to a full measure of joy in life.

Third, they wanted these Young People to have a vision of service to the community in which they live their lives. Service in their home churches and in the social and political communities in which they dwell. They wanted these students to have a vision of the needs of our nation and of all the other nations. A vision which would make them responsive to the call for help of others in dire need no matter what their race, their creed, or their nationality.

Recently a prominent manufacturer of Elkhart made this observation: "These Mennonite Young People seem to see where the need is the greatest and are willing to work hard to serve those in need." Dr. Samuel T. Miller, of Elkhart, stated that he found Mennonite Young People doing a wonderful work in many parts of Europe and in Puerto Rico on his recent visit to these places.

The Founders of Goshen College had these things in mind and no doubt many others. I am sure as we Alumni of the present day make our observations and appraisals of "Why Goshen College?" we come to the same conclusion: there is no greater goal than to provide a Christian Education for our Young People, in a wholesome community where they learn to serve God and man. To provide a philosophy of life which will stand with honor in any land, and which brings success in this life and promise of everlasting reward.

May we continue to give to further this noble cause. So far Alumni have given since September 30, 1947, about $12,000.00. We have $14,000.00 more to go to reach our goal for 1947-48. We want to do our part to "Finish The Auditorium and Gymnasium This Year."

HOME MANAGEMENT BECOMES A FACT

For some years the Home Economics Department at Goshen College has felt the need of a family home economics laboratory known as Home Management House. Dr. Olive Wyse 26 saw the realization of this dream this year when Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kauffman 47 (Verda Lambright 43) offered their home to the Department to be used for this purpose.

"The House," located at 1629 South Main just a few rods from the campus, is operated by the instructor, Mrs. Howard Kauffman, and three advanced home economics students, Ruth Bechtel, Hespeler, Ontario; Erma Grove, Hagerstown, Maryland; and Eva Stauffer, Souderton, Pennsylvania. On any given week one of the students acts as housekeeper and nursemaid, another as laundress and another as assistant cook which includes dish-washing and the preparation of menus to be used the following week when she is cook. A vital member of Home Management House is Lois Ann, one and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kauffman, whose duties, everyone agrees, are largely "extra-curricular."

SEND GREETINGS FROM EUROPE

Atlee Beechy 34 finds life in Europe extremely busy as Director of European Relief for the M.C.C., but also challenging and exhilarating. That he and Mrs. Beechy (Winifred Nelson 38) and Karen find the experience happy and satisfying, as well, is evidenced by the accompanying picture which appeared on their Christmas greeting cards wishing their friends "Froehliche Weihnachten und ein Glueckliches Neues Jahr." Their European address is Arnold Boecklinstrasse 11, Basel, Switzerland. They plan to return to the States about a year from now at the end of Mr. Beechy's two-year term as director.

CLASS OF 1947 PURCHASES PERMANENT RECORDER

As its class gift, last June the class of 1947 left a fund to purchase recording equipment to make master records from which record albums, to be retailed through the Goshen College Book Store, will be manufactured. The recorder has now been purchased.

The College plans to record from six to eight albums this year each containing three or four, ten inch records or two or three, twelve inch records. One album will be prepared by each of the following: the A Cappella Chorus under the direction of Professor Walter E. Yoder 33, the Collegiate Chorus under the direction of Miss Mary Oyer 45, the Men's Chorus, Ladies' Chorus, and two vocal quartets.

Leland Bachman, controller; Professors Walter E. Yoder and John C. Wenger, and Miss Mary Oyer will compose a Board of Review to examine and approve all master records before they are released for production. Professor Paul Bender, director of the audio-visual program of the College, has general charge of the equipment and of recording proceedures.

MRS. OYER HONORED

As a token of friendship and appreciation a number of the relatives and friends of Mrs. Siddie Oyer, widow of the late Dean Oyer and for many years matron of Coffman Hall and now of North Hall, presented her with an electric refrigerator, placed it in her home while she was absent, and filled it with food. The refrigerator is a new 1948 model.

AVON-AURORA SOCIETIES GO LITERARY

On Friday, November 14, the Avon and Aurora Societies conjointly presented scenes from five well-known Shakesperian plays. The tradesmen's scenes from A Midsummer Night's Dream were presented by Harold Yoder of Columbiana, Ohio, John J. Hostetler of Bihar, India, Lewis Hartman of Dayton, Virginia, William Pletcher of Goshen, Dale Hershberger of Millersburg, Ohio, and John K. Miller of Goshen.

Orley Swartzentruber of Pehuajo, South America, read Hamlet's soliloquy.

The sleep-walking scene from Macbeth was presented by Ralph Wade of Sterling, Illinois, Phyllis Sprunger of Berne, Indiana, and Ruth Siemens of Lenoir, North Carolina.

George Topinges of Akron, Ohio, and Miriam Musselman of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, sang the balcony scene from the opera, Romeo and Juliet.

The third scene of Julius Caesar containing the famous speech by Mark Antony, was presented by Robert Ekeland of Staten Island, New York, as Mark Antony, and a group of Roman citizens, Paul M. Yoder, of Harper, Kansas, Murray Krabill of Wayland, Iowa, James Koch of Emmaus, Pennslvania, Bill Swartzendruber of Kalona, Iowa, John D. Hostetler of West Liberty, Ohio, Max Miller of Gulfport, Mississippi, Mervin Miller of Middlebury, and Martin Friedmann of Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Much of the credit for the success of the program goes to Robert Ekeland, president of the Aurora Society, who has been able to revive something of a literary spirit in his organization. In recent years activities of the societies have tended to drift into the social and athletic interests.

Albert Meyer, of Sterling, Ohio, and Doris Gunden, of Goshen, are public program chairmen of the two societies.

MISSIONARY GROUP REACHES CHINA

Here are a few notes from a two and one-half page letter written on November 14 from Chengtu, China, by Mrs. Don McCammon (Dorothy Snapp 44) ". . . sailed from Jersey City on September 12 . . . walked the streets of Havanna, Cuba, for a few hours . . . Panama Canal Zone . . . another day near Los Angeles . . . crossing unusually peaceful . . . Shanghai October 13 . . . many old missionaries going back . . . many new candidates going out for the first time . . . with Burkholders for three weeks [Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burkholder 39 (Harriet Lapp 38)]. Our three girls, Christine Weaver 44, a dietitian, Louella Gingerich 47, a nurse, and Ruth Bean 47, a teacher, left Shanghai about the last day of October by plane. We left November 2 from Shanghai by river boat with the freight for school . . . hope to fly from Chungking to Chengtu.

". . . and now about the river trip on last day and a half . . . more of God's handiwork in natural splendor and beauty than either of us had seen in the first quarter century of our lives . . . into the Gorges . . . sailing in a very narrow channel, up exciting rapids, and surrounded by three and four thousand foot precipitious cliffs, done in exquisite colors. Newspaper notice . . . said we would carry 220 passengers . . . there must have been nearly a thousand . . . eight foreigners . . . the rest Chinese.

We foreigners eat together, Chinese food . . . with chopsticks. Don and I learned quickly when getting the food depended on it. Don . . . says I would have turned up my nose at fried peanuts and rice for breakfast at home, but believe me it tastes good and I'm just glad it isn't shrimp complete to the whiskers as we have had a few times. There are usually six dishes so three or four are bound to be palatable . . . in the next months we study language at the University . . . living with an English Quaker missionary."

The address of the group is House 46, West China Union University, Chengtu, Szechwan, West China.

STUDENTS TO TOUR EUROPE

During the December 15 Chapel Service President Ernest E. Miller announced plans for the 1948 summer student tour to be sponsored by the Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges.

Each Mennonite and Brethren in Christ college may send one student for each one hundred students registered during the academic year 1947-48. This will allow Goshen College seven representatives. Students will bear their own expenses for the tour, probably about the same as last year—five to seven hundred dollars.

In order to derive the maximum benefit from the tour, the colleges my select mature students who will return to their campuses next year. Only seniors or graduates were included in the 1947 tour.

The Council plans to combine study and service next summer. Students in the group will spend four weeks in a voluntary service unit living and working with European young people to help them "in the Name of Christ" in their task of moral and physical reconstruction.

SHORT TERM VOLUNTARY SERVICE

The Mennonite Central Committee at Akron, Pennsylvania, has announced tentative plans for European voluntary short term service during the summer of 1948. Elmer Ediger, director of M. C. C. Voluntary Service, states that a tour is being arranged "for those who can afford to make a trip to Europe at their own expense and who wish to contribute a portion of their time in direct service to needs about them."

"The major aim of this short term project must be Christian service—understanding, sharing, serving," says Director Ediger. Other aims are "sensing effects as directly as possible of war and its accompanying evils; international inter-Mennonite fellowship in Christ through work, worship, and play; and, through Christian fellowship, leadership and this setting, defining more clearly our Christian responsibility, individually and as a group."

The director feels that personnel likely will "come from three categories:" (1) students traveling under the Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges, (2) other U. S. and Canadian young people, and (3) European young people having interest in our Mennonite principles and program.

The director invites correspondence with either students or non-students who wish application forms. "The applicant should be a sincere Christian," he states, "desirous of serving where ever possible 'in the Name of Christ' and be willing to do the most menial task cheerfully."

Alumni who were not able to give a direct Christian witness during the late war or whose duties and obligations deny them the privilege of volunteering for a longer term of service at this time may be interested in this opportunity for a short term of voluntary service in Europe. "Go ye" . . .

ZERBE CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

The accompanying picture shows the Reverend J. W. Zerbe x95 on the occasion of the celebration of the Forty-fifth anniversary of his entry into the Christian ministry. Mrs. Zerbe (Minnie Paulus x96) baked a cake and decorated it with forty-five candles.

During his ministry he has had fourteen charges, (thirty-four churches and three schoolhouse appointments) in Indiana, Iowa, and South Dakota. He had attended some church service every Sunday until he had an operation on his eyes a few years ago and was in the Iowa Methodist Hospital in Des Moines.

He served as pastor of the Fremont, Iowa, Methodist church until March, 1945, when he suffered a stroke. Since his illness he has received 1200 letters and cards from friends in all but ten of the forty-eight states. He is known among his friends for his remarkable memory. His address is Fremont, Iowa, where he and Mrs. Zerbe reside.

Reverend J. W. Zerbe

ACCEPTED BY NORTHWESTERN MEDICAL

On Wednesday, December 17, Willis Kauffman of Middlebury, and Roger Neumann of Metamora, Illinois, received the long-looked-for telegrams notifying them that they had been accepted by Northwestern University Medical School for the freshman class of 1948. Both young men are seniors. They have been roommates on the Goshen College campus and expect to be roommates at Northwestern.

CHORUS PERSONNEL CHOSEN

On account of the large number of students interested in choral work, three choruses of approximately sixty voices each have been organized on the campus. Professor Walter E. Yoder, director of the A Capella Chorus and Miss Mary Oyer, director of the Collegiate Chorus held tryouts shortly after registration. Another group has been organized as the Choral Society under the direction of Miss Carolyn Weaver, part-time instructor in music. Following is the personnel of the three organizations.

Personnel of the A-Cappella Chorus:

IN MEMORIAM

Dierberger—On October 9 the Reverend Doctor Paul Wesley Dierberger x01, pastor of a church in Great Falls, Montana, died of a heart attack. He previously had no symptoms of heart trouble and was well up to the time of the attack. The illness came upon him very suddenly and in four days he passed away after twenty-one years of service in the church at Great Falls. His sudden and untimely death was a great shock to his family and the whole community. His wife, Lydia, survives him.

Sommer—Nora x08, daughter of Reverend George and Amanda (Gehman) Lambert, was born January 1, 1887 in Elkhart County. She left Goshen College to join her sister, Rose, who was serving among Armenian and Turkish orphans as a missionary. She continued her education at Bluffton College on her return and made many tours to speak on the subject of missions. On one of these tours she met Oscar J. Sommer of Pekin, Illinois, to whom she was united in marriage on August 18, 1918 in Elkhart. They set up their home in Illinois. Her daughter, Lois Lydia, is serving with her husband, Robert Kreider, in voluntary relief in Germany for CRALOG. Her eldest son works with his father in the Sommer Brothers Seed Company. The youngest son, John Lambert, is a pre-medical student at the University of Chicago. Mrs. Sommer died at her Illinois home on November 12, 1947. In addition to her husband and three children she is survived by a brother and five sisters, one of whom (Emma, Mrs. R. A. Fanscher, of Gettysburg, Ohio,) was graduated from the Elkhart Institute in 1900.

Roth—Jacob J. Roth, son of the late Joseph and Mary (Gerig) Roth was born near Smithville, Ohio on November 16, 1871, passed away in the Goshen Hospital on November 16, 1947. Death resulted from a heart attack which he suffered while in Goshen attending the funeral of his grandson, Loren Lee Gingerich. On July 29, 1892, he was united in marriage to Bertha Wyse. He was a member of the Sugar Creek Mennonite Church near Wayland, Iowa. Surviving are his widow, two daughters, Mina (Mrs. C. L. Graber) and Verna x29 (Mrs. Melvin Gingerich) both of Goshen, and one son, Arthur W. 33, production manager of the Orrtanna, Pennsylvania, Canning Company.

Reid—Mrs. Harry Reid (Lee Etta McBride x41) died at the Columbia City Hospital on October 17 after an illness of nearly a year. She was born February 18, 1909 in Goshen, the daughter of Orrin H. and Lena (Baker) McBride. During her junior year in high school she began a fifteen year period of service in the Goshen Public Library. After her marriage to Mr. Reid on November 11, 1943 she moved from Goshen to Columbia City. She is survived by her husband, who operates a greenhouse at Kokomo, and two children, Robert 3 and Daniel ten months old.

Weaver—Mrs. John E. Weaver (Eleanora Kauffman 13) of 430 South Eighth Street died in an ambulance enroute to a hospital at Tecumseh, Michigan, on the evening of Thanksgiving Day when the automobile driven by her husband, skidded on the ice-covered pavement at the east edge of Clinton, Michigan, and crashed into an on-coming car on U.S. 112. Professor Weaver, instructor in typing and bookkeeping at the Goshen High School, also was seriously injured. Following her graduation from Goshen College she completed the work for her master's degree at Indiana University. She was listed as a substitute teacher in the Goshen city schools and was called upon frequently to teach in the grades. She is survived by her husband, her mother, one son, Richard, a student in the University of Michigan, and a daughter, Eleanor, engaged in Mennonite Central Committee relief work in Puerto Rico. As we go to press Mr. Weaver is recovering from his injuries. He was brought home from the hospital on December 14.

Gingerich—Loren Lee Gingerich, age 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gingerich 26 (Verna Mae Roth x29) of 323 South Seventh Street, was fatally injured on November 8 when he was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile on the Fish Lake Road just east of the New York Central railroad crossing. He had moved to Goshen from North Newton, Kansas, with his parents in July. His father had been an instructor in history in Bethel College and is now director of the Mennonite Research Foundation with headquarters at Goshen. Loren was born in Washington, Iowa, July 18, 1934, was an eighth grade pupil at Goshen Junior High School and only recently had started delivering newspapers for the South Bend Tribune. In addition to his parents he is survived by a brother, Owen Jay, a freshman in Goshen College.

DEATH OF FORMER INSTRUCTOR

Norman S. Gingrich, instructor at the Elkhart Institute from 1898 to 1902, died on December 22 following a sudden heart attack in his winter home at Sarasota, Florida. Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church, of Mishawaka, in charge of the Reverend Harold D. Neel, Mr. Gingrich's pastor, assisted by C. L. Graber, business manager of the College. Interment was made in St. Joseph Valley Memorial Park.

Mr. Gingrich was born in Kitchener, Ontario, on December 1, 1872. He was a graduate of Galt Collegiate Institute and of Berlin Teachers Training School. He did special work in history and economics at the University of Michigan and taught for three years in the public schools of Waterloo County, Ontario, before coming to the Elkhart Institute for a three-year period of service, first as principal of the commercial and stenographic departments and later as instructor in history and science. He was known for his poise, his quiet but genial dignity and for his thoroughness as an instructor.

He resigned in 1902 to become associated with the Ball Band Company in Mishawaka where he rose rapidly, becoming advertising manager of the plant prior to his retirement in 1935.

On October 2, 1902, in Kitchener, Ontario, he married Esther Gehman who died on August 25, 1935. On April 27, 1940, he married Alberta Shantz who survives him. He is survived also by three brothers, Jacob and Enoch, of Kitchener, and Dillman x00, of Freeport, Illinois; and two sisters, Mrs. Levi Hostetler, of Sarasota, Florida; and Elizabeth 96, widow of the late Dr. W. K. Jacobs, of St. Louis.

DIRECTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1931

Ellis M. Hostetler, president of the class of 1931, has been to some pains to collect a directory of his class. He has listed the correct address, the name of the husband or wife, the marriage date, and the names and birth date of the children. Since this directory has interest and historical value and since it might serve as a model for others, the editor is printing it complete.

Arlene Sitler, Akron, Pennsylvania, MCC. "Permanent visa for residence in the United States . . . the two years in England and Switzerland . . . happiest and fullest in my life—the church gave this opportunity to me through the channels of the M.C.C. Her strings seemed to pull me back again so here I am at Akron . . . happy to be on the "home-front" again and find a more significant and real challenge since seeing our witness overseas."

Ernest C. Shank

Ernest C. Shank, UNRRA-Brethren Service Unit, Shell House, The Bund, Hankow, Hupeh, China. "In the interior of China trying to start a tractor training program in the lake region of northern Hunan. After a month of training and preparation for this trip to China in the states in January and February, I flew across from California to Shanghai. I spent about a month and a half in Shanghai getting adjusted and awaiting assignment, at the same time helping to prepare shipments of tractors and equipment to the various regions where projects are operated by some 49 BSU plowboys working in conjunction with UNRRA. At Easter time I was on the Yangtse River accompanying a shipment of equipment for my new project up the river. There was a two-week stop at Hankow for trans-shipment by barges the remainder of the trip up river. I've been here in this area now for a month and a half . . . learned what typical Chinese food is for the average Chinese working man . . . learned to use the chopsticks quite well also as a matter of necessity, and I learned to appreciate their practicality . . . been working alone most of the time, though I have very good Chinese staff men to work with. Three of us have done most of the on-the-spot planning and building as well as locating the site for our living and working quarters. The place, Er-ba-gung the Chinese call it, or The Hummocks to me—is a clump of trees on a few small high spots in the middle of some five to ten acres of uncultivated land, all of it rich bottom land now covered with water grass growing in many places to ten and twelve feet in height. This land must be protected by dikes from high water which comes every year late in the summer.

"We hope the dike, now in the process of construction by thousands of coolies carrying baskets of dirt with a pole over their shoulder, will be completed in time so that we don't find ourselves on a little island when the Yangtse overflows its banks. We now have three bulldozers building up our own high place to a safe height and expect to put them to helping in the dike building. We have already started plowing operations with some of our seventeen tractor students plowing with Ford-Ferguson tractors and plows, now twenty in number. Some of the land plowed has never been plowed and most of it has not been plowed for many years because of a shortage both in manpower and water buffalo due to the war. I find the people in this area quite friendly and quite ready to learn better ways to do things, but it is a slow difficult job to teach them sometimes . . .learning the language slowly . . . find the Chinese very willing to help me learn. The customs and modes of the people make a very interesting study, often very difficult to have enough patience with a seemingly senseless thing to try to understand the reason for it. Patience is a virtue I have tried hard to cultivate, for it seems that that and a genuine interest in the people is the key to success in working with Chinese people. With my limited knowledge of medicine and first aid, I have by necessity become the doctor of the community. To anyone contemplating really working with the people of China and doing a vitally necessary work I would suggest and recommend highly a course in practical nursing and general sanitation."

Arthur Smucker x45 formerly of Goshen, now in relief work in Europe, has been transferred to Holland. His new address is Menno Travel Service, Koningslaan 58, Amsterdam. Under recent date he wrote: "My new work should be quite interesting, although less directly in the line of relief work. However, when I volunteered for relief work, it was with the understanding that I would be glad to serve wherever the administration thought I could be of most use; so, although this will not exactly be relief work, yet I will be contributing to the total program. My first tasks will probably be the planning of tours for next summer for student and other groups, and the preparation of descriptive material concerning them. Other than travel service work, I will also be assisting with the refugee work, mostly in securing visas and passage for them. In that I will be replacing two of the workers now in Holland who will be going to Germany in the near future."

Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Glick 40 (Alta Schertz 40) are planning to move from Roanoke to Eureka, Illinois, where Dr. Glick will continue the general practice of medicine and surgery.

At a vesper service at the Mennonite Seminary in Chicago, November 9, O. O. Miller 15 executive secretary of the M.C.C. described the work of the Mennonite Central Committee to an audience which included workers under the Friends, Brethren and Methodist Service Committees. Oswin G. Gerber 37 Northeastern Ohio distributor for the "Lincoln Library of Essential Information." Mr. and Mrs. Gerber (Luella Amstutz 35) are living at Kidron, Ohio.

Alfred Zook 41 who had been convalescing for several months during the past summer has recovered his health sufficiently to return to work. He also is a distributor of the "Lincoln Library of Essential Information."

Fern A. Umble 23 is enjoying the landscaping and redecorating of the suburban residence she purchased on the Wagner Road in the eastern part of Avon Lake, Ohio, a year ago. Miss Umble is a real estate broker.

The two sons, Dr. Richard Gerber 42 and Dr. Max Gerber 45, of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gerber (Florence Wenger 16) of Wakarusa have established dental practice in Elkhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Unruh x38 (Lois Metzler x38) and two sons visited the campus on November 7 enroute to Martinsburg, Pennsylvania. This is Mrs. Unruh's former home where they will spend the winter. Mr. Unruh is a prosperous wheat farmer of Harper, Kansas.

Norman Berkshire x49 is registered at Indiana University with majors in physics and chemistry and a minor in English. He expects to return to Goshen next year to complete his work for the B.A. degree before completing the work for a B.S. in physics and continuing graduate work at Indiana. Mr. Berkshire's address is 1011 West Second Street, Bloomington, Indiana.

Mary Diller x49 is employed near her home on rural route 1, New Carlisle, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Long x98 again are spending the winter in Florida. Their address is rural route 2, Box 223-B4, Sarasota, Florida.

J. Paul Sauder 25 of Harrisonburg Virginia is employed at the Shenk Hatcheries. Early in November Mr. Sauder delivered 12,000 baby chicks to Maynard Hoover who lives west of Goshen. Mr. Sauder also supplies as a preacher in a number of the mountain stations near Harrisonburg.

Emery Eigsti x23 of Wayland, Iowa who has been operating the Walnut Grove Stock Farm specializing in registered Brown Swiss cattle for the last 23 years is transferring his farm operations to his eldest son, Orlin, in order to devote his entire time to district sales supervisor for the Funk Brothers Seed Company of Bloomington, Illinois. His territory consists of nine counties in southeastern Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Eigsti will continue to live in their new country home one mile east of Wayland. Their daughter, Ruth, is a freshman at Goshen College.

Jonathan Stutzman x21 who has been Children's Worker in the Children's Services Department of the Midland County Probate Court at Midland transferred on December 15 to Livingston County. He will continue his duties as Children's Worker and will be in charge of the Independent Boarding Home program with headquarters at Howell, Michigan.

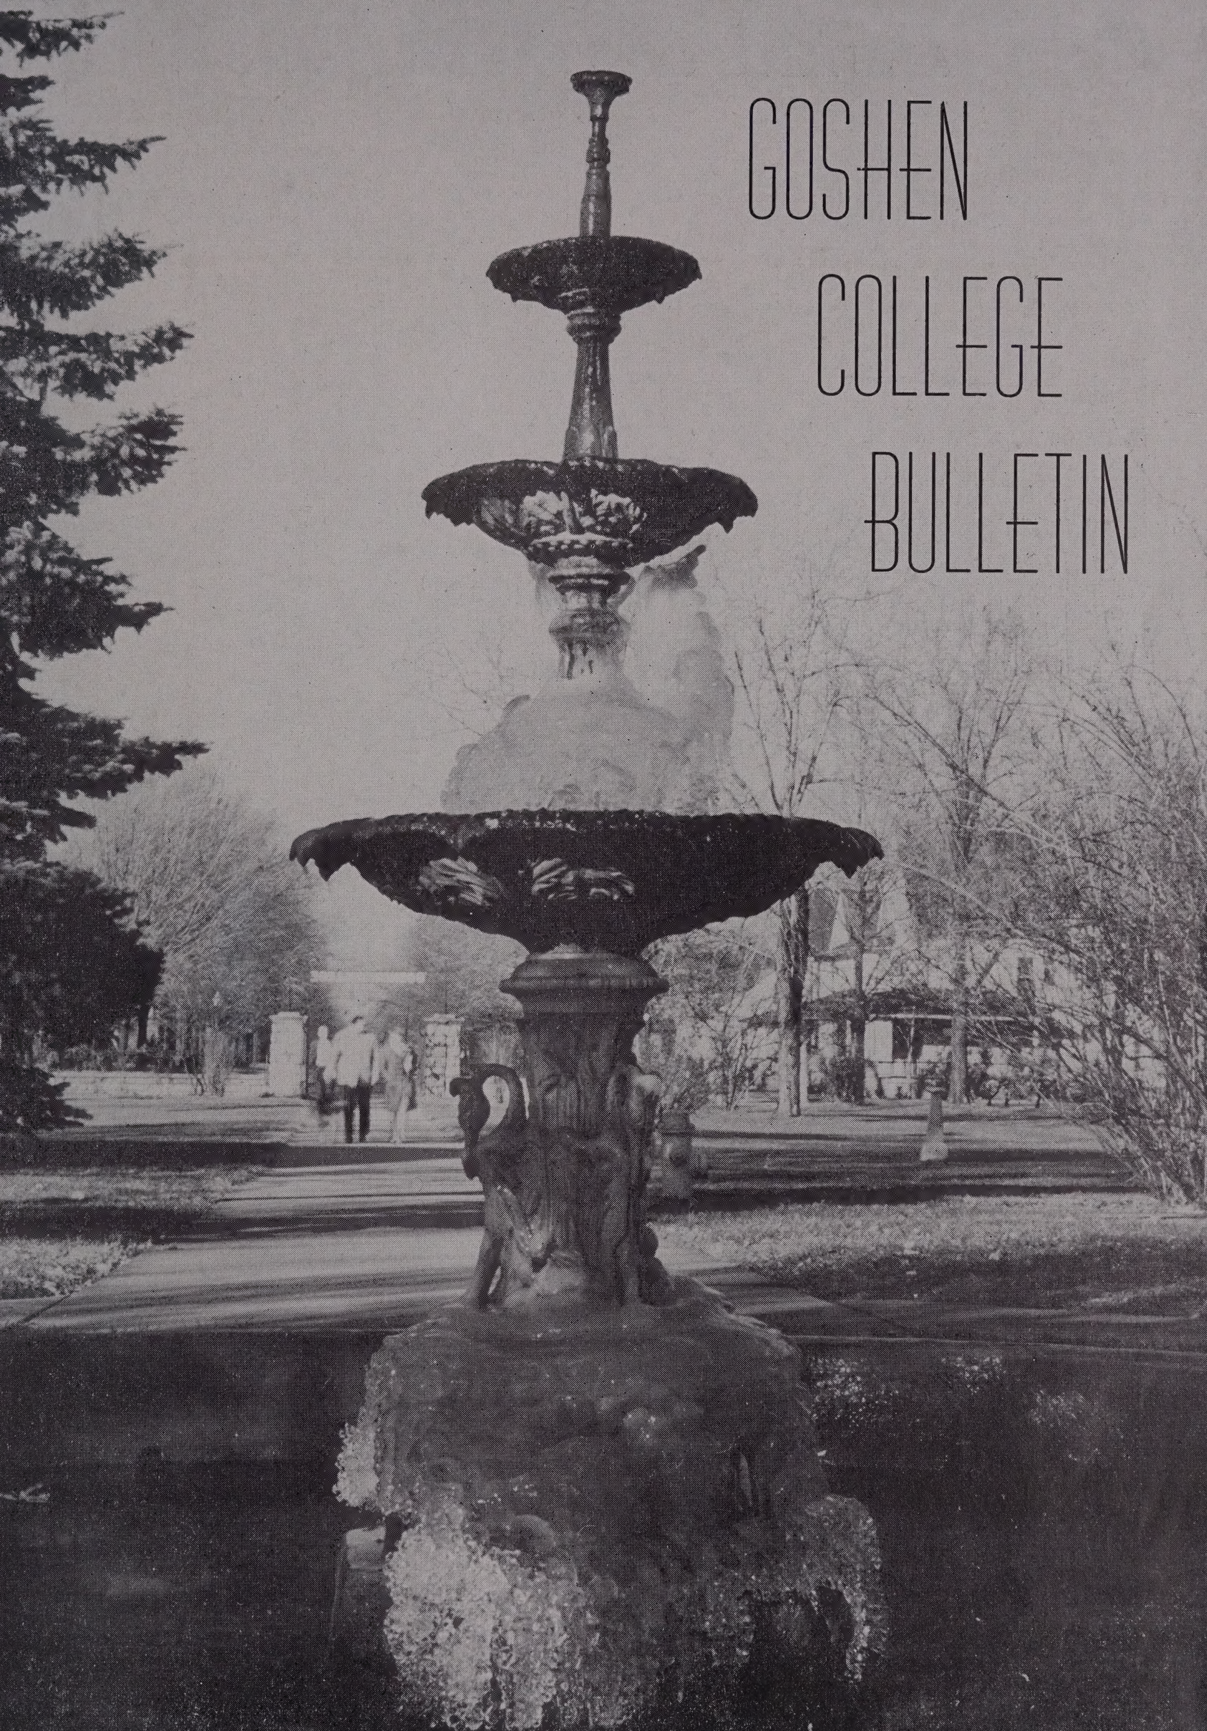
David Landis 47 spent the Home-Coming weekend on the campus. Mr. Landis is teaching grades 7 to 10 in the West Fallowfield Parochial School in Chester County near Parkesburg, Pennsylvania.

Celeste Norr 46 is now an ordained worker in the "Go Ye" Mission, Inc. at Chouteau, Oklahoma. Miss Norr and Miss Martha Thiessen are stationed at Alderson. Reverend and Mrs. Edward Wiebe 45, also ordained workers at the same mission, are located at Porum, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Frances L. Kaser, widow of the late Carl E. Kaser 16, moved from Ft. Wayne to 110 West Garfield Avenue, Goshen, in October.

Elmer D. Habegger x46 of Berne, Indiana is a junior in the School of Medicine of Indiana University at Indianapolis.

GOSHEN COLLEGE BULLETIN



Vol. XLII MARCH, 1948 No. 3

ALUMNI CONTRIBUTIONS

The announcement that construction of the auditorium-gymnasium will begin as soon as the weather permits has given additional impetus to alumni giving. Since the beginning of the new fiscal year, September 1, 1947, alumni have contributed $20,535.06 to the building fund. This amount, however, includes not only what alumni off the campus have given, but also a sizable amount donated by students and faculty as a result of the work program last fall. The two-day work program by the students including amounts contributed by a considerable number of the members of the instructional and administrative staffs of the college is $6,038.73. If we deduct this amount from the total contributions made by alumni since September 1, we have $14,496.33. This means that we still are nearly $12,000.00 short of the goal of $25,000.00 set for the year 1947-48 by the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association.

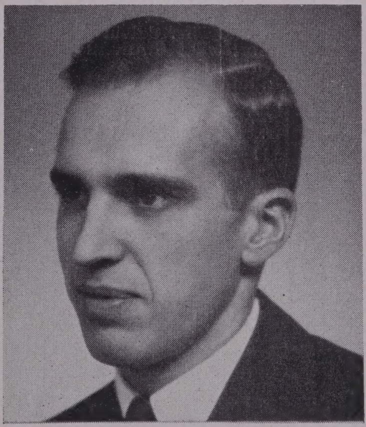
NEW FACULTY MEMBERS UNDER APPOINTMENT

Increased attendance at Goshen College and the demand for additional offerings in several departments have made the employment of new faculty and administrative officials necessary.

Jay Howard Kauffman, formerly of West Liberty, Ohio, entered Goshen College in the fall of 1939. In December, 1941, he entered C.P.S. and was not dismissed until four years (lacking five days) later. During his service in C.P.S. he held several important administrative positions. He completed his college course at Goshen in 1947 and will receive the Master's Degree in Social Science from Michigan State College in June of this year. In 1943, Mr. Kauffman married Verda Lambright 43. They have one child, a daughter, Lois Anne.



Jay Howard Kauffman

Right: Robert Buschert (standing), President of the Science Club in 1946-47, with his sponsor and staff.

Miss Mildred Witmer, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Samuel Witmer 14 (Sana Troyer 14), of Goshen, was graduated from Goshen College in 1942 and began teaching in the elementary grades of the Elkhart City Schools in the fall of 1942. From 1943-45 she taught the fourth grade in the Goshen City Schools and since that time has served as elementary supervisor in the public schools of Goshen. She taught in the Goshen College summer session in 1947 and has been a part-time instructor in the College during the present year.

By doing graduate work during the summer sessions, Miss Witmer earned the degree M.S. in Education at Indiana University. As assistant professor of education she will teach courses in elementary education at Goshen College beginning in September.

Professor J. Harold Smith 32, son of Reverend and Mrs. J. B. Smith x96, of Elida, Ohio, attended the Elida High School for two years, then transferred to Eastern Mennonite School where at the end of four years he completed high school and the two-year junior college course. He entered Goshen College in the fall of 1930 and was graduated with the B.A. degree in 1932 with majors in history and English.

He taught at Hesston College for nine and one-half years and has held teaching assistantships at the University of Wisconsin. He also taught Greek I at Goshen College in 1945-46.

He spent one summer session in graduate work in the University of Iowa and four summer sessions at the University of Kansas where he received the Master's Degree in History. More recently he has been enrolled in the University of Wisconsin for four semesters doing graduate work in English.

Although Professor Smith is being added to the Goshen faculty in September, 1948, as assistant professor in English, he will be granted a leave of absence for one year for further graduate work in English at the University of Wisconsin. In 1936, Professor Smith married Mildred Risdon 35, of Goshen. They have three children: Harold Risdon, Amy Louise, and Lynn Elliot.

Robert Buschert, of Preston, Ontario, has been employed to teach courses in mathematics and physics. After completing two years of collegiate work in Canada, Mr. Buschert entered Goshen College as a junior in 1945. He entered Purdue University in the fall of 1947 and transferred sufficient credit to receive the B.A. degree at Goshen in January of this year. Beginning with the second semester he continued graduate study for the Master's Degree at Purdue University.

Atlee Beechy, B.S. 35, formerly of Berlin, Ohio, who is director of European Relief for the Mennonite Central Committee, will complete his period of service at the end of 1948 and will come to Goshen College as assistant professor of education at the beginning of the second semester of the year 1948-49.

Mr. Beechy entered Goshen College in the fall of 1931 with the class of 1935, and, although he taught two terms of school, was able by doing extension work and courses in summer session to receive his degree with his class in 1935. Following his sophomore year he taught in the rural schools of Holmes County, Ohio, until he was elected to a position as teacher and dean of boys in an elementary school in Columbus, Ohio. He served in various administrative positions in C.P.S. camps between October, 1943, and May, 1946.

Late in 1946 he volunteered for European relief under the Mennonite Central Committee and has served as director of European Relief since that time. Mrs. Beechy, the former Winifred Nelson, received her degree in home economics in Goshen College in 1938. Mr. and Mrs. Beechy have one child, a daughter, Karen.

Dwight Weldy, whose home address is Wakarusa, Indiana, was graduated from Goshen College in 1940. He taught in the rural schools of St. Joseph County, Indiana, from 1937-42, in the Osceola Schools, 1942-43, and was instructor in music and chorus director in South High, Akron, Ohio, since 1946. He also taught courses in music theory and directed the summer school chorus at Goshen College during the summer of 1947.

During the present year he has been teaching voice part time at Kent State University. He has studied voice under Professor Walter E. Yoder, Maurice Ivens of Chicago, Leland Sateren of Minneapolis, and Amos Ebersole of Detroit.

From December, 1943, until December, 1946, Mr. Weldy served in five different C.P.S. camps, a considerable portion of the time as a teacher of music and director of chorus.

In 1941, Mr. Weldy married Marjorie Conrad 40, of Smithville, Ohio. They have one child, a daughter, Cheryl Marie. Professor Weldy will teach voice and theory in the music department of the college and will also serve as director of one of the choruses.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BOARD

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association of Goshen College was held on the campus on February 16. Twelve directors were present in person and four had sent proxies.

The Board ratified the appointment of Leland Bachman 38 by the Executive Committee of the Board to act as proxy at the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Education for Howard Yoder 22 at the latter's request.

The Board discussed the plan for selecting an outstanding alumnus to be known as "Alumnus of the Year." The Board decided to leave the final selection of such an alumnus to the Executive Committee of the Board and suggested that votes be received for such a selection direct from alumni through the News-Letter.

The Board also voted to extend the usefulness of the regional alumni meetings. It was suggested that some representative of the college should be present at every such alumni group meeting.

The nominations for Board of Directors to be elected at the annual meeting are as follows: Viola M. Good 39, Abram P. Hallman 31, Clifford P. Martin 27, Ivan Brunk 35, Dr. Glen Widmer x42. Mr. Brunk and Dr. Widmer succeed Professor Silas Hertzler 13 and Ross L. Gerber 33 as members of the Board. Dr. Hertzler retires after serving nearly a quarter of a century as a member of the Board and for nearly twenty years as secretary of the Executive Committee.

The following were elected officers of the Board for the coming year: Clifford P. Martin 27, president; Dr. Carl M. Hostetler 33, vice-president; Leland Bachman 38, secretary; Willard H. Smith 28, treasurer, and Dr. Olive G. Wyse 26, fifth member of the Executive Committee.

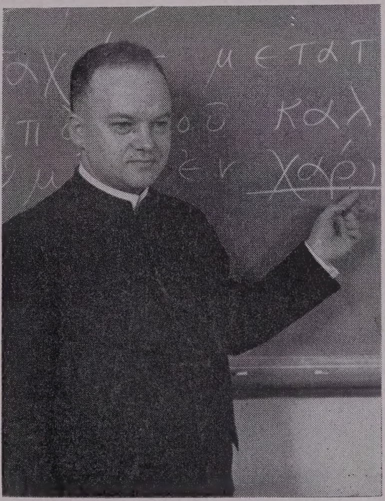
SUMMER SESSION 1948

Greatly enriched offerings, all taught by regular members of the College faculty, characterize the announcements for the coming Summer Session, beginning June 8 and ending August 6. Dean Kreider has issued a well-illustrated, twelve-page bulletin describing the offerings and giving other information regarding the Summer Session. Alumni may secure a copy of this bulletin by addressing Dean Carl Kreider at the College.

The Summer Session will be preceded by two three-week spring terms conducted on the Hiram Plan. Students may earn three hours' credit in each of the spring terms. The first begins May 17 and ends June 4. The second begins on June 8 and ends on June 25.

WENGER REWRITES BOOK

The many friends of Professor John C. Wenger 34 no doubt have heard of his painstaking revision of Glimpses of Mennonite History. Those who have not read it should read as soon as possible the admirable review by Dr. C. Henry Smith, of Bluffton College, printed in the January, 1948, issue of The Mennonite Quarterly Review. For the benefit of alumni who have not seen the revised edition the editor presents the following notice which for lack of space is almost too brief to be dignified with the title,



John C. Wenger

BOOK REVIEW

Glimpses of Mennonite History and Doctrine. Second edition, revised and enlarged. By JOHN CHRISTIAN WENGER, Professor of Theology and Philosophy, Goshen College Biblical Seminary. Herald Press, Scottdale, Pennsylvania: 1947. Pp. xii, 258.

To present a comprehensive view of Mennonite history in a small handy volume is no light undertaking. The task calls for sympathetic understanding, keen, accurate analysis, a genius for selecting significant materials, and the ability to present a great mass of material in outline form in a pleasing readable style. This task Professor Wenger succeeded in doing in his first edition of Glimpses of Mennonite History printed in 1940.

The new edition is more than a reprinting. Professor Wenger in carefully rewriting the entire book has enriched the material, enlivened the style, and added a considerable body of valuable information beyond the first edition. The book shows the touch of the teacher, the scholar, and the popular historian. As a teacher, Professor Wenger evidently has kept in mind the learner who is being oriented into the intricate and complex history of the Anabaptist and Mennonite tradition. His work also bears the marks of the meticulous scholar intent on presenting a body of scientific material according to the best standards of research. Finally he has achieved what some scholarly historians fail to do: he writes a clear, readable, entertaining narrative.

In this enlarged edition Professor Wenger approaches the problem of the rise of the Anabaptist movement from the angle of the teacher. He raises the question, "Why did the Mennonite founding fathers not remain in the Roman Catholic Church?" After tracing the early development of the Anabaptist movement in Switzerland and Holland he outlines briefly the history of the Dutch Mennonites, the Mennonites in Russia, and the Mennonites in North America.

Valuable features of the book are the new sections: "The Theology of the Mennonites"; a chapter of interpretation, "Recapturing the Anabaptist Vision"; and a final chapter, "The Outlook for the Future." Six appendixes, an index of scripture references, a general index, and twenty illustrations greatly enhance the value of the work. Particularly valuable to the student or the general reader are the bibliographical items—"readings"—at the end of each chapter.

The work is more than a handbook, but it is that also. It provides a complete brief survey of Mennonite history and doctrine and also the tools for further investigation. Some readers might wish a more complete treatment of other branches in addition to the Mennonite General Conference, but this would carry the length of the work beyond the scope of what may be one of the author's main purposes—to present in outline form the materials necessary for his course in Mennonite history. Reference to other Mennonite branches is sufficiently complete and objective, however, to render Professor Wenger's book suitable for survey courses in Mennonite history and for the Mennonite section of courses in general church history.

This reviewer knows of no other book that contains so much scientific information about Mennonite history and doctrine, objectively presented, in so small a compass. Every Mennonite family, especially of "The Mennonite General Conference," should own the book. Non-Mennonite students who wish a brief, authoritative orientation into Mennonite history and affairs will appreciate this up-to-date volume. The general reader whose curiosity has been aroused by current interest in Mennonite life, thought, and affairs will find in Professor Wenger's book a reliable source of information on the rise, development, and present status of Mennonitism.

SECOND SEMESTER ENROLLMENT

The registrar's final figures for the second semester enrollment total 653 students: postgraduates 3, fifth-year seminary 7, seniors 91, juniors 101, sophomores 165, freshmen 186, total full-time 553, part-time 100, grand total 653. The liberal arts college enrollment of full-time students is 511 and part-time 63. The full-time enrollment in the Biblical Seminary is 42 and part-time 8.

ALUMNUS HONORED

Franklin N. Kornhaus x01, who has participated actively in the development of the Y.M.C.A. in Oakland, California, for the past thirty-seven years, received the Oakland Y's top honor at the Association's seventieth annual dinner on January 8. He was chosen by the young men of the Oakland Y.M.C.A. as the Y's "Man of the Year." A number of prominent speakers were present at the dinner.

Mr. Kornhaus long has been prominent in Oakland's religious, civic, and educational activities. He retired this year as vice-president of the Red Feather Community Chest Service of which he has been a member for many years. Currently he is chairman of the Y's Building and Grounds Committee.

Mr. Kornhaus also was one of sixteen hundred delegates at Governor Warren's Conference on Youth Welfare held in Sacramento in January. Mr. Kornhaus speaks highly of Governor Warren, of his interest in youth, and of his efforts to stem the growing tide of juvenile delinquency.

Alumni will recall the announcement made a few years ago that Mr. Kornhaus and his wife, Vashti, have decided to endow a public speaking scholarship at the College. The Mennonite Board of Education, which owns and controls Goshen College, voted to accept this scholarship and to make suitable provisions for administering it when the details of setting up the scholarship have been completed.

RECENT ORDINATIONS

On November 30, in an impressive service, Nelson Litwiller 25 and William Hallman 29 were ordained to the office of bishop in the Argentine Mennonite Church. The church decided that with furloughs and retirements soon due, the work could be cared for better with the ordination of two brethren at one time. Mr. and Mrs. Litwiller (Ada Ramseyer x34) are stationed at Bragado. Mr. and Mrs. Hallman (Beatrice Hershey 29) have charge of the work at Trenque Lauquen. Bishop Amos Swartzentruber is on furlough in the United States at the present time and Bishop T. K. Hershey 11 is expected to return to the United States within the next few months.

William Hallman

Paul T. Guengerich 37 was chosen by lot and ordained to the ministry at the West Union Church near Parnell, Iowa, on December 21. Bishop J. Y. Swartzendruber, assisted by Bishops Simon Gingerich, J. R. Shank x06, and Perry J. Blosser x11, was in charge of the service. Mr. Guengerich has the B.A. Degree in Education from the University of Iowa. He is now farming near Parnell, Iowa. He served in C.P.S. from July, 1942, to March, 1946, and as director of the camp at Luray, Virginia.

On January 25, 1948, Galen I. Johns x43, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira S. Johns x06 (Elizabeth Rickert x01), of Goshen, and grandson of the late Bishop Daniel Johns, was ordained to the Christian ministry at the Clinton Frame Church. Officiating ministers were Bishop Edwin J. Yoder x11, assisted by Bishops Oscar S. Hostetler and Ray F. Yoder. He served for eight months in the C.P.S. Camp at Wells Tannery, Pennsylvania.

Lotus E. Troyer 38, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Troyer 01, of Middlebury, was ordained to the Christian ministry at the Carlock, Illinois, Mennonite Church on December 14. Reverend Troyer has been serving the Carlock Church during the past year as a licensed minister and will continue to serve that congregation in a full-time ministry. He began his service in C.P.S. at Medaryville, Indiana, in August, 1942. He served as director of the C.P.S. unit in the mental hospital at Ypsilanti, Michigan, from the unit's organization in March, 1943, until his release from C.P.S. in March, 1946. After his release he remained in voluntary service for a considerable period.

HARRY WEBER GOES TO KOREA

Dr. Harry F. Weber 20, formerly of Sterling, Illinois, has been elected administrative head of Pusan University in Korea. He sailed from San Francisco on January 17 with Dr. Henry Chung, famed author and American-trained educator, who is returning to his home in Korea to assist in the rehabilitation of his native land.

Dr. Weber received both his bachelor of arts and bachelor of science in agriculture from Goshen College. After teaching for seventeen years, first at Albright College in Reading, Pennsylvania, and later serving as dean of the Lock Haven State Teachers College at Lock Haven, Pennsylvania, he entered the U.S. government service as civilian training administrator.

Dr. Weber's wife, Jeanette, and son, Ronald, 14, will remain in Washington, D.C., until their home can be established in Korea.

Dr. Weber will be working with the department of education for Korea as chief administrator for the university. His specific purpose is to build up the educational institution in Pusan to standards acceptable to American universities.

NEW CHURCH BUILDING NEEDED

The East Goshen congregation and Sunday School which, as mentioned in the last issue of the News-Letter, is meeting in a basement church, 24 by 42 feet about two blocks south of Lincoln Avenue, is soliciting funds for erecting a new church building.

The first plans called for constructing the church over the basement now used by the congregation. On investigation, however, it was discovered that a large amount of work would be necessary to repair the sagging floor to make it usable for the new building. Another disadvantage of the present location is its cramped quarters. The city of Goshen contemplates including this area in the city limits. After the streets and alleys would be laid out, there would be barely enough parking space for the cars of the present congregation.

Realizing these disadvantages and also the rather out-of-the-way location of the present building, a member of the Clinton Frame Church, east of Goshen, donated an acre of land north of Lincoln Avenue as a building site for the new church. The work has now been released by the College Y.P.C.A., and the congregation is to be given membership in the Indiana-Michigan Conference at the next annual meeting. The total membership at present is forty-six with two additional candidates to be received soon.

The congregation consists almost entirely of very poor people unable to finance the building themselves. There is now on hand $6,000.00, but the total building costs will be approximately $14,000.00. Several brethren have volunteered to underwrite the project, and building is to begin this spring. Interested alumni may send their contributions to the pastor, Paul M. Miller, junior in the College and a student in the Goshen College Biblical Seminary. His address is 1119 South Eighth Street, Goshen.

The congregation will continue to use the basement structure for young people's activities. In a city mission or a city congregation, one of the problems is to keep the boys and girls off the streets and out of the movies on Saturday, and to keep them occupied with wholesome, educational, and religious activities.

Many of the young people of this East Goshen congregation have been interested in the work of the church through their contact with students and other workers who have given their time on Saturdays and evenings to promote this type of work. The workers desire not only the material aid but also the prayers of interested brethren and sisters that the work may continue to be carried on with the primary aim of building the church and bringing souls to a true knowledge of the Master.

WINTER BIBLE SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

As mentioned in the last issue of the News-Letter the Winter Bible School was held in various Mennonite churches on account of insufficient room for the classes at the College. A total of 538 students were enrolled in the evening classes at the various churches: at the Central Church near Archbold, Ohio, 182; at the Forks Church near Middlebury, 58; at Goshen College, 21; at the Howard-Miami Church near Kokomo, 113; at the North Main Street Church in Nappanee, 70; at the Olive Church south of Elkhart, 35; and at the Maple Grove Church, Topeka, 59.

YODER'S ORATION WINS AGAIN

The winning peace oration of John Howard Yoder 47, Wooster, Ohio, entitled "Question for Now, Forever," was used by a number of contestants in the twenty-third annual Prince of Peace declamation contest at the Ohio pastors' convention at Columbus, Ohio, on January 29. First-, second-, and third-place winners all used Mr. Yoder's oration.

Omar Khayyam says, "The moving finger writes and having writ moves on." In the case of Mr. Yoder's oration one might say more properly, "The Voice of Peace speaks and, having spoken, speaks on."

ADELPHIAN-VESPERIAN PUBLIC PROGRAM

With a well-planned radio program presented in Goshen College auditorium on Friday evening, February 6, the Adelphian and Vesperian Literary Societies presented "An Introduction to Western Civilization." The two parts of the program, I "The Dark Ages" and II "The Renaissance," presented in striking fashion the shortcomings of the present American radio programs and suggested possibilities for improvement.

The first part, "The Dark Ages," was a take-off on musical programs, radio sob stories, news casts, and the constant interruption by commercials lacking in good taste and interest.

The second part, "The Renaissance," showed the possibility of good music, good news coverage, and skits of various kinds. The program closed with three selections, "O Peaceful Night." "Were You There," and "Sometimes," faultlessly rendered by a mixed chorus under the direction of Miss Carolyn Weaver 47, instructor in music.

PERSONALS

Kenneth M. Heatwole 47 is enrolled in the Medical School at the University of Virginia. Mr. Heatwole's address is 3506 Enslow Avenue, Richmond 22, Virginia.

On November 13, a cablegram was received from Una Cressman 31 stating that she had arrived safely in Buenos Aires. Miss Cressman sailed from St. Johns, New Brunswick, on October 27.

F. A. Conrad 12, head of the Department of Sociology at the University of Arizona and vice-president of the Southern Division of the Pacific Sociological Society, has seen the work in his department increase considerably with the marked increase in the student body. The University now has about five hundred students. Professor Conrad has several additional men in his department and has expanded the offerings in sociology and social work considerably. Tucson is experiencing the biggest boom in its history.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilliom 10 (Nancy Kulp 04) spent the winter of 1946-47 in Tucson.

On Tuesday, November 25, Dwight Weldy 40, part-time instructor of voice at Kent State University, was one of two soloists in the University School of Music Concert at Kent. Mr. Weldy has done graduate work in music at Northwestern University, studying with Eugene Dressler. Last year he was instructor in vocal music and chorus director at South High in Akron. This year he is continuing his work at the high school on a part-time basis in connection with his work at Kent State. Mr. and Mrs. Weldy (Marjorie Conrad 40) are living at Smithville, Ohio.

Ezra Beachy 33, pastor of the Pinckney, Michigan, Mennonite Church, is teaching grades six, seven, and eight in the Hamburg Village School about four miles from the North Hamburg Church where he has organized a substation. Mr. Beachy accepted the position in the Hamburg School in response to an urgent request from the school board. They had been having some serious disciplinary problems. Several weeks after school began, he found it necessary to discipline two of the boys. The father of one of the boys swore out a warrant against Mr. Beachy on a charge of assault and battery. As we go to press, the trial has been set for December 29. The entire community is behind Mr. Beachy. (Later: Mr. Beachy was acquitted.)

Herbert Adams 35 is employed as Industrial Engineer by the Johns-Manville Company at Pittsburgh, California. The address of Mr. and Mrs. Adams (Hope Stutzman 36) is Box 189, rural route one, Martinez, California.

On September 18, S. Jay Hostetler wrote, "A week ago Sunday we baptized Daniel, our first Oraon convert. His father wanted him to wait to bury him first but now there is good reason to believe that the father himself may be interested." Mr. and Mrs. Hostetler (Ida Miller 45) are stationed in a new section, Latchar, Bihar, India.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byler 45 are attending the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. They recently began a year of training in preparation for missionary work in Argentina. They are living at 15 East Elm Street, Chicago. They are assisting Mr. and Mrs. Parke Lantz, returned Mennonite missionaries from Argentina, in a Mexican mission on Chicago's south side where Mr. Byler has been elected superintendent of the Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fireoved (Kathrine Yoder x44) and their two daughters live at 318 East Main Street, Berne, Indiana. Their two daughters give them a renewed interest in Goshen College.

Among the warm friends of the College is Charles Shantz, of rural route four, Elkhart, Indiana, a son-in-law of Lewis Kulp, one of the founders of the Elkhart Institute. Mr. Shantz hauled one of the first loads of sand when excavation was started for the Elkhart Institute.

Also a warm friend of the college is his daughter, Fannie B. Shantz 22, who was present at "Sisters All" as a mother for the evening of her niece, Ada Shaum, enrolled in the College as a junior.

Ezra Beachy 33, of Pinckney, Michigan, is editor of the Gospel Evangel, successor to the Rural Evangel, eight-page bimonthly official organ of the Indiana-Michigan Mennonite Mission Board. Other members of the staff are Russell Krabill 43, of Goshen, assistant editor, and Allen Ebersole 30, of 1303 St. Mary's Avenue, Ft. Wayne 7, Indiana, circulation manager.

Chester Osborne WBT 40, former pastor of the Germfask Mennonite Church in the Northern Peninsula of Michigan, has been elected pastor of the Kouts Mennonite Church to succeed Millard Lind who has moved to Scottdale, Pennsylvania, with his family to devote full time to editorial work in connection with the Sunday-school quarterlies printed by the Mennonite Publishing House.

Beulah Litwiller 44, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Litwiller 25 (Ada Ramseyer 34), of Pehuajo, South America, left Goshen on Wednesday, February 4. After spending a few days in New York with her sister, Mrs. Daniel W. Miller (Eunice Litwiller 47), she traveled by Pan-American Airways from New York to San Juan on February 10. Miss Litwiller has been serving as assistant registrar in the office of Professor Paul Bender for the past year and a half. She is being succeeded by Lloyd Conrad 38 who joined the staff in September and has had charge of tests and measurements at the College for the past semester. The graphs and some of the tables in the President's Annual Report are the work of Mr. Conrad.

Russell Krabill 43, who has had charge of the Locust Grove congregation south of Elkhart for the past number of years in connection with his work as manager of the Gospel Book Store in Goshen, was installed on February 8 as associate pastor of the North Goshen congregation. Ralph Stahly 46, of Wakarusa, Indiana, was ordained minister for the Locust Grove congregation to succeed Mr. Krabill.

Robert Burkholder x37, who resigned recently as pharmacist at the Erickson Pharmacy in Goshen, left on February 6 for Staten Island, New York, to take special U.S. Public Health Service Training preparatory to being assigned to a government project at San Juan, Puerto Rico. When he leaves for Puerto Rico he will be joined by Mrs. Burkholder who is now at their Kale Island cottage at Lake Wawasee.

Reverend and Mrs. Russell Schnell 38 (Helen A. Yoder x31) and family are spending the winter at Topeka, Indiana, until the time for their return to the Congo mission field. The Eighth Street Mennonite Church in Goshen, of which Reverend and Mrs. Schnell are members, has presented a new Ford panel delivery truck for their use when they return to the African field.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker 47 (Gladys Weaver, R.N. 41) and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Friesen 38 (Genevieve Yoder 39) and family, and Rhea Yoder 37 returned to India on the S.S. "Queen Elizabeth" with fifty-one other missionaries bound for that country. On January 23, they were anchored in the harbor at Port Said, Egypt.

William Hostetler x45, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hostetler, of 1024 South Eighth Street, Goshen, and Willis Loucks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Loucks, of west of Goshen, have been initiated into the Purdue University Indiana Alpha Chapter of Tau Beta Pi, national all-engineering honorary society, one of the highest honors a student engineer can receive. To be eligible for Tau Beta Pi a student must be in the upper one fifth of his class scholastically; however, less than one fourth of those eligible are selected for membership, the honor being based on character and participation in activities as well as scholarship.

The new address of Ernest Shank x44 is B. S. W., Room 319, 169 Yuen Ming Yuen Road, Shanghai, O., China.

Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Gingerich 26 (Verna Roth x29) have united with the College congregation in Goshen. They are spending the next few months at Akron, Pennsylvania, where Mr. Gingerich is doing research for the Mennonite Research Foundation.

Perry Long x46, of Goshen, who was graduated recently from Michigan University in Ann Arbor, Michigan, with the B.S. degree from the School of Forestry, has gone to Tacoma, Washington, where he will be employed by a lumber company, thus fulfilling an ambition to become a forester. He had intended to enroll in the University of Washington a number of years ago, but learned that he could take the first year of his course at Goshen and complete his work in Forestry at Michigan State.

Timothy H. Brenneman 38, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Erb (Alta Mae Eby 12), of Scottdale, Pennsylvania, conducted a combined Bible conference and evangelistic service January 12-25 at the Bayshore Mennonite Church which serves a large number of Mennonites spending the winter at Sarasota, Florida. There were special meetings for children, young people, teachers, and parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturges Miller 43 (Bernice Meyer x43), formerly of Berlin, Ohio, have enlisted for a term of relief service in India under the M.C.C. After a pleasant trip across the Pacific, they experienced a somewhat more strenuous journey across India encountering many refugees. They state that much of India seems to be on the move because people are fleeing as a result of disturbances that arise from the partition of India.

The Services Bulletin of the Mennonite Central Committee at Akron, Pennsylvania, prints the following extract from a letter written by William H. Yoder 43 from Java on September 24.

"As the situation now is, it will be at least six months before we can begin our work. I talked with most of the officials and they feel that it will be closer to nine months or a year. However, there are so many indeterminable factors that this guess may be far off either way. We can assume, I think, that a number of months will pass before the arbitration commission investigates, deliberates, and hands down its decision. If that decision is adverse to the Republic, the restoration of order may take many more months.

"Making it more difficult for our work, is the fact that the Islam Party has called this a holy war. The result is that Catholic institutions, that had continued to function throughout the Japanese occupation and the Republican regime until now, have been destroyed by mobs. This is indicative of the hatred that has been aroused. Christian institutions and communities are suffering everywhere.

"Even though we have a unit that is willing to take the personal risks involved in living in 'unsafe' areas, we will be prevented from doing so by the American Consul-General as well as by the Dutch. The Dutch will not allow us in without a heavy military guard, under which condition we would not care to work.

"For the time being, I have arranged with Zending's Consulate to help them in the handling of the Church World Service relief goods. We are expecting the first shipment next week. We will supply these goods to mission stations on Borneo, Celebes, Halmaheira, Timor, and Bali. This work will keep me busy for some months."

Ivan Moon x44 is assisting in relief work in the Philippine Islands. He states that some of the boys have a disease that is deforming the bones and joints of their legs and that Dr. James Brenneman x37 states "that only our Lord can return those boys to their normal health." Their work is entirely with the school children. In connection with their milk distribution they have also been treating the more serious cases of skin diseases and sore eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hostetler 30 (Velma Lapp 32) and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dietzel 41 and son, left New York for India on the S.S. "Degrasse" on January 27. VOTE FOR YOUR CANDIDATE FOR "OUTSTANDING ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR"

At the annual meeting on February 16 the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association of Goshen College decided, with the aid of the members of the Association, to select the "Alumnus of the Year." The following article, written by the president of the Association, explains the plan and includes a blank to be returned to the alumni office. Ballots selecting an "Alumnus of the Year" should be mailed before April 15.

CULTURE FOR SERVICE

WHAT IS CULTURE FOR SERVICE? Each of us had a definite idea of what we meant by "Culture for Service" when we were students at Goshen College. Students then and now have different ideas as to this definition. Time may have changed some of our ideas. It may have widened our horizons. Our experiences since leaving college may have changed our course of thought.

HOW HAVE ALUMNI SERVED? Many have served in relief work, mission work, church community work, and others in general community work. Still others have served in their chosen professions. All have contributed to the good of our respective communities, our nation, or our world.

LET US ALL THINK of the outstanding service rendered by a fellow Alumnus. Then let us all write a letter or fill in the form below nominating a candidate for the "Alumnus of the Year," and mail it to us. In so doing we will know of the outstanding service rendered by Alumni and we will know better what Alumni mean when they speak of "CULTURE FOR SERVICE." We will also know if you think the diligent schoolteacher who builds character at great odds, the family doctor in Colorado, the church worker at home or abroad, or the local businessman has most nearly reached the goal set by our motto, "CULTURE FOR SERVICE."

BALLOT

Goshen College Alumni Association
Goshen, Indiana

My candidate for ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR is:

Name ______________________________

Address ____________________________

Profession __________________________

Chosen for the following reasons:

Community service rendered:

National service rendered:

World service rendered:

Educational service rendered:

Other reasons:

The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association will choose one person as the "ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR." This person will be fittingly honored and a story of his service will be published in an early issue of the Alumni NEWS-LETTER as an inspiration to all of us. The committee will choose five persons who will be given honorable mention. Please let us have the name of the candidate you think is the most deserving and the reasons for your choice. This can be very interesting if a lot of you will give this matter a little of your time.

Progress Report on Auditorium-Gymnasium

Plan to be present at the laying of the cornerstone of the Auditorium-Gymnasium at commencement. The cornerstone will contain many interesting items including the names of all the friends of Goshen College who have made a contribution for the Building Fund during the current year. The Executive Committee of the Mennonite Board of Education and the Building Committee are making plans for a cornerstone laying ceremony on Monday, June 7, of commencement week at 1:30 p.m. This ceremony will take the place of the traditional College Luncheon Program usually held at this time.

Actual construction of the Auditorium-Gymnasium began on April 10 when J. Gordon Jackson and twenty-one workmen poured the concrete footings for the north wing of the new building which is to contain the Snack Shop, Bookstore, Cafeteria, and possibly a recitation room. Construction is being delayed somewhat by lack of labor. Now that the weather is improved Mr. Jackson could be using quite a number of men on a steady employment basis.

Everything is ready for concrete and steel. Approximately one fourth of a city block has been cleared of trees and buildings and leveled as a building site. Some of this work was completed last fall as reported in an earlier issue of the Bulletin. During the Easter vacation giant bulldozers and steam shovels completed tne leveling and the excavation.

Where the basement of the Snack Shop and Bookstore is to be located there yawns an immense hole, 34 by 92, under what will be the north wing of the building. Another veritable canyon, 32 by 100, marks the spot of the basement under the stage. This excavation is at the east end of the Auditorium-Gymnasium, the main part of the building. South of the Auditorium-Gymnasium another immense gully, 32 by 114, has made space for locker rooms and showers for men. Hundreds of feet of heat runs also have been excavated.

In terms of building sizes on the campus, this layout of Snack Shop and Cafeteria, Student Center and Auditorium-Gymnasium will have rather extensive floor space. As already mentioned, the north wing, along High Park Avenue, will be 34 by 92 running east and west. Nearly fifty feet to the south the Auditorium-Gymnasium and the stage will have an over-all east and west length of about two hundred feet and a width of about 152. Connecting the north wing with the main part of the structure, the Auditorium-Gymnasium, is a smaller auditorium, 42 by 86, which is to serve for smaller meetings and for student get-togethers. The extent of the building north and south along South Main Street will be approximately three hundred feet.

As we go to press (April 15) the total amount of money raised for this building is slightly over $200,000. This will not complete the building, but President Miller and the members of the Building Committee are confident that the constituency sees the need for such a building and will supply the funds.

ADDITIONAL FUNDS NEEDED FOR THE AUDITORIUM-GYMNASIUM

As mentioned in the foregoing article Goshen College still needs a sizable sum to complete the Auditorium-Gymnasium. The need for this building is evident to anyone who has been on the campus during the past three semesters. Classrooms are overcrowded. The work of college instructors is handicapped for the lack of adequate office space for lesson preparation and for student counseling. With the large student body the campus does not afford space for general student meetings or for the meeting of smaller social groups, class socials, or other social events so necessary to the maintenance of a democratic, friendly spirit on a college campus.

In these days when our civilization is crumbling under the impact of a materialistic philosophy, a Christian college need make no apology in appealing for funds for the improvement of its equipment for promoting the right kind of student fellowship and relationships. If we accept the premise that the Christian college has a place in the educational system, then the Christian college deserves its share of the Christian's tithe as he sets aside a share of his earnings for promoting the cause of Christ in the world.

Goshen College is justified in coming to her alumni for funds. They, better than anyone else, know the potentialities of the Goshen College campus for building Christian character, teaching the principles of the Gospel of Christ, and for furnishing the inspiration to prepare for a life to be expended in service to humanity. A growing group of Goshen Alumni have caught the vision of supporting Goshen College to help build Christian character in the lives of young people. Many of them have given a liberal share of their tithe for promoting the cause of Christian education in their Alma Mater. Every dollar that you alumni have contributed is deeply appreciated by President Miller and the officers of your Alumni Association.

We regret to report, however, that of the more than eight thousand Goshen College Alumni, less than one thousand have sent a contribution to the Auditorium-Gymnasium Fund this year. Does this mean that Goshen College Alumni are so unsuccessful that their tithe is so small that they have nothing to give to their Alma Mater? Or does it mean that since they have left Goshen College they have so completely lost the vision of "Culture for Service" and that they have so little faith in Christian education that they do not consider it worth while to make a contribution to the program of Christian education at Goshen College?

Goshen Alumni are falling far behind the alumni of many other small denominational colleges. Hesston Alumni are doing better than Goshen Alumni. Of the 1,126 Hesston College Alumni, 262 contributed $8,456.79 to the building of their Auditorium-Gymnasium last year. An equal response on the part of Goshen Alumni would have more than doubled Goshen's contributions for this purpose.

Comparisons might be made between the gifts received from Goshen Alumni and those given to other colleges by the alumni of those institutions. In most cases these comparisons would not be to the credit of Goshen Alumni.

It is true that there are many calls for money. It is true that many of these calls are urgent and that they have a legitimate claim on a Christian's pocketbook. But it surely would be shortsighted to spend one's entire time and money for present urgent needs in foreign countries and to neglect the building of institutions on the home front that will furnish the personnel, the inspiration, and the dynamic for carrying on such work down through the years. It is true that many world needs are immediate and urgent, but these needs would always exist even though we were to exert superhuman efforts to put an immediate end to them. Paul knew what important advice he was giving to Timothy when he said, "The things that thou hast heard of me . . . commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also." The Christian church dare not forget the claims of her colleges if she is to expect a steady constant stream of workers, enthusiasm, and contributions for the vital work of missions and relief.

If you have already made your contribution to the Auditorium-Gymnasium Fund, will you please examine your resources to see whether you have given all that the Lord wants you to? If you have not given, surely you will wish to attend to this important duty at once. Please send your contribution in the return envelope which was mailed to you recently so that the totals can be reported in connection with the Alumni Reunion at the commencement season.

PART-TIME INSTRUCTORS

Crowded schedules for instructors and the increased enrollment have made necessary the employment of several part-time instructors during the present semester.

Following is the list of special instructors and courses they are teaching this semester: Curtis C. Ziegler 13, of Goshen, Psychology of Childhood; Ralph Beck x31, of the Goshen High School faculty, Teaching of Biology; Mildred Witmer 42 and Huber Yoder 38, Elementary Education Practicum (two sections); Leroy Yoder 39, principal of the Honeyville Schools, World Geography; Frank E. Yoder x39, Goshen attorney, Business Law; Arthur Weaver 47, accountant for American Foods Company in Elkhart, Intermediate Accounting; Mrs. Howard Kauffman (Verda Lambright 43), House Planning and Furnishing. Some of these courses are being offered in the evening.

A STUDY BY MASSANARI

Karl L. Massanari 36, Assistant in the Bureau of Research and Service in the College of Education, University of Illinois, wrote the leading article in the December, 1947, issue of The Journal of Educational Sociology. The article, entitled "A Technique for Identifying 'Community Pull,'" discusses methods and results of a survey in an Illinois community to determine how much the "people were influenced by the community center, . . . defined in terms of various community activities"—religious, educational, professional services, subscribing to a local weekly paper, social, and economic. The results of the survey showed that the schools ranked first in drawing the people to the community, the churches second, and "buying groceries" third.

The Goshen College Bulletin is published monthly except for February and March when two issues are published each month by Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana.

EDITORIAL CHAT

Now that another commencement season is approaching, let us see how much life we can put into the traditional five- and ten-year reunions. The alumni office is ready and willing to help with addresses of classmates and friends.

In a certain sense this issue of the NEWS-LETTER might be called a "class letter number." One reason for presenting so many items on class letters is to direct attention to the value of this type of class communication. As the classes became larger, the older "round-robin" type of class letter proved entirely unsatisfactory. By the time the letter had reached thirty or more members of the class, a two-year period had elapsed and in nearly every case class letters were lost. Any class official wishing to start a class letter may receive the names and addresses of his classmates by writing to the alumni office.

On account of the great changes taking place on the campus at the present time, alumni will wish more than ever to attend commencement. Plan to be present for Class Day on Friday, Alumni Day on Saturday, the chorus program and the Baccalaureate Service on Sunday, and by all means the final chapel service, the Cornerstone Laying ceremony, and the Commencement on Monday. Plans for the laying of the cornerstone have not been completed, but announcement will be made in due time of the interesting exercises in connection with that event. Remember that the names of all Alumni who have contributed to the Auditorium-Gymnasium Fund will be placed in the cornerstone for the benefit of your grandchildren when the contents are examined for historical purposes.

CLASS REUNIONS

Several classes already are planning reunions for Saturday, June 5 (Alumni Day). Oscar S. Lehman, of 3316 Silsby Road, Cleveland Heights 18, Ohio, is working up a reunion of the class of 1923. In March he wrote to the alumni office for the addresses of the members of his class.

The class of 1938 is planning a ten-year reunion at the College cabin on the Elkhart River. The class president, John Friesen, has returned to India for a second term of service as missionary and has appointed Lloyd V. Conrad of the College staff to serve as the chairman of the reunion.

The class of 1943 is making plans for a five-year reunion.

So far the alumni office has not heard of any plans for a forty-five-year reunion of the class of 1903. This was the last class to graduate from the Elkhart Institute. A number of the members of this class are living in Goshen and Elkhart—Dr. and Mrs. S. T. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rutt, J. C. Landis, Wesley W. Christophel, Leander A. Weldy, Mrs. J. E. Hartzler, Mrs. Lucinda Hartzler, and Harry Hartzler. What about it, folks? Wouldn't this be the logical time not only for a reunion of your class but of all living Elkhart Institute graduates?

And what about the class of 1908, the fortieth reunion? Although this class is widely scattered, a number of the members are living in Goshen and others are near enough the retirement age so that it seems logical that they might be able and willing to return for the fortieth reunion.

NEW Y OFFICERS

Officers of the Y were installed on Thursday, April 8. The Y.M.C.A. officers are Willard Krabill 49, of Louisville, Ohio, president; John Horst 51, of Porterville, California, secretary; and Robert Harnish 50, of Eureka, Illinois, treasurer.

Krabill is one of the leading members of the debate squad, president of the Aurora Literary Society, associate editor of the Maple Leaf, and treasurer of the Science Club. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Krabill 22 (Ella Conrad x23).

John Horst, president of the Freshman class and business manager of the Choral Society, was the unanimous choice of the judges and first choice of the audience as winner of the Freshman Men's Peace Oratorical Contest. Robert Harnish has served as treasurer of the Aurora Literary Society.

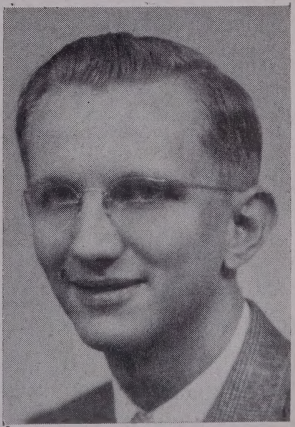
Officers of the Y.W.C.A. are Esther Shank 49, of Goshen, president; Thelma Long 51, of Peoria, Illinois, secretary; and Doris Liechty 50, of Archbold, Ohio, treasurer.

Miss Shank is an active Avon, is president of the Home Economics Club, and was social chairman of the Y during the past year. She is the daughter of Charles Shank 14 and the late Crissie Yoder 13 Shank.

Thelma Long is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Warren Long 29 (Edna Miller 28). Miss Liechty has been serving on the social committee of her class, is secretary of the Vesperian Literary Society, and is also secretary of the Women's Athletic Association.

BERRY AGAIN IS DELEGATE TO EUROPE

Donald L. Berry 47, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Berry, of Wilson Avenue, Goshen, a student at the Chicago Theological Seminary, has been appointed by the American Committee for the World Council of Churches as one of the fifteen American delegates to the youth section of the First World Assembly of Churches to be held in Amsterdam, Holland, August 20 to September 4, 1948. He will be representing the Christian Youth Forces of this country as well as the Congregational Christian churches.

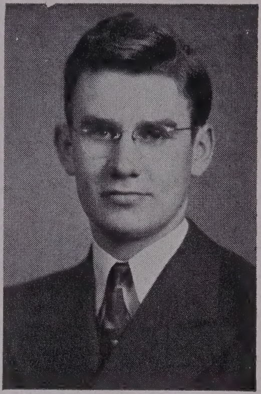


Don Berry

Mr. Berry was a delegate to the Youth Conference at Oslo, Norway, during the summer of 1947.

ORDAINED TO THE MINISTRY

On April 4, at the Monterey Church near Bird-in-Hand, Pennsylvania, S. Glenn Esh 42 was ordained to the ministry to serve the Monterey congregation as pastor. The ordination was in charge of Bishop O. N. Johns x07, of Louisville, Ohio, assisted by Bishop Elmer Stoltzfus, of Aurora, Ohio. I. W. Royer 00, of Orrville, Ohio, former pastor of Mrs. Esh (Virginia Smucker x43), also was present and assisted Bishop Johns in conducting communion services at Monterey on the morning of the same day.



Glenn Esh

Mr. Esh entered Civilian Public Service on June 8, 1944, and received his discharge on July 11, 1946. He served as junior engineer, a soil conservation appointment, while in C.P.S. The Soil Conservation Department insisted on using him as project training assistant. He also served as educational director and finally as director of the Powellsville, Maryland, Camp.

At present he is employed by the Mennonite Central Committee at Akron, Pennsylvania, in the War Sufferers Relief Section. He is serving as administrative assistant to J. N. Byler, director of the section.

On October 16, 1943, he was married to Virginia Smucker, of Orrville, Ohio. They are the parents of one child, Samuel Harold, born on November 9, 1945.

As an undergraduate Mr. Esh was much interested in science and was graduated with a major in chemistry. He was Y.P.C.A. president, president of his sophomore class, member of the Maple Leaf staff, a debater, member of the German Club, member of the Peace Society and president in his senior year, and a member of the dormitory council. He also served as president of the Adelphian Literary Society in his senior year.

STUDENT TOUR TO EUROPE

The Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges again is co-operating with the Institute of International Education to send students from Mennonite and affiliated colleges to Europe this summer for a period of study. Goshen College students included in the group are Olive Rich 49, Archbold, Ohio; Eugene Schulz 49, La Junta, Colorado; Doris N. Moyer 48, Blooming Glen, Pennsylvania; Mary Maple 50, Wellman, Iowa; Willard Krabill 49, Louisville, Ohio; Jesse L. Heise 48, Upland, California; and Geraldine Gross 48, Doylestown, Pennsylvania.

The Council had decided that each college was to be allowed one representative for each one hundred students enrolled, but that if any school failed to fill its quota some other school might supply the vacancy. For this reason Goshen College has been allowed seven representatives instead of six. Mennonite and affiliated colleges are sending a total of twenty-seven students.

As we go to press round-trip ocean passage priority is still a question, but the same two ships that conveyed the American students to Europe last summer have been engaged for their passage in 1948. The two vessels are the U.S. "Marine Tiger" and the U.S. "Marine Jumper." One sails on June 17, the other on June 27. The group will return on August 25.

The Menno Travel Service with headquarters at Akron, Pennsylvania, makes all travel arrangements for the Mennonite group. Abe Wiebe 47 has charge of the Akron office, and Arthur Smucker x44, son of Reverend R. R. Smucker 29, of Goshen, has charge of the European office with headquarters in Holland.

The proposed tour of the Mennonite group includes five days in England, eight days in Holland, a four-week work camp project in Germany, nine days in Switzerland including trips to the Bernese Alps, seven days in France, and possibly six days in Italy.

The purpose of the tour is study and travel to acquaint American students at first hand with conditions in Europe. But its primary object is to strengthen the morale of people in the war-devastated countries, especially in the four-week work program to perform a service "In the Name of Christ" for a local group in Germany. The Mennonite students are, therefore, more than either students or tourists and are expected to show friendship toward Europeans whom they meet and to help rebuild the spirits and morale of Europeans, especially of the various Mennonite groups.

One other student, Dorothy Jean Mann 48, of Elkhart, has made arrangements with the Bender Travel Agency for passage on the S.S. "Mauretania" on June 10. She will be accompanied by Gladys Hostetter of Harrisonburg, Virginia. The parents of both of these young women are engaged in relief work in Europe. Miss Mann will return with her parents in August to take up teaching in the elementary grades in the Elkhart city schools.

MENNONITE LIFE

How many of you alumni are familiar with the magazine published under the above title? It is printed on excellent paper, is beautifully illustrated, and contains articles of lasting value to every Mennonite and to everyone who is interested in Mennonite life and culture.

The April number which just came to the editor's desk contains articles by several Goshen College alumni and by others well known to the Goshen alumni circle. John A. Hostetler, a sophomore of Kalona, Iowa, writes on "Pioneering in the land of the Midnight Sun." Mr. Hostetler and several friends drove to the Peace River Valley settlement in northern British Columbia and Alberta last summer. He describes his trip in a well-illustrated article. Reverend Lester Hostetler 15 discusses, "The Future of Our Church Music." The title of an article by J. E. Hartzler 04 and 10 is, "Philosophy in the Mennonite Tradition." Paul Erb, editor of the Gospel Herald, describes a visit of "Vachel Lindsay Among the Mennonites." In 1912 Lindsay visited the "Pennsylvania" Church where Paul Erb and his family worshiped in the earlier years.

Other articles of equal value are "Mennonites and the Fine Arts," "Four Centuries of Prussian Mennonites," "Our Heritage of Music," "Music and Mennonite Youth in the Prairie States," "Our Musical Heritage in the Colleges," and, along a somewhat different line, "The Future of the Mennonites in Denmark."

DR. MENDENHALL AT MICHAEL REESE

On March 16, Dr. Ruth Eleanor Mendenhall 44, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Mendenhall 47 (Maude Weaver 38), of 1406 South Eighth Street, received the doctor of medicine degree at Northwestern University. Dr. Mendenhall plans to begin her one-year internship in July at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago. As an undergraduate, Miss Mendenhall served as assistant to Professor Glen R. Miller, head of the Chemistry Department. She had been accepted by Johns Hopkins University Medical School, but chose to attend Northwestern instead.

CLASS OF 1948

One hundred and thirty-one degrees and certificates will be awarded at the annual commencement exercises in June. This, again, is the "largest class" ever graduated from Goshen College in a single year. One hundred and twelve students will receive the Bachelor's degree; seventy-one, the Bachelor of Arts; thirty-two, the Bachelor of Education; four, the Bachelor of Science in Nursing, and five the Bachelor of Theology.

Fourteen students will receive the degree Associate in Arts for the completion of two years of a prescribed course of study. One will receive the certificate for completing the one-year Christian Workers' Course and fourteen will receive the secretarial certificate which indicates considerable proficiency in shorthand and typing and secretarial science and accounting.

HERTZLER REPRESENTS COLLEGE IN ORATORY

On Friday evening, February 13, Paul D. Hertzler 48, son of Professor and Mrs. Silas Hertzler 13, of Goshen, represented Goshen College in the Seventy-Fourth Annual Indiana Oratorical Association Contest for Men at Manchester College. One of six contestants, Mr. Hertzler pleaded for public sympathy and cooperation in the treatment and rehabilitation of the mentally ill. Although Mr. Hertzler did not place in the contest, he did a creditable piece of work.

Speaking after Mr. Hertzler was the Manchester contestant who used as his theme the same subject, treatment of the mentally ill. The Manchester contestant placed first in the contest.

INDIANA PEACE CONTEST

The extempore speaking and oratorical contests of the Indiana Intercollegiate Peace Speech Association will be held at Goshen College on Friday afternoon and evening, April 30. Although Goshen has enjoyed the hospitality of the other colleges of the state ever since the contest was held at Goshen College in 1932, this is the first time that Goshen has had an opportunity to act as host since that date.

Following the business meeting of the coaches in the Administration Building at 1:15 the events will take place in the following order: Women's Extempore Speaking Contest in Assembly Hall, 2:15; Men's Extempore Speaking Contest in Assembly Hall, 3:30; Women's Peace Oratorical Contest in Assembly Hall, 7:00, and Men's Peace Oratorical Contest in Assembly Hall at 8:00.

The speaking order for the extempore contests will be determined by drawing. Speaking order for the oratorical contests is as follows: Indiana University, Franklin College, Evansville College, Earlham College, Indiana State Teachers College, Manchester College, and Goshen. Not all of the schools are represented in both contests.

In response to Professor Roy Umble's request in the last issue of the NEWS-LETTER, Karl Massanari 36 and his father and brothers from Fisher and Urbana, Illinois, wired that they would donate $100.00 in prizes. A few days later the Reverend Amos Geigley 13, of Orrtanna, Pennsylvania, sent a check for $200.00 to be used as prizes for the two contests. Under the circumstances, the Massanaris will give the prizes ($50.00, $30.00, and $20.00) for one contest and the Reverend Geigley the prizes for the other.

Goshen College will be represented in the men's oratorical contest by Mac Cripe 49, of Goshen, and in the women's oratorical contest by Emma Sommers 49, of Kokomo. Mr. Cripe was the winner of the Indiana Interstate Oratorical Contest held last year, and represented the State of Indiana in the national contest.

Orley Swartzentruber, a senior, of Pehuajo, Argentina, will represent Goshen in the Extempore Speaking Contest for men. Claude Leist, a sophomore, of Elkhart, is alternate. Adele Haddad, a senior, of Beirut, Lebanon, will speak in the women's contest.

June 19 can't come a bit too soon for me.

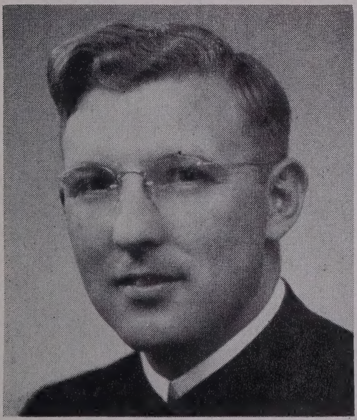
Polly Cline, Mancelona, Michigan. Teaching in northern Michigan . . . snow soon after the middle of December . . . mothers pushing little baby coaches on runners . . . I have five classes . . . eighth-grade home economics, Home Economics I, II, and III, and biology . . . adviser to the household arts division of 4-H Club . . . sponsor of the home economics club . . . conduct weekly evening classes for adults.

John Howard Yoder, 471 Robinson Avenue, Barberton, Ohio. Engaged in nutritional research in floriculture . . . week ends go to Wooster . . . teach as much of my Sunday-school class as isn't attending Goshen. . . co-chair of the evening meetings . . . expect to start back to school if that's where I belong in about a year.

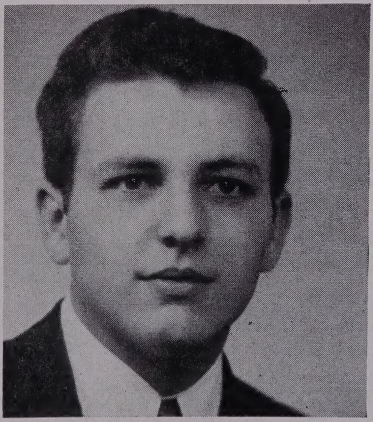
Lester J. Zimmerman, Goshen College. As I look back over my first semester of college teaching I find it has worked out much better than I had anticipated . . . enjoy my work, and it is work! . . . my duties keep me stationed in Science Hall except for chapel.

Robert Keller, Province of Liege, Bullange, Belgium. August 29, 1947 . . . to New York to board the S.S. "Ernie Pyle" . . . to Europe for a period of two years . . . arrived in Antwerp, September 8 . . . to Brussels . . . saw Alton Horst . . . arrived in Bullange . . . saw Mr and Mrs. David Derstine . . . work at Bullange this winter rather slack because of weather conditions . . . lovely vacation in sunny Italy . . . Rome, Naples, Florence, Pisa, Genoa, Venice . . . city of Pompeii.

J. Otis Yoder, Eastern Mennonite College, Harrisonburg, Virginia. Teaching twenty hours . . . High School Bible curriculum and one course in High School History Department . . . hoping to be in seminary somewhere next fall, not certain.



Ernest Bennett



Robert Keller

J. Otis Yoder

Jeanne Miller, Goshen. Teaching fifty fourth graders at Middlebury.

Christine Blosser, Hesston College, Hesston, Kansas. At Hesston College and Bible School . . . our eighty short-term students are quite an asset to the campus . . . Ohio well represented on the faculty . . . Walter Oswald, dean of personnel, John Steiner, athletic director, Orpha Zimmerly, from Orrville, matron of Green Gables . . . Cleda Holdeman and I live in the upstairs apartment of the College farm house . . . do our own cooking.

Alice Leichty, rural route one, Albany, Oregon. Spent the summer in Europe . . . enjoying this winter . . . teaching . . . thirty-one fourth-grade pupils . . . school district owes its economic prosperity to the Douglas fir which furnishes raw material for several sawmills in this district.

Gerald Studer, Orrville, Ohio. Typing this epistle in my own private office in my home in Paradise . . . here sermons on many subjects and correspondence course assignments are pounded out . . . here the Ohio Literarian is compiled and edited . . . recently I was at E.M.C., Scottdale, Lima, West Liberty, and a few weeks later in Goshen and in Conneaut Lake, Pennsylvania.

Herman Wiebe, Department of Botany, State University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa. Still studying plants . . . research for a Master's thesis . . . grow tomatoes to determine certain effects of different sources of nitrogen . . . after a term here, I am quite convinced that good church colleges are the place to get one's undergraduate training.

Don Berry, 5757 University Avenue, Chicago 37, Illinois. This quarter Old Testament History and Interpretation (seventh century B.C. to Maccabean period), Church History (1300-1700), and Modern Theories of Religious Education . . . sing in two choirs at the University . . . preaching nearly every week end in churches in the Chicago area . . . speaking on the Oslo Conference to youth rallies and meetings, thirty-eight since September 22. (Note: If any of you want the remainder of this very interesting letter about Don's trip to the Oslo, Norway, Conference, arrange to have him give a talk to your young people's group.—Editor.)

Pete Buller, 235 East 49th Street, New York 17, New York. At Biblical Seminary in New York City . . . apparently some wit got the bright idea that a seminary should be a place of study and all of life is ordered accordingly . . . my fiancee, Gladys Klassen, is from the frontier village of Mountain Lake.

Luella Gingerich, Chengtu West China. Mission site is to be located at Hochwan . . . we all like China and are eager to be able to use the language and get started in our work.

Mary K. Nafziger, Hopedale, Illinois. Schoolteaching . . . it's been fun . . . twenty-nine second graders in the Garfield School at Pekin, Illinois.

John Z. Martin, The Theological Seminary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Fine institution with very capable professors . . . have been engaged in various aspects of church work with an Evangelical and Reformed congregation in Rohrerstown near Lancaster.

Mary Wenger, rural route two, Manheim, Pennsylvania. Teaching thirty-three in a one-room school . . . will be living in Manheim with my parents until June and then—

Paul Storms, Goshen College. Still at Goshen College taking Seminary work . . . although I did not know a student when I came here in September, 1946, and although I am not a Mennonite, I have come to love this place very much . . . Goshen College will always fill my life with pleasant memories . . . Lester Zimmerman, Elaine Sommers, and Irene Hershberger are a real credit to our class with the reputation they are making as instructors here.

Daniel Diener, Kalona, Iowa. Teaching at the Iowa Mennonite School . . . living in a new furnished house.

Ray Bair, Goshen College. Bunking here in the Quad . . . life in the Quad one of the enjoyable aspects of college life this year . . . gives a person opportunity to learn to know a lot more fellows well than regular dorm life allows.

Ruth M. Bean, 53 Huasipa, Chengtu, Szechwan, West China. "See Szechwan and die!" Well, it's almost as beautiful as that . . . trip to Kienyang . . . some amazing experiences . . . Language study is a fairly even admixture of fun and frustration . . . This year in Chengtu, while a test of patience, is nevertheless offering us opportunities of studying missionary policies, methods, and strategy. I think I am more than ever enthusiastic about the Mennonite plan of concentration, of working one district intensively, as opposed to scattering one's resources and energies thinly over a wide area. We look forward to the day when, in Hochwan, we can work toward a healthy, self-propagating native church such as we saw in action at Kienyang.

Ruth Martin, Apartment 6, Young Allen Court, Chapoo Road, Shanghai, China. China Relief . . . left Houston, Texas, November 27 on the S.S. "Dolly Turman" . . . the day before I arrived in Shanghai a plane had evacuated seventeen of our forty unit members from Kaifeng . . . the Communistic situation is quite tense . . . they cannot get supplies into the areas where the need is greatest . . . China is in great need of more than physical help . . . during one cold night the paper reported 130 children frozen to death here in Shanghai.

Louella Gingerich

Ruth Bean

Ruth Martin

Mrs. Daniel W. Miller (Eunice Litwiller), 235 East 49th Street, New York 17, New York. Enjoying Seminary life immensely . . . married couples live on the seventh floor of the Seminary building . . . Pete Buller is one of our waiters . . . you should see how efficient he is and how handsome he looks in his white waiter's coat . . . Dan is writing a thesis . . . my courses include Bible and Religious Education . . . Seminary requires community service . . . Dan goes to a Lutheran Church in the Bronx . . . I am in charge of the primary department of a Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn.

Mary Berkman, 110½ West Pike Street, Goshen. Working in the English Department in the Middlebury High School . . . had never dreamed that teaching would be the joy that it is . . . I am engaged to Jan Matthijssen. We plan to be married shortly after commencement . . . he must return to the Netherlands in August to complete his study there . . . I shall go over the next summer, after which, the following year, we shall go as missionaries to the Dutch East Indies under the Dutch Mennonite Mission Board.

Beulah Stauffer, M.C.C., Akron, Pennsylvania. Headquarters staff includes approximately forty-five members . . . planning Voluntary Service Units . . . dire need for qualified personnel in the work here both as secretaries and in semi-administrative posts.

Lois Yake, Mennonite Central Committee, Arnold Boecklinstrasse 11, Basel, Switzerland. Currently here at the Basel M.C.C. center we are all people with Goshen loyalties: from the director down to the Alsatian kitchen help. Atlee Beechy's are alumni; the H. S. Bender family has very direct connections with Goshen, of course; Ralph Gunden and Marg Birky both have been to school, both planning to go back again next winter; our Swiss secretary will probably be coming to Goshen next year under the student exchange plan; and the sister of our Alsatian girl who helps with the housework is already at Goshen in school (Gertrude Gassmann). Dean Bender busier than anyone can imagine . . . European churches very grateful for his services, particularly in the South German and Swiss-Alsatian conferences . . . he conducted a Bible conference in one of the Mennonite churches in Basel . . . church full to overflowing . . . at one meeting gave very thorough teaching on nonresistance . . . challenging to hear him present it very tactfully . . . Switzerland is just like an island of prosperity and plenty in the midst of a chaotic sea of economic and political upheaval. Shops are full, there is work for everybody, people are well-dressed, the economy is very stable, although prices are higher than at home. My second year in Europe may be anywhere . . . Brother Bender and the family will be returning to Goshen in August.

Verne Lucy, 1812 Manhattan Street, Michigan City, Indiana. Accepted the pastorate of Zion Gospel Chapel, Michigan City branch of the Christian Catholic Church . . . branch had disintegrated . . . handful of people meeting in home . . . first rented a hall . . . laid plans to build a new church . . . started construction August 1, 1947 . . . built a very fine church home . . . dedication service on January 18, 1948 . . . new Zion Gospel Chapel.

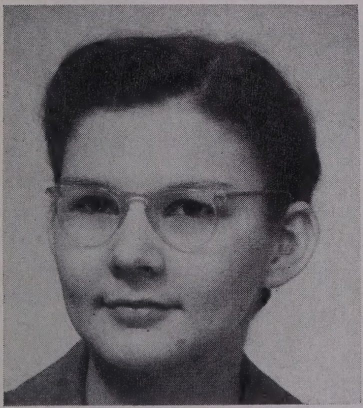
Mary Ruth Mishler, Shipshewana. Teaching music at Scott . . . six miles from home . . . a chorus, ladies' sextet, a beginning band, also a class in home economics, grades seven and eight . . . next summer probably will have a large class of piano pupils . . . expect to spend about two weeks at Little Eden Camp, one week as music director for boys and girls' week and the other attending music week.

Elaine Sommers, Goshen College. Three sections of Introduction to Literature, English Clinic work, and a class in Grammar Review . . . hate giving grades and love teaching Lit . . . Miss Wyse and I live at South Cottage . . . memories of Europe . . . visiting with Russian refugees at Roverestein, walking among ruins of a German city, attending the international Mennonite conference at Basel, and standing on top of one of the Swiss Alps.

Marie Yoder, Box 1018, Aibonito, Puerto Rico. In Puerto Rico . . . unexpectedly . . . for a year or longer . . . work at the Medical and Dental Clinics . . . work interesting . . . but why this language barrier! . . . at 7:30 give milk to thirty or forty families . . . church attendance growing . . . two weeks ago 140.

Irene Hershberger, Goshen College. Our secretarial girls have been working very faithfully trying to get this and about four other letters out. We thank them very much. It is part of their required work for Office Practice . . . This winter and last summer staying on at G. C. . . . Miss Winey started teaching full time, and I am what you would call her assistant (I guess). I teach Typewriting, Secretarial Training, and Personal Typing.

Immetje Terwey. August, 1947 . . . wonderful trip . . . Oregon, California (Los Angeles), Aberdeen, Idaho, a Mennonite community . . . "sage brush" . . . Salt Lake City, and Denver, Bethel College, Chicago, Washington, D.C., so nice that I am very glad I saw it . . . Akron, Pennsylvania, New York . . . have a first grade with forty-five pupils . . . enjoy my work . . . in November asked to speak for the P.T.A. of my school about the American elementary school . . . the parents and colleagues assured me that it was very interesting and that they enjoyed it. I was very glad they told me that, for in America that is custom, but not in my country.



Lois Yake

Irene Hershberger

Immetje Terwey

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Gunden (Marjorie Nafziger), 913 South Eighth Street, Goshen. (Mrs.) two beginning typing classes, advanced typing, shorthand and bookkeeping . . . Millersburg High School . . . Elton took over the Middlebury Woolen Mill last August . . . moved it to Goshen . . . make woolen bats for comforters and quilts out of used or new wool . . . approximately 95% is custom work from thirty states . . . majority of wool comes from Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan.

Calvin F. Snyder, 511 East Lafayette Street, Goshen. Postgraduate work on the part-time plan . . . teacher for Presbyterian men's Bible class in Goshen.

Ruth Bauman, rural route two, Leetonia, Ohio. Eighteen third graders in Washingtonville three miles from home . . . our church work among the Negroes . . . tell Bible stories to children every Sunday afternoon.

Romaine Stahl, Cromwell, Indiana. Teach music in grades and high school . . . instrumental lessons . . . one seventh-grade English class . . . band practice every day . . . All-County Music Festival . . . 25 boys and girls going to All-County Chorus . . . Sunday night ended a series of revivals at Cromwell. About fifteen young people were converted. Many of them were from my seventh and eighth grades. It really is miraculous how some of their lives have changed. Why, they even come regularly prepared with their lessons.

Wayne H. Brenneman, Share, via Jebba, Nigeria, West Africa. Left New York, September 16 . . . wonderful trip via Sabena Belgian Airline . . . twenty-six-hour stopover in Brussels . . . studying the Yoruba language, one of the three main languages of Nigeria . . . Greek was a snap beside this . . . keeping house in a four-room bungalow . . . greatest need here is the spiritual need.

Mrs. Orval Schrock (Florence Yordy), Ligonier, Indiana. Since January 26, teaching at Perry School just north of Ligonier . . . part of Marilyn Hartzler's room that had fifty-two pupils . . . I have twenty-two second grade and eight third grade . . . enjoying my work . . . Orval employed in Cromwell at Har-Mar Seed Company . . . Orval is assistant superintendent at Maple Grove in Topeka . . . I have a class there.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Martin 45 (Gloria Woodiwiss x46), superintendent and matron of the Mennonite Mission of North Jefferson Street, Lima, Ohio, write enthusiastically of their work and the wholesome effect that the Appelman city-wide revival has on their work. On March 7, the Sunday-school attendance reached 128. Plans are being completed for starting junior church, a special service for children, Sunday evenings from 7:15 to 8:15.

Weyburn Groff 44 recently wrote from Ghatula, India: "A new experience for me was a bicycle tour to Raigarh and some other villages. Three days' food on the back carrier, and a small bedding roll on the handle bars made a heavy load to go up the hills. The purpose of the trip was to acquaint myself with the area south and east of here to investigate the possibilities of locating an evangelist. I found the people friendly, and at Jaringa they want to give lumber for a school and also a chapel. Already they had staked out land that they are willing to give for the buildings. The drums and garlands and a half mile parade to the village were more than I expected. A trip of this kind makes one wish he had a hundred workers, consecrated and qualified to locate here and there to witness."

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Keiser 31 (Alta Brenneman 30) are spending one hour each Sunday morning at the Children's Hospital at the State University of Iowa. They are doing this work in connection with the Iowa City Mission.

On December 25, 1947, Ivan Headings x41, of Pryor, Oklahoma, was ordained to the ministry and placed in charge of mission work at Adair, Oklahoma.

Professor Gustav Enss who taught German and philosophy at Goshen College for a number of years, is now teaching philosophy and German at Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Virginia.

Harvey C. Birky 42, Superintendent of the Alabama Division of the Children's Bible Mission, P.O. Box 382, Birmingham 1, Alabama, continues to enjoy his work. The Children's Bible Mission expects to have about three thousand children in camps this year. Children receive a free trip to camp for committing three hundred Bible verses to memory. The mission is soliciting ten-dollar gifts to support the work of the camps. It costs ten dollars to send one child to camp. About nine per cent of the children who come to camp as non-Christians become Christians while in camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval C. Myers x44 (Elizabeth A. Leitner 43) are living on rural route one, Sterling, Ohio. Mr. Myers' business address is Box 164, Coshocton, Ohio, where he is employed as electrical engineer by the Ohio Power Company. His official title is Distribution Engineer. He was graduated from Purdue University with the degree Bachelor of Science of Electrical Engineering before spending two years in Paraguay supervising the installation of a telephone system for the Mennonites of the Paraguayan Chaco.

Eugene Raber 35, who went to Puerto Rico several months ago, has now been joined by his wife and four children. The youngest are twins, born shortly before Mr. Raber left for Puerto Rico.

Chester Brothers 41, formerly of Goshen, is teaching mathematics and chemistry in the Indiana University Center at Ft. Wayne.

THE ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

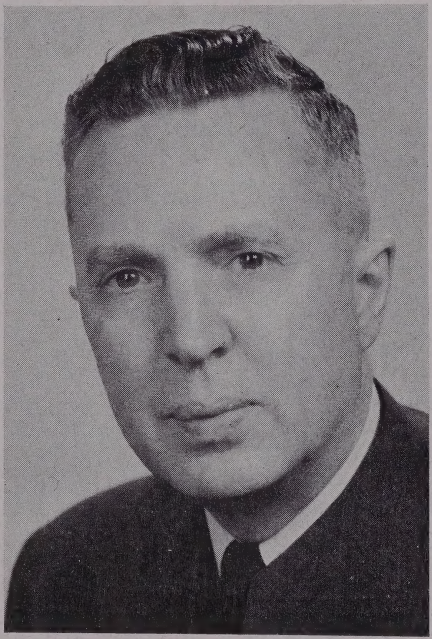
Vol. XLII JULY, 1948 No. 7

Orie O. Miller Chosen "Alumnus of the Year"

As announced in a previous issue, the Board of Directors decided to honor some alumnus by designating him "Alumnus of the Year." Of the ballots sent in, all but one designated Orie O. Miller as first choice for this honor. The Board had decided that a brief biography of the "Alumnus of the Year" should be printed in the News-Letter.

In choosing an "Alumnus of the Year," the Board of Directors had in mind keeping students and alumni aware of the deeper significance of the College motto. They also sought an answer to the question: What do alumni, after living under the impact of the motto during their residence at Goshen College, then after practicing the motto themselves for a number of years, and after observing others as they translate the motto into terms of actual living—what type of culture, what type of service, do Goshen Alumni consider worthy of special mention or of imitation? What is the frame or pattern of life which most nearly satisfies the concept that alumni have of the College motto, "Culture for Service"?

The choice of Orie O. Miller by the Alumni Association as "Alumnus of the Year" is an indication that alumni take seriously both of the nouns in the College motto. By "culture" they seem, from this choice, to mean a broadening of outlook, an enlarging of human sympathy, and an understanding and appreciation of the needs of the world and of the peculiar function of the church in satisfying those needs. In recognizing the "service" of O. O. Miller, they emphasize the application of Christian sympathy and Christian principles in human relationships and, in the broadest sense of the word, meeting the fundamental needs of both the Christian and the non-Christian society in which the alumnus moves.



Brief Life Sketch

O. O. Miller was born July 7, 1892, at Middlebury, Indiana, the son of D. D. Miller and Jeanette Hostetler Miller. He was graduated from Middlebury High School in 1910 and from Goshen College with the degree, Bachelor of Arts, in 1915. At the end of his freshman year in College, he succeeded Frank S. Ebersole 01, 04, as principal of the Goshen College School of Business and served in that position until he was succeeded in 1916 by John E. Weaver 14.

On August 26, 1915, he was married to E. Elta Wolf, of Akron, Pennsylvania, who had completed the academy course at Goshen College in 1912. They are the parents of five children: Lois W. 37 (Mrs. Ronald Beach); Albert W. 43, married to Esther Lehman x41; Daniel W. 46, married to Eunice Litwiller 47; John W. 48, and Robert W., aged 18.

After his marriage to Miss Wolf, Mr. Miller was employed by his father-in-law, a shoe manufacturer at Akron, Pennsylvania, as salesman for Miller-Hess and Company, manufacturers of shoes. He was highly successful as a salesman and rose rapidly in the organizations promoted by his father-in-law. By 1940, he was director and secretary-treasurer of Miller-Hess and Company, Akron, Pennsylvania, treasurer of the O. N. Wolf Shoe Company, Denver, Pennsylvania; and president of the Highland Shoe Company, Jobbers, at Akron, Pennsylvania.

Although he devoted himself assiduously to his business interests, he never lost sight of the College motto in its meaning for service to the church and to humanity. He volunteered for relief work in Syria and Armenia in 1919 and 1920, and later in 1920 he was placed in charge of Mennonite foreign relief work being conducted by and for Mennonites in Constantinople and in Russia.

He has continued his interest in relief work since that time and since 1935 he has been serving as secretary-treasurer of the Mennonite Central Committee. He served as the M.C.C. representative to the Mennonite immigrant colonies in Paraguay and Brazil in 1931, 1937, 1941 and also since that time. At present he is taking a leading part in resettling displaced Russian Mennonites in new homes in Paraguay, in Canada, and in the United States.

His sensitiveness to the spiritual aspects of relief has strengthened his interest in foreign missions. This interest led to his appointment in 1934 to membership on the Relief Committee of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. During the year before, he had located and helped to open mission work in Tanganyika territory in British East Africa under the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. In 1935 he was elected secretary of that Board.

He has been active also in district conferences and in the General Conference of the Mennonite Church in promoting and preserving the Anabaptist-Mennonite peace testimony. As early as 1925 he was elected secretary of the Mennonite Peace Problems Committee. His interest and activity in these areas led to his election as Mennonite representative and vice-chairman of the National Service Board for Religious Objectors in 1940.

Devoted as he is to the heritage and the principles of the Mennonite Church and active as he is in serving in many ways within the church, his Christian interests and activities know no narrow sectarian bounds. The breadth of his interests is evidenced by his election as director in a number of Christian enterprises. Of these his membership on the Board of Directors of the American Bible Society is typical.

This brief outline of Mr. Miller's activities and responsibilities suggests the reason for his election as "Alumnus of the Year." His church-wide interests, not only national but international, his activity in commercial and religious circles, even outside of the Mennonite Church, and his sound philosophy of Mennonite Christian education as evidenced by his address to the alumni at the annual reunion on the evening of June 5, give evidence that the Alumni Association, in deciding to honor Mr. Miller as the first member of the Alumni Association to be chosen "Alumnus of the Year," kept in mind the best traditions of the College motto. "Culture for Service" as indicated by this choice means a clean business record, interest in the basic work of the church in its outreaching aspects, and a clearness of vision that not only sees world-wide needs, but perceives practical methods for meeting the responsibilities implied by those needs.

Tribute From President Miller

After O. O. Miller had been introduced as "Alumnus of the Year" and had given his address, President Miller, at the beginning of his own address—the usual "Progress of the College" talk to alumni at the close of the evening program—paid the following tribute of praise and gratitude to his brother.

"He is first and I second in a family of ten. I have followed him for half a century. I speak after him again tonight. It has been good to follow him. He has given me compass in a good direction, and he has been responsive when I felt there was a shorter route or a better way.

"First, he has always exhibited vision. On the farm he liked to plow in the large fields. His field is the world. He was flying from New York to Texas, to Oregon and to Chicago and Utah, selling shoes as much as a quarter of a century ago. He has since encircled the globe and flown across the ocean many times to bring relief to the suffering and to promote the cause of Christian missions.

"He also has organizing ability. None of us boys back on Cloverdale farm could drive a buggy of our own until he had one. So, we all picked huckleberries an entire summer getting money together for his first rubber tire buggy. Being the oldest he had to organize or lose his leadership. He organized.

"But I speak with respect and with a regard to truth when I say that coupled with his vision and his organizing ability he has always manifested a deep desire to use his gifts for his Lord. He has looked upon the possessions that have come to him as a trusteeship to be cared for and spent in line with the wishes of Him whom he serves."

OPEN DOORS

The address delivered by O. O. Miller at the Alumni Reunion on Saturday evening, June 5.

I would like to note and briefly comment upon four observations regarding our Alma Mater and her present strategic position. First, Goshen College, which proved an open door to a larger culture and service to a relatively few of us Mennonite young people a generation ago, is now wide open to any and all worthy Mennonite young folks. It is used by a rapidly growing number, and also by a sizable number of others who appreciate the privileges of the institution. Second, Goshen College holds a strategic place in opening the door by which the peculiar and particular genius in our own Christian faith and heritage can become articulate in and to the culture and the world mission of Christendom. Third, Upon Goshen College rests responsibility above any other one institution in the church for training for our effective entry into the many open and needy world areas for witness and service. Fourth, Now is the time and challenge to this institution anew to "Keep that door open which no man can shut" (Rev. 3:8) and for us alumni to help Goshen College qualify and serve in keeping the door open and to enable our moving into the many present world doors of challenge and opportunity and to the many more that the Lord would open to us.

An Open Door to Culture and Service

This was the first Mennonite venture into higher education, since the arrival of the first Mennonite immigrants in the new world. Now with the institution only slightly over fifty years old, my thirty-three-year alumnus vantage point should qualify for noting the direction of certain institution trends and aims. Also helpful in this are my earlier contacts. I do not remember J. S. Coffman personally but he was Father's close friend and co-church worker. My own upbringing was in the geographical area and Mennonite church circles where Goshen College came to birth. I do not remember the beginnings at Elkhart nor the adoption of the College motto but could and did catch something of the spirit of those days and the vision of the founding fathers from attendance with Father at trustee meetings before my feet could touch the floor. My later contact with Goshen College over a period of twenty-seven years as trustee and financial agent has further matured the vision of what seems to me the essence of the reasons for the existence of Goshen College and her unique opportunity in the kingdom things of our church group today.

Although a number of early Anabaptist leaders were university-trained and although the "three R's" and a basic elementary education seem to have been prized throughout our history, higher education has been generally deemed unnecessary, worldly, and mostly harmful. The mission-mindedness of the first generation soon passed and for many succeeding ones the term "culture" connoted only the worldly aspects of that term. We Mennonites of today are, therefore, profoundly thankful to God that those just before us opened and began to enter this door to larger Christian culture and living symbolized in Goshen College.

Even though Mennonites were one of the last Christian groups to appropriate the aid of formal higher education as a church concern and technique, the beginning was still cautious and slow. But our first observation, this evening, is that Goshen College, which proved an open door to larger life and service to just a few of us Mennonite young people a generation ago, now stands wide open to any and all worthy young Mennonites and to many others.

The Strategic Position of Goshen College

My second observation has to do with the part that Goshen College had in opening the door to a larger Christian witness for the Mennonite Church. A stolid, rural, isolated, previously persecuted, serious-minded group, such as ours was and is, does not speedily change from sociological introvert to extrovert. Yet in one generation this almost universal antipathy to higher education has changed to unanimous approval of schools, and educational processes. A mushrooming of facilities and plans throughout the whole constituency is taking place. Goshen College was the first door to open this trend, has played a leading role since, and stands challenged today above any other institution to keep this door open to all our young people.

Compared to most other American evangelical groups, Mennonites were late-comers in both organized mission and church educational activities. Among us these two causes have developed simultaneously during the two generations just passed. Organized Relief and Services, the handmaid of evangelical mission effort and part and parcel of what is considered the world mission of the church, also developed in this same period. Significantly, therefore, those representing us in these services have had a sense of mission and philosophy which they, too often, were not prepared to make articulate in witness opportunities.

In a sense this inarticulateness is still a characteristic of the group as a whole. The centuries-long persecutions in Europe not only resulted in an extreme group introvert position but made the group wary, afraid, suspicious of the very techniques by which the particular heritage and the principles of Biblical faith—for the maintenance of which the persecution was endured and in spite of which they were maintained—could be made articulate and understandable. Against the background of this persecution, of the subsequent wanderings, of the pioneering and the artificial isolation barriers over these centuries, our newer, wider, and larger relationships through world mission and service reveal to us glaring gaps in our philosophy and in our scriptural interpretations and certain warped and disproportionate emphases. For this revelation we do not find ourselves prepared. We need to move humbly and cautiously.

A good beginning seems to have been made in clarifying and interpreting our own group history to ourselves and a very small beginning in its interpretation to others. Much ground remains to be worked even in this area. In clarifying our theology or basis of Biblical interpretation either to ourselves or to others practically nothing has been attempted. In the sociological implications of this faith, held dear by us for so many generations and in which our fathers and we have found salvation in fullness and abundance, we have just come to consciousness of responsibility and needs and are burdened for larger answers. "In the Name of Christ" is, undoubtedly, as fitting a slogan as one could find, as symbolic of the essence of this faith in action and has manifest advantages over our College motto, "Culture for Service," or of an earlier much-used M.C.C. slogan, "Not to be ministered unto but to minister." By themselves, however, any of these are partial, are oversimplifications in making this heritage of professed Biblical faith and truth articulate to those whom we touch.

As already stated, Goshen College holds a strategic place in opening this door by which the genius of Mennonitism—our faith and heritage—can become articulate in world-wide Christian culture and the Christian world mission. The facilities of a carefully directed, adequately staffed and supported Research Foundation; provision for an adequately housed, planned, and organized church archive; freeing those of experienced, demonstrated scholarship, and church interest from administrative routine for leadership pioneering into these fields where we in the program of the church so desperately need help, are all among the essentials to preparation for a proper expression of our faith and culture.

One, such as I, is tempted to begrudge every dollar spent to make of Goshen College just another good American college. Our young folks are of the best in today's world; clean-living, intelligent, sober-minded, eager to stand true, to serve and witness with every gift and facility available to them and in any place however mean or humble, thanks to the godly homes from which they still come. They expect space, atmosphere, diet, opportunities, and facilities here for fit Christian living but are hungry above all else, I believe, for training and service and witness equipment to make intelligible to a desperately hungry world just this that has come so richly and undeservedly to them and which they are assured is the need and the remedy for all men and which they sense as their divine mission to make known.

The Responsibility and the Opportunity of Goshen College

Goshen College serves a uniquely placed and privileged constituent group in today's world. As Americans, we share in a material standard of living unprecedently high, higher than that of any other world area or people. We share in the results of scientific and technological development beyond people of any other race or nation. War's direct destructiveness did not destroy or damage this industrial and economic setup. Freedom of life and action and decision and the advantages of a strong, orderly, respected government with well-organized facilities to provide for the needs of its citizens in all parts of the world are available to us and accepted almost without thought as are sunshine and air. A common language, and that the best known and most widely used in today's world, plus the best medical and health facilities, social security, education and research resources, etc., etc., represent assests that most of humankind can scarcely imagine. As American Christians, we have in addition a government committed to complete freedom of religion and of religious life and practice and mission, a government highly respectful of Christianity.

As Mennonite Christian people, still largely rural, we share above the average in these material blessings and in this freedom of life and religious liberty. Our fathers were enabled here in their own way and time to live as guided by conscience and to bring to fruition these peculiar principles of faith and life which seem to be the essence of their genius and the roots of our sense of mission. In no other lands aside from Canada or England was there any similar understanding of and tolerance for the nonresistant. In no other country or land than these could one conceive an M.C.C. or find administration of its type possible. As Christians and stewards responsible to God for today's blessing and privilege our obligations and challenges are really frightening. Our people do sense this responsibility to God and fellow man and are giving themselves and their material things liberally.

Many new doors to other peoples and races and classes have opened to us and stand open now. The harvest truly is great, the time ripe, and the laborers few and too poorly prepared. We have nurses, teachers, mechanics, farmers, a few doctors and technicians but as yet no trained social or welfare workers nor administrators or workers trained in many other essential service categories. Our young people standing in these open doors to service and witness now have a zeal and dynamic and freshness of soul and viewpoint and a readiness to lift and serve in whatever capacity. This is stimulating and commendable and makes their service desirable and respected. Without the Goshen College contribution to this and them, what the Lord has so far enabled could hardly have been imagined.

Upon Goshen College continues to rest responsibility above that of any other one institution in the church for our effective entry through these doors. Trained and still better trained workers, workers thoroughly impregnated with this God-given faith and philosophy as revealed in His Word, consecrated workers with passion to preach and give and serve and share, workers who have been helped here at Goshen College to get and to comprehend something of one world in Christ and for His kingdom—these are the type needed. Unless we continue to give, and do it more and more, from this today's privilege and abundance, we shall inevitably lose what we seem to have. In its relationship to this stream of kingdom work and channel of blessing to all mankind—if we allow God to use us thus—Goshen College is an essential and indispensable link.

The Challenge to Alumni

To us Alumni comes a prior right and responsibility to help make our Alma Mater strong in this commission. Goshen College has reached that stage in her history from which any one of a number of future paths are available to her. Within the same constituency, too, are arising sister institutions that can qualify to serve areas or functions or needs where Goshen might not choose to serve. Goshen in turn has now become known and accredited for a quality and standard of academic work and a sound Christian and missionary philosophy and viewpoint so that by slight adaptations here and there from its more sectarian marks she could rapidly attract nonconstituent students to her maximum capacity and through these same adaptations attract endowments and contributions to operations and maintenance and expansion beyond the possibilities realized heretofore or beyond possibilities which she might realize by continuing along these same basic lines. Or, by considering herself primarily responsible to a particular geographical area or a particular economic class rather than to the total world-wide membership of her supporting constituency, she might simplify her problems in various ways. But in any such or other of the turns in the road possible to Goshen now, this idea of a school home for any and all of our worthy young people would pass and with that inevitably would pass her chance at leadership in being the trusted interpreter of the genius in faith that we believe God to have preserved through our heritage and then would pass, too, any chance at an essentially unified testimony in the world mission of the church.

In thankfulness to God for those who saw, and gave themselves to opening this door of "Christian culture for Christian service" to us and for the many since, and now, who have given and prayed to keep this vision clear and to enlarge this facility—it is our prayer that this, our Alma Mater, may more and more effectively enter into the high estate which we verily believe is being divinely marked out for her. As alumni we cannot serve her better than by committing our full effort and co-operation to this continuing course.

Fiftieth Annual Commencement

Several special features marked the Fiftieth Annual Commencement of the College. The laying of the cornerstone on Monday, June 7, brought a day long awaited by faculty members, students, and alumni. Another new feature of the commencement season was the address of the "alumnus of the year." This is the first time that an alumnus of Goshen College has been honored in this way. The commencement activities began with a program given by the five graduates from the Goshen College Biblical Seminary who received the degree, Bachelor of Theology.

Class Day, Friday, June 4

The various classes and their sponsors held the usual outings—the freshmen at Epworth Forest on Lake Webster with Professor John C. Wenger, sponsor; the sophomores at Pokagon State Park near Angola with Professor Roy Umble, sponsor; the juniors at Camp Mack south of Milford with Professor Jacob Sudermann, sponsor; and the seniors, sponsored by Professor Samuel Yoder, at McNaughton Park in Elkhart.

For once the weather was perfect for class day making it possible to hold the traditional outdoor portion of the program on the campus.

Alumni Day

Several of the five- and ten-year reunion classes returned to the campus to celebrate their anniversaries. The following members of the class of 1913 were present: Professor and Mrs. John J. Fisher, Rev. and Mrs. Amos Geigley, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis C. Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hertzler, and Walter E. Yoder.

On account of being widely scattered, even in other countries, representation of the classes of 1918, 1923, and 1928 was not large. The class of 1928, however, did have a small Smith family reunion: Willard and Tilman Smith and Professor S. A. Yoder, married to the former Ethel Oyer, cousin to the Smiths.

The class of 1933 was successful in bringing together a number of its members even from other states. Present on the campus at some time during the commencement season were Dr. and Mrs. Carl M. Hostetler (LaVerne Yoder), of Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Mendenhall, of Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Roth (Mary Musselman), of Orrtanna, Pennsylvania; Mr. and Mrs. Ross L. Gerber (Ruth Hertzler), of Wooster, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gerber (Marian Wisseman), of Sugarcreek, Ohio; Professor and Mrs. Walter E. Yoder, of Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd N. Hostetler (Evelyn Brenneman), of New Paris; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hallman (Esther Yoder), of Akron, Pennsylvania.

The class of 1938 also assembled a considerable number: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Conrad (Grace Weaver), of Wakarusa; Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Hertzler (Myrtle Schnell), of Kent, Ohio; Clyde E. Miller, of Knoxville, Tennessee: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Noe (Thelma Oyer), of Eureka, Illinois; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hartzler (Mildred Hostetler), of Elkhart; and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bachman (Elsie Springer), of Goshen.

Program for Informal Musicale

The informal program for the musicale although not so varied as in some previous years was very delightful. The Women's Chorus, under the direction of Professor Mary Oyer, sang groups of numbers at the opening and the closing of the program. Julia Latta 50, soprano, of Goshen; Paul M. Yoder 50, baritone, of Harper, Kansas; and Ralph Wade, tenor, of Sterling, Illinois, each sang a solo.

Athletics

Roman Gingerich, instructor in physical education and director of recreation, arranged a softball game between the varsity and alumni on Saturday afternoon following the musicale. The varsity proved too tough for the former stars and won by a score of five to two.

Alumni Banquet and Reunion

The culinary art and managerial ability of Miss Phyllis Roose, dietitian, again was demonstrated in connection with the Alumni Banquet. Miss Roose is gaining quite a reputation for quantity cookery, preparing excellent meals for large groups of diners, and serving the meals piping hot.

After a bountiful meal, Clifford P. Martin 27, president of the Association, presided at the business meeting. Silas Hertzler 13, secretary of the Association for many years, read the report of the action of the Board of Directors at the annual meeting. The following were elected to membership on the Board of Directors for a period of three years: Dean Viola M. Good of the College; Abram P. Hallman, of Akron, Pennsylvania; Clifford P. Martin, of Elkhart; Ivan Brunk, of Chicago; and Dr. J. Glenn Widmer, of Wayland, Iowa.

Elected by the Board of Directors for the coming year are: Clifford P. Martin 27, president; Dr. Carl M. Hostetler 33, vice-president; Leland Bachman 38, secretary; Willard H. Smith 28, treasurer; Professor Olive Wyse 26, fifth member of the executive committee; and John Umble, director of alumni relations.

Professor Samuel A. Yoder 28, sponsor of the class of 1948, introduced the class. After their election to membership, John W. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Miller 15 (Elta Wolf x16), of Akron, Pennsylvania, gave the response in an unexpectedly witty and pithy toast.

Alumnus of the Year

The president of the Association then introduced O. O. Miller as "Alumnus of the Year." At a meeting earlier in the year, the Board of Directors had decided to choose some outstanding alumnus for this honor. Mr. Miller was chosen, not only for his service to the Alumni Association and to the College, but also for the remarkable work that he has done in promoting a world-wide program of relief as secretary-treasurer of the M.C.C. as well as for his interest and participation in world-wide Christian activity.

The president of the Association then introduced Tilman R. Smith, member of the class of 1928, as toastmaster. During the evening program the Vesper Male Quartet sang several groups of numbers, including as one of their encores the hymn, "In Service, Lord, for Thee," written by Miss Edith Witmer, a former instructor of the College, and set to music by Professor Walter E. Yoder.

Dr. Harry G. Good 08, Professor of Education at Ohio State University, toasted for the class of 1908; Mrs. John J. Fisher (Alma Warye 18), former Dean of Women of Goshen College, now of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, for the class of 1918. Professor John B. Thut of Augsburg College, Minneapolis, Minnesota, member of the class of 1923, delighted the audience with several vocal solos. The principal address of the evening was given by O. O. Miller, alumnus of the year, who chose as his subject "Open Doors."

It has become traditional for the President of the College to speak to the Alumni at the close of the evening. President Miller chose as his subject this year, "Freshmen, Friends, and Funds" and delighted the gathering with an account of the progress of the College and with a grasp of administrative responsibility and opportunities as revealed by a glimpse into the future. The program closed with numbers by the Vesper Male Quartet and with the Alma Mater, led by Professor Walter E. Yoder.

Sunday Morning Services

Visiting alumni and other guests who joined the College congregation for the Sunday morning services filled the auditorium and all other available space to capacity. Amos Swartzentruber, missionary bishop on furlough from Argentina, although ill and under his physician's orders to rest, made a stirring plea for young missionaries to staff the increasing number of stations in the Mennonite mission field in Argentina. He stated that in 1942 the field had twenty-seven workers, but now, on account of illness and furloughs, the number is reduced to fifteen. He contemplates cutting his furlough short by five months in order to carry on the work.

During the Sunday-school hour Tilman Smith 28, of Eureka, Illinois, read the opening lesson, I. W. Royer 00, of Orrville, Ohio, offered the opening prayer, and Arthur Roth, of Orrtanna, Pennsylvania, led the congregational singing. Mrs. John Martin, of Goshen, Mary Ruth Mishler, of Shipshewana, and Romaine Stahl, of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, members of last year's graduating class, favored the congregation with a vocal trio.

Program by College Choruses

At 2:30 on Sunday afternoon, the College choruses presented a sacred concert in the high-school auditorium, the first part of the program being given by the Collegiate Chorus under the direction of Professor Mary Oyer and the second part by the A Cappella Chorus under the direction of Professor Walter E. Yoder.

The President's Tea for Seniors

Following the chorus program at the high school, President and Mrs. Ernest E. Miller (Ruth Blosser 17) gave the annual Tea to seniors and their parents. Over two hundred invited guests responded to the President's invitation. A pleasing feature of this year's commencement was the large number of parents who attended the commencement exercises. Although the class was unusually large, one hundred and twenty-six receiving degrees, ninety per cent of the parents of graduates were present for the exercises. At the Tea, Hilda Regier, of Mountain Lake, Minnesota, member of the graduating class, poured. She was assisted by several other members of the class.

Baccalaureate Service

President Ernest E. Miller, speaking to the one hundred and twenty-six members of the 1948 Goshen College graduating class and a capacity audience in the high-school auditorium at the baccalaureate service, stated that "men and women are great, ultimately, in the degree to which they dedicate their powers to release through their lives the holy things of God."

After asking the question, "What is human greatness?" and discussing the failure of the materialistic and the humanistic views, he asserted that "the prophets of the Old Testament considered themselves the spokesmen for Jehovah. They thought of themselves as channels through which His wisdom and His power were released into the needs of their time. They were spokesmen for God . . . . Accepting God as revealed in Jesus Christ," he went on to say, "makes us artesian wells releasing to the needs of men the power of the Eternal . . . . There can be no greater testimony to the work of any man than the simple statement that he has been sent from God and is operating under a divine commission."

Copies of the sermon printed in a neat twenty-four-page pamphlet were distributed to the members of the class by President Miller at the close of the service. A few copies are available for general distribution and will be mailed to alumni on request.

Dr. S. C. Yoder of the College faculty spoke the invocation at the beginning of the service. The Reverend H. H. Rowsey, formerly of Goshen, the father of one of the graduates, read the Scripture and offered prayer. The Collegiate Chorus, under the direction of Professor Mary Oyer, presented two groups of numbers, Esther Musselman, soprano, of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, and Lowell Byler, tenor, of Goshen, serving as soloists. Dean Carl Kreider presided and Professor Walter E. Yoder led the congregational singing.

Final Chapel Service and Y.P.C.A. Devotional

Professor Paul Mininger 34, Acting Dean of Goshen College Biblical Seminary, planned this service, which, through the years, has developed great significance in connection with the commencement program. Most of the hour was occupied with the presentation of various summer activities of students. William Pletcher 51, of Goshen, who will be a member of a service unit at the Cleveland, Ohio, hospital for mental patients, spoke on mental hospital units. Robert Harnish 50, of Eureka, Illinois, explained the oportunities of service in the local community. Matilda Yoder 49, of Millersburg, Ohio, gave an enthusiastic report of a project for Negro children conducted on her father's farm near Millersburg, Ohio, last year. This unit invites Negro children from Reverend Lark's Mennonite congregation in Chicago for a two weeks' stay in the country. This summer the unit plans to provide religious teaching and wholesome recreation for four such two-week groups. Geraldine Gross 48, of Blooming Glen, Pennsylvania, described the 1948 summer student tour to Europe which she expects to join with students from Goshen and other Mennonite colleges.

Laying the Cornerstone for the Auditorium-Gymnasium

The weather on Monday afternoon was rather threatening, but between showers with the sun shining at the time, the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the auditorium-gymnasium was observed. The program was held on the site of the proposed building, President Ernest E. Miller presiding. I. W. Royer spoke the invocation. Following special music by the Vesper Quartet, Dr. Sanford S. Yoder, former President of the College, read several scripture portions. Bishop D. A. Yoder, president of the Mennonite Board of Education from 1929 to 1948, delivered the principal address of the afternoon.

His address was followed by placing of objects and records within the cornerstone; by D. A. Yoder, for the Mennonite Board of Education; by I. E. Burkhart, field secretary, for the general constituency; by John Umble, director of alumni relations, for the Alumni Association of Goshen College; by Roman Gingerich, director of athletics and recreation, the official athletic records and awards; by Harold Yoder, vice-president of the Y., for the student body; by Mervin Miller, president of the Indiana-Michigan literary convention, for the Mennonite Literary Societies of Indiana-Michigan; and by C. L. Graber, business manager of Goshen College, for the College administration.

Bishop Nelson Kauffman, president of the Mennonite Board of Education, offered the prayer of commitment. Bishop D. A. Yoder, assisted by J. Gordon Jackson, construction engineer in charge of the construction of the auditorium-gymnasium, laid the cornerstone. The exercises closed with special music by the Vesper Quartet and the benediction.

Fiftieth Annual Commencement

The final program of the commencement season was held in the Goshen High School Auditorium on Monday evening. President Miller conferred degrees on one hundred and twenty-six candidates, by far the largest class ever to graduate from Goshen College. Seventy-one students received the degree Bachelor of Arts, thirty-two the Bachelor of Science in Education, four the Bachelor of Science in Nursing, five the Bachelor of Theology, and fourteen the Associate in Arts.

President Miller presided and the following program was rendered:

Invocation	Bishop Nelson Kauffman President of Mennonite Board of Education
Hymn, "My God, I Thank Thee"	Congregation
"Praise Him" (From Cantata No. 207)	Bach
"To Thee We Sing"	Tkach both by Goshen College A Cappella Chorus
Commencement Address, "Four Kinds of Minds"	Dr. Jesse P. Bogue, Executive Secretary, American Association of Junior Colleges, Washington, D.C.
"Praise Be to Thee"	Palestrina
"O Day Full of Grace"	Christiansen both by Goshen College A Cappella Chorus
Conferring of Degrees	President Ernest E. Miller
Candidates presented by	Dean Carl Kreider and Acting Dean Paul Mininger
Hymn, "Shepherd of Tender Youth"	Congregation
Benediction	President Ernest E. Miller

NEW SCHOLARSHIPS ENDOWED

Since 1930, the Mennonite Board of Education has been granting an increasing number of scholarships: first to freshmen and to students in Bible departments; later, scholarships for Mennonite students in the junior and senior year and for the two-year Associate in Bible course, the five-year Bachelor of Theology course, and the Bachelor of Divinity course.

Until the late Professor Daniel A. Lehman, professor of mathematics at Goshen College from 1905 to 1935, endowed a scholarship to be given "to that junior student majoring in the division of the natural sciences who makes the highest scholastic average during the first two years of his college career," there had been no privately endowed scholarship.

Franklin N. Kornhaus Scholarship in Public Speaking

Several years ago, Franklin N. Kornhaus x00 expressed his intention of setting aside in his will a substantial amount for Goshen College. At the suggestion of a friend, he decided to endow a scholarship in the field of public speaking. In consequence of his expressed intention the Board of Education adopted a resolution on September 24, 1945, providing for the establishment of such a scholarship as soon as the money would be available. Parenthetically, it is interesting to note that September 24 happens to be the birthday anniversary of Mr. Kornhaus. Since that time Mr. Kornhaus decided to make the donation during his lifetime rather than to set the amount aside in his will.

On May 29, Mr. Kornhaus sent the College a check for $2,500 to endow the scholarship in public speaking. In a recent letter Mr. Kornhaus writes, "I have already gotten much satisfaction in having made this gift. I am glad now that I did not wait until my death, for, as time goes on, I will know that some worthy student has been assisted."

As mentioned in a previous issue of the News-Letter, Mr. Kornhaus has been a very busy man laboring actively and intensively for building up and maintaining a fine spirit of community service in Oakland. He now has retired from his many business interests but continues working almost as hard since his retirement in various civic and religious projects. Only recently he, as a director of the Oakland Board of Education, served as chairman of a meeting honoring two veteran assistant superintendents of Oakland city who are retiring after a combined service of nearly fifty years in the public schools of that city.

J. S. Hartzler Memorial Scholarship

Several years ago the friends of Jonas S. Hartzler, for many years secretary of the Elkhart Institute and of Goshen College and more recently pastor of the Prairie Street Church in Elkhart, decided to honor him by raising an endowment fund to establish a Bible scholarship. This fund is now nearly completed. John E. Gingrich w39, Mr. Hartzler's successor in the pastorate of the Prairie Street congregation, has been active in raising the amount for the scholarship. The income from this endowment fund will be given as a scholarship to some student in the Bible department in preparation for the Christian ministry. Mr. Hartzler, ninety-one years old on August 8, next, is still hale and hearty.

The Clifford A. Snyder Memorial Scholarship

Following the sudden and untimely death of Clifford A. Snyder 46, while en route to South America for his first period of service as a missionary in the Argentine, Bishop C. F. Derstine and others suggested to President Ernest E. Miller the possibility of creating a memorial scholarship in Mr. Snyder's memory. Response to the appeal for funds for this purpose was instantaneous and generous. The amount of money already raised exceeds $1,500. The income from this fund will be awarded as a scholarship to a student of Goshen College.

The David A. Yoder Memorial Scholarship

In grateful remembrance of Bishop D. A. Yoder's service in the educational work of the Mennonite Church, the Executive Committee of the Board of Education authorized at its May 18, 1948, meeting, the establishment of a D. A. Yoder Scholarship Fund at Goshen College. The Goshen College Faculty had already contributed two hundred and fifty dollars to such a fund. The Executive Committee authorized the President of the Board and the President of the College to solicit gifts to this scholarship by appropriate publicity.

When income from this fund is available, it will be given in the junior and senior years to a student at Goshen College who is preparing for the work of a medical missionary and who has spent his freshman and sophomore years in Hesston or Goshen College. The recipient of this scholarship, during the lifetime of Bishop Yoder, is to be chosen by the President of the College in consultation with Bishop Yoder.

The resolution passed by the Executive Committee states that the D. A. Yoder Scholarship Fund is set up "in consideration of D. A. Yoder's extended period of consecrated service as a member and President of the Mennonite Board of Education." Bishop Yoder has served for forty years as a member of the Board and continues his service in that capacity. After serving as President for a period of twenty years he retired from the position at the last annual Board Meeting in February of this year.

THIRD ANNUAL BUSINESSMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

The College entertained two hundred and forty-nine guests at the Third Annual Mennonite Businessmen's Fellowship dinner in the College dining hall, on Saturday evening, May 15. Dean Carl Kreider, serving as toastmaster, introduced the guests by states. Indiana led in number of guests present, followed, respectively, by Illinois, Ohio, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Kansas, and Minnesota.

Ross Martin, president of the Northern Indiana Brass Company, of Elkhart, gave an illustrated lecture on two trips which he had made to Europe. In paying a tribute to the industry and tenacity of the German people, he stated that during the nine months between his two visits the Germans had made almost unbelievable progress in reconstruction. President Ernest E. Miller, in a closing, thought-provoking address, discussed the place of religion in education.

Guests from Kansas were Lyle Yost 42 and Daniel Kauffman 46, of Hesston, who made the trip in Mr. Yost's Cessna plane. Willard Boller flew his own Aercoupe from Iowa, bringing with him Paul Snyder, of Kalona, Iowa. Another group of guests flew from West Liberty, Ohio.

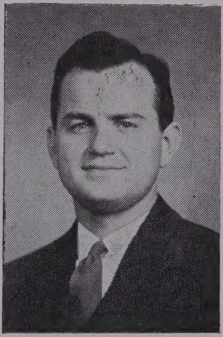
MISSIONARY TRAINING CONFERENCE

Thirty-two Goshen College students and alumni were in attendance at the Missionary Training Conference held at the Metamora, Illinois, Mennonite Church during the second week in June. Bishop J. D. Graber 25, of Elkhart, Secretary of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, was director of the conference. More than sixty young people registered for the conference, and on some days the attendance reached about one hundred.

Following is a list of the Goshen College alumni who attended: Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Beyler 43 (Gladys Graber 44), Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nafziger (Edith Swartzendruber AA 46), Mr. and Mrs. John E. Beachy 50 (Miriam Weaver pt47), Lawrence H. Greaser (Mary Annabelle Troyer 45), Genevieve Bishop 48, Ruby Hostetler 46, Anna Mabel Kilmer 43, John M. Grasse x48, Dorothy Horst 45, Marie Kaufman 44, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bair 48 (Lillian Oswald 49), Bernard Showalter 51, Arletta June Roth AA 47, Alta Snyder w47, Kenneth Snyder 51, Leona B. Yoder 40, Dean Slagel 51, Gerald Studer 47, Lois Marks 48, Evelyn Showalter 47, Orley Swartzentruber 48, Marjorie Shantz 50, Tillie Yoder 49, Nortelle Troyer x45, Kathryn Miller x42, Lucille Schulz 50, Carol Yoder x47, Mary Kay Nafziger 47, Murray Krabill 50, Martha Kanagy 49, and Royal Bauer 48.

ORDINATIONS

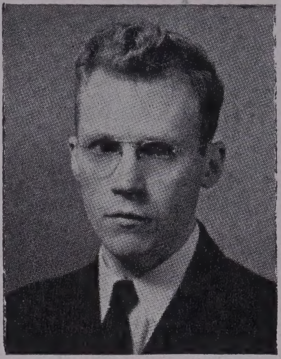
On Friday evening, June 4, in the First Presbyterian Church, at Elkhart, Ralph Gerber 45, formerly of Sugarcreek, Ohio, was ordained to the Christian ministry. The service was conducted by the Presbytery of the Synod of Indiana. Reverend Gerber entered Goshen College as a freshman in 1934 to prepare for teaching. In 1943, in response to a conviction that he should enter the Christian ministry, he returned to Goshen College and completed the work for the B.A. degree. The following year he entered McCormick Theological Seminary, in Chicago. He received the B.D. degree on May 21.



Ralph Gerber

The Reverend and Mrs. Gerber (Eleanor Smith 36) and their little son, Timothy, have moved to O'Neill, Nebraska, where on June 13, he began his service as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at O'Neill, and also of the Bethany Presbyterian Church at Ewing, and the Kellar Presbyterian Church at Chambers, Nebraska.

Paul A. Friesen 47 was ordained to the Christian ministry at the Pleasant Hill Mennonite Church near Peoria, Illinois, on Sunday evening, May 30. His father, Bishop P. A. Friesen, of Greensburg, Kansas, preached the ordination sermon following devotions conducted by Bishop Aaron C. Good, of Sterling, Illinois. The local bishop, Ezra B. Yordy, officiated in the ordination which was followed by prayer led by Ernest E. Miller 17 who delivered the morning message at the same place on that day.



Paul A. Friesen

Ivan Headings x41 has moved from Denver to Pryor, Oklahoma, where he has been ordained to the Christian ministry in the Mennonite Church. Mr. Headings lives on a farm and spends part time in farming.

C. J. GERBER RETIRES

After thirty-five years spent in the teaching profession, C. J. Gerber 22, principal of the Wakarusa schools, retired at the end of the past school year. The citizens of Wakarusa honored him with a public meeting and banquet in the high-school assembly hall.

He went to Wakarusa in 1922 as superintendent. When a reorganization of the school system was effected, he became principal.

He received his elementary and high-school education in Canada where he first taught school, riding eight miles from his home each day on horseback. He received his further education and degrees at Alberta College, Edmonton, Canada; Goshen College, New Mexico, Agricultural School, University of Chicago, Manchester College, Ball State Teachers' College, Indiana University, and Columbia University.

Before taking up his school duties in Wakarusa, he had taught, in addition to the small school in Canada, at Lakeville, Indiana; Ashland, Nebraska; and Las Cruces, New Mexico.

ALUMNUS ELECTED TO BOARD OF EDUCATION

Glen R. Showalter 41, of Yoder, Kansas, a banker, was elected to the three-member Board of Education of the Haven Rural High School at the annual April school meeting. The Haven Rural High School district comprises the largest rural high school district in the state of Kansas with a total valuation in excess of thirteen million dollars. At a special bond election just held, the board was authorized to issue $200,000 in bonds to finance the construction of a new gymnasium. Construction of the new building will be under way by early fall.

MEDICAL AND NURSING ALUMNI PARTICIPATE IN MEETING

The Mennonite Medical Association and Mennonite Nursing Association held a board meeting at Mackinaw Dells near Eureka, Illinois, on June 14, in connection with the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Dr. Edward Mininger x36, of Elkhart, led an open discussion in the morning. This was followed by a public program presenting "High Lights in Medical Work" in India, Africa, and the Philippines. Speakers included Lena Graber 42, recently returned from India, and Dr. James Brenneman x37, recently returned from the Philippines. The moderator was Dr. Melvin Glick 40, of Eureka, and devotions were conducted by Dr. Fred Brenneman 33, of Hesston, Kansas.

THE FALB BROTHERS DEVELOP NEW-TYPE WAGON

Mr. and Mrs. George Falb 43 (Priscilla Miller x44) with Mr. Falb's brother Milton and wife, have formed a corporation in Ohio known as "Conveyo, Inc." to manufacture a new multiple purpose self-unloading wagon developed by the two brothers.

The wagon was developed last year in the tool shop on Milton's farm near Orrville. It has caster wheels in front, is designed for use with a tractor, and has slanting sides with a web conveyer running from the front to the back. Attachments include a blower and a lime spreader.

Milton Falb, the former director of the Wayne County Farm Bureau, also invented a potato picker two years ago. George Falb holds an engineering degree from the University of Detroit, as well as a degree from Goshen College. Mrs. George Falb is vice-president of the firm.

INDIANA-MICHIGAN SEWING CIRCLE MEETS AT THE COLLEGE

Several alumni and other members of the Goshen College congregation participated in the Indiana-Michigan Missionary and Sewing Circle meeting held at the College on May 15. Mrs. Levi C. Hartzler, of Goshen, had charge of the song service. The auditorium and balcony did not furnish seating space for all the workers present from Mennonite churches in the district. Ella Mae Hooley 40, of Ligonier, conducted a panel discussion on the subject, "Junior Members Participating." Ada Brubacher x49, of Goshen, had charge of "A Feature by Goshen Girls' Center."

In the afternoon session, Mrs. Paul Lauver (Lois Swihart AA43) spoke on the work at Pulguillas in Puerto Rico; Mrs. A. C. Brunk (Eva Harder 09), on Shantipur, India; Grace Augsberger, R.N., 49, on Cairo, Egypt; and Mrs. Paul M. Miller, on East Goshen. Officers for the year 1948-49 are: President Mrs. J. D. Graber (Minnie Swartzendruber x27); Vice-President, Mrs. Niles Kauffman (Vesta Johns 26); Literature Secretary, Mrs. Ward Johns (Ruth Gnagy 35); Senior Sewing Secretary, Mrs. Martin Weaver; Junior Sewing Secretary, Ella Mae Hooley 40; Treasurer, Mrs. Glen E. Yoder (Beulah Yoder 28).

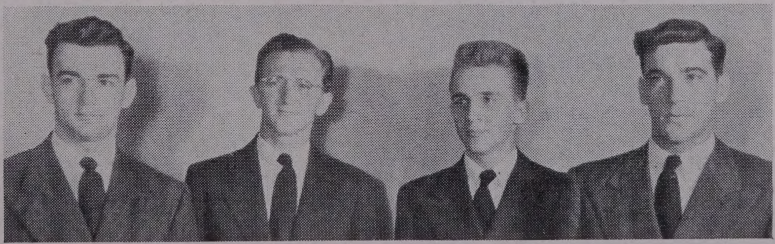
Mrs. Ernest E. Miller 17 is National Chairman.

FOURTH MENNONITE WORLD CONFERENCE

Goshen will serve as the location for the Fourth Mennonite World Conference to be held in August. The first seven sessions will be held in Goshen beginning Tuesday, August 3, and continuing through Thursday, August 5. The conference will then move to Newton, Kansas, on Friday, August 6, and will be concluded there on August 10. The sessions at the two locations carry out a single conference program.

A "local planning committee" has charge of the arrangements at each location. The Reverend Lester J. Hostetler 15 is chairman of the local committee at Newton. Members of the local planning committee at Goshen are: President Ernest E. Miller 17, chairman; Robert Hartzler 41, of Goshen, secretary; Noah Zehr, of Middlebury; Amos Hostetler x25, of Topeka; Olen Krabill, of Berne; C. L. Graber, x28, of Goshen; J. N. Smucker 18, Bluffton, Ohio; Harold Oyer 47, of Goshen; L. A. Bachman 38, of Goshen; Arthur Sprunger 22, of Goshen. Robert Hartzler is chairman of the housing committee; Harold Oyer, of transportation and tours; and Arthur Sprunger, of the exhibit committee.

According to present plans each session will be devoted to some phase of Mennonite life and thought. General topics of some of the principal sessions are Mennonite Relief, Christian Nonconformity to the World, Christian Faith and Life, World-wide Missions, Young People's Work, Evangelism, Foreign Missions. The Peace Testimony, Mennonite Resettlement, Institutions Among Mennonites of Europe and America, Nonresistance and Peace Education, and Christian Education Among the Mennonites.



The Spartan Quartet

Delegates are expected from all countries in the world where Mennonites live as natives or as missionaries or relief workers. Foreign delegates from Europe will arrive in New York late in July or early in August, proceed at once to M.C.C. headquarters in Akron, Pennsylvania, and from there to Goshen, where they will be the guests of the local committee. Advance registration indicates that about fifty foreign delegates are planning to be present from several countries in Europe as well as from Canada, India, Africa, Paraguay, Brazil, and Mexico.

Advance estimates of attendance at the conference vary from two to five thousand. It is expected that persons living within driving distance of Goshen and Newton will return home after the evening sessions so as to release available lodging accommodations for the use of visitors from a distance.

To enable the local committees at Goshen and Newton to provide accommodations for visiting guests and delegates, visitors who desire board and lodging should write immediately to Robert Hartzler, chairman of the lodging committee, 605 South Seventh Street, Goshen, for lodging in Goshen through August 3-5, and to Harry Martens, North Newton, Kansas, for lodging at Newton through August 7-10. The local committees at both Goshen and Newton hope to be able to provide free lodging. For those who prefer to pay, a few rooms will be available in hotels and tourist homes at the usual rates.

The three previous Mennonite World Conferences were held in Europe: the first in 1925, in Switzerland, in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the founders of the Mennonite Church; the second conference held at Danzig dealt mainly with the problem of assisting Mennonite refugees who had escaped from Russia; the third, in 1936, was held in Holland partly in commemoration of the conversion of Menno Simons.

SUMMER PROGRAM FOR LITTLE EDEN

Goshen College instructors and alumni have an important part in the vacation programs this summer at Little Eden Camp near Onekama, Michigan, on the north shore of Portage Lake. Summer camps extending from June 23 to August 28 are followed by the Goshen College Faculty Retreat to be held at Little Eden on August 28 to 31. The following list gives the name and date of each of the summer camps and the name of the director.

Boys and Girls	June 23-30	Levi C. Hartzler
High School Boys and Girls	June 30-July 7	Olen Britsch, Viola Good
Young Adults' Conference	July 10-17	L. A. Bachman
Family Week	July 17-24	Jesse J. Short
Recreation Workshop	July 24-31	Melvin Gingerich
Literary Group	July 31-August 7	LeRoy Garber
Church Music Week	August 7-14	Walter E. Yoder
Ministers' Retreat	August 14-21	John C. Wenger
Farmers' Week	August 21-28	G. F. Hershberger

The beautiful situation of the camp, the brisk air, the northern Michigan vegetation, the log cabins, and the friendly homelike spirit of the place attract many campers to Little Eden summer after summer. The camp is owned and controlled by Little Eden Camp Ground Association, Inc. Jesse J. Short, of Archbold, Ohio, is President of the Board of Directors, Roman Gingerich, of College, manager. Mr. Gingerich and his family moved to Little Eden for the summer early in June. The camp manager is in charge of reservations and the business affairs of the camp. Camp directors for the various camps can supply information regarding programs.

ALUMNI ATTEND MISSION BOARD MEETING

A large number of alumni joined the crowds of people in attendance at the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities at Eureka, Illinois, June 12 to 15. The Sunday sessions were of particular interest and inspiration. The following gave informative addresses in presenting "The Relief Picture" in the Sunday morning session: "Refugees," O. O. Miller 15; "Europe," Jesse B. Martin x26; "Ethiopia," Paul Ervin Hooley; and "Asia," C. L. Graber.

These inspiring and informative addresses were followed by A. J. Metzler's address on "Relief and the Great Commission" and a missionary sermon by J. A. Heiser. Alumni who participated in the Sunday afternoon and evening sessions were S. Paul Miller, of India; Glen Martin, Lima, Ohio, "Magnifying Christ in the City"; and Bishop J. N. Kaufman 27, on "Christ and His Church in India Today." In the evening, professor Carl Kreider 36, Dean of the College, spoke on "Jesus Christ and the Problems of Race," followed by an address by Bishop C. F. Derstine on "Jesus Christ and the World Spirit."

On Monday morning, the Mennonite Medical and Nurses Association held a conjoint meeting. Dr. Edward Mininger, M. D., x36, of Elkhart, led an open discussion period on "Problems Related to Nurses Training," "Health Articles in Mennonite Publications," and "The Expression of Christian Love Through Our Professional Associations."

At eleven o'clock in a public program with the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, Dr. Melvin Glick, M.D., 40 served as moderator. High lights of medical work in Africa, in India, and in the Philippines were discussed, respectively, by Dr. Merle Eshleman, M.D., Lena Graber, R.N., 42, and Dr. J. James Brenneman, M.D., x37.

In the evening, Dr. H. Clair Amstutz, M.D., 33, Goshen College physician, spoke at a sunset meeting on the subject, "The Challenge of a Medical Career for Christian Service."

On Monday afternoon, the following alumni participated in the program; Milton C. Vogt 27, of India; J. J. Hostetler x36, of Canton, Ohio (workers' meeting); and Laurence Horst 46 of Hesston, Kansas, an address, "The Service Unit Opportunity."

In the Tuesday morning program of the Women's Missionary and Sewing Circle, the following alumni participated: Orpha Troyer x37, of Walnut Creek, Ohio, "Building up the Local Circle"; Mrs. Paul Snyder, Kalona, Iowa, "Mother, a Teacher and Guide"; Mrs. J. D. Graber (Minnie Swartzendruber x27), of Elkhart, presentation of missionaries; Lulu Smith 27, of Eureka, Illinois, "Spiritual Aspects of Relief Work"; Mrs. Earl Lehman (Areta Graber 44), Chicago, Illinois, "The Challenge of the Home Field"; Mrs. George Troyer, of Puerto Rico, "Opportunities in Puerto Rico"; Mrs. Elvin Snyder (Mary Fretz x30), of Argentina, "For Christ and the Church"; and Lena Graber, R.N., 42, of India, "New India and Missions."

On Tuesday afternoon, Daniel W. Miller 46, student at the Biblical Seminary in New York City, gave an address on "A Living Sacrifice—Your Reasonable Service"; and Dr. Sanford C. Yoder, President of the M.B.M.C., conducted a consecration service for newly appointed workers. In the evening, Paul Lauver 45 spoke on "The Church Takes Root in Puerto Rico" and Professor John H. Mosemann, of the College, gave the concluding address on "As the Father Hath Sent Me, Even So Send I You."

Professor John H. Mosemann of the College faculty, was elected president of the Board, succeeding Dr. Sanford C. Yoder who strongly insisted on retiring after a long period of service, first as secretary and later as president of the Board.

The local committee handled the technical details of the conference in admirable fashion under the chairmanship of Tilman R. Smith 28, of Roanoke, Illinois.

Those who attended the conference came away with a feeling that the relief and mission work of the Mennonite Church is in capable hands and that the Mennonite Church probably stands at the beginning of a period of expansion limited only by the consecration of the church and her workers in supplying means and personnel to carry out the program envisioned by the leaders of the M.C.C. and the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities.

An interesting and inspiring feature of the conference was the presence and participation of quartet and choral groups from Goshen, Hesston, and Eastern Mennonite Colleges.

THE MENNONITE COMMUNITY

Just as we go to press, the June issue of The Mennonite Community comes to the editor's desk. The leading article is written by Arthur E. Morgan, of Yellow Springs, Ohio, who devotes his time to the cause of community life. Goshen alumni who contribute to this issue are: Professor Glenn R. Miller; Elaine Sommers 27, instructor in English at the College; Norma Hostetler 44 and Matilda Yoder 49; Mrs. Earl Lehman (Areta Graber 44); Dr. Melvin Gingerich 26; and George Falb x43.

The issue covers a wide range of community interests: "Home Freezing of Fruits and Vegetables," "The Young Community," "Nature Experiences with Children," "Summer Camp Programs," and "How to Patent Your Inventions." Two excellent editorials add to the value of the issue, "Wheat Country, Symbol of Change" and "For the Sake of Youth." The entire back cover page of the magazine is devoted to Little Eden Camp, a well-illustrated and well set up advertisement.

Smucker—Jerome M. Smucker, son of Gideon and Magdalene (Zook) Smucker, was born in Wayne County, Ohio; died March 20, 1948. On March 23, 1890, he was united in marriage to Ella M. Yoder, of Bristol, Indiana. He was the father of Wilma M. 21 (Mrs. Harold C. Good), of East Lansing, Michigan. He was a charter member of the Orrville Mennonite Church and an active Christian worker. He attained prominence by founding the manufacturing company which bears his name.

Stahl—Ira J. Stahl, son of Jacob G. and Ellen (Spicher) Stahl, was born near Davidsville, Pennsylvania, March 26, 1897; died near the place of his birth on March 20, 1948. On December 25, 1917, he was married to Nora Kauffman who survives. Two of his daughters, Romaine 47, teacher at Cromwell, Indiana, and Grace 51, a student at Goshen College, are among his surviving relatives and friends. He was a member of the Kaufman Mennonite Church.

Brenneman—Harriet B. McGlynn recently notified the Alumni Office that Clark S. Brenneman, 06, of 1922 East Center Street, Warsaw, Indiana, passed away November 11, 1941.

Tyson—Daisy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Harter, was born in Ohio, September 2, 1881; passed away at her home east of Alanson, Michigan, April 27, 1948, following a heart attack. On August 1, 1901, she was married to Erva Tyson. She is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters, one of whom, Angeline 41, is a missionary on furlough from Africa. She was a member of the Mennonite Church. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the Maple River Mennonite Church near Brutus, Michigan.

Snyder—Through the courtesy of Lena Albrecht 09, of Tiskilwa, Illinois, the Alumni Office learned recently of the death of Mrs. H. B. Snyder (Elizabeth Houck 09) at her home in Estacada, Oregon, on September 4, 1947, after several years of failing health. Surviving are her husband and two foster children, Brooks and Starlee Alice, also three grandchildren.

Miller—Edward E. Miller, father of Mrs. Dorothy Miller Nelson, R.N., 44, passed away very suddenly while at work at Colorado Springs, on June 2.

Kropf—The husband of Mrs. Ray Kropf (Bertha Krabill w41), of Harrisburg, Oregon, was instantly killed a year ago when he and two others dropped in an airplane wreck.

Gingerich—John, son of Joseph and Veronica (Goldsmith) Gingerich, was born in Johnson County, Iowa, March 15, 1877; died at his home near Kalona, Iowa, on May 18. He was a member of the Lower Deer Creek Mennonite Church near Kalona. On November 14, 1900, he married Lydia Raber. He was the father of Professor Melvin Gingerich, Ph.D., 26. For the past seven years he was confined to his bed as a result of a severe stroke.

CLASS LETTERS

Since the May issue of the NEWS-LETTER was mailed, three class-letters have reached the editor's desk. The industry, patience, and enterprise of Niemann Brunk, president of the class of 1932, finally brought to his desk letters from thirteen of the members of his class written between January 18 and May 10. The class had made an attempt at the old type of "round robin" class-letter back in 1932, but it never got around to all the members. The thirteen letters that came as a result of the present effort are so interesting that the other members of the class certainly will wish to contribute to the next issue of the Class-Letter of 1932.

The second letter to reach the editor's desk was the first semiannual installment of the 1944 class-letter. Melva Kauffman and Mrs. Albert Buckwalter (Lois Litwiller) have been responsible for this letter. The class contemplates another issue in the middle of November. Letters are to be sent to Miss Kauffman at Hesston College.

The third letter, that of the class of 1942, is edited by Miss Mildred Witmer who joins the College faculty in September as full-time Assistant Professor of Education.

It is difficult to select items from the letters to convey an adequate idea of their interest and value. These class-letters serve not only to keep the members of the class interested in each other and informed about each other's activities but also to maintain a class loyalty and to preserve interest in and appreciation for the work of the College.

On May 1 and 2, W. J. Dye 48 visited at Culp, Arkansas, to counsel with Mr. and Mrs. John Detwiler in regard to the construction of a combination dwelling house and clinic building this coming summer. Since Mr. Dye's visit to Arkansas, the Mission Board is considering the postponement of building to some future date. Mr. and Mrs. Dye and family had made earlier plans to move to Arkansas soon after Commencement and had tentatively sold to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Miller x42, the house which Mr. Dye had constructed in Shoup's woods last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. David C. Beck x44 are living at I-2 Woodlawn Court, Bloomington, Indiana. Mr. Beck is availing himself of the income from the G. I. Bill to take a medical course at Indiana University.

Through the kindness of Reuben Thut, of rural route five, Lima, Ohio, the Alumni Office has learned that his daughter, Pearl E. Thut 23, has been an invalid for the past ten years, unable to write for the past three, and now is practically helpless. She entered St. Rita's Hospital in Lima in October, 1947. Miss Thut first qualified at Bluffton College for teaching. Then, after teaching a rural school for three years, she entered Goshen College. Following her graduation from Goshen in 1923, she served as teacher in Beaver Dam (Ohio) High School and acting principal for six years. After that, she transferred to Lima Central High School where she taught for nine years. She served for several years as secretary of the Allen County Teachers' Institute and spent two years or summers at Ohio State University for advanced work.

Professor and Mrs. S. F. Gingerich (Beulah Kauffman 06) have moved from 56 Wall Street, Eureka Springs, Arkansas, to rural route one, Box 64, Kalona, Iowa. On account of their failing health they are making their home with their nieces, the Misses Mary and Edna Gingerich.

The new address of Clifford Yoder 41, formerly of Columbiana, Ohio, is 2324 Colorado Boulevard, Denver 7, Colorado.

Dr. Paul D. Zook, professor of economics, is now located at Southern Methodist University. His address is Box 171, Southern Methodist University, Dallas 5, Texas.

Betty Weber x46, of rural route three, Lititz, Pennsylvania, is editor of the Beams of Light, a Sunday-school paper for juniors, printed by the Mennonite Publishing House at Scottdale, Pennsylvania.

The Reverend Arthur H. Ditmer x46 is pastor of a church at Pottsdam, Ohio.

It is the policy of the Mennonite Board of Education to make improvements for the colleges under the Board without going into debt. Goshen College sincerely hopes this rule can be followed with the new Auditorium-Gymnasium.

HOW SOON MAY WE EXPECT THE AUDITORIUM-GYMNASIUM COMPLETED?

"We will finish this building as rapidly as funds come in, and as good economy dictates. Rush jobs, done in times of inflation and shortages, are always wasteful. We want Goshen College to get her money's worth. If the funds are on hand, I am confident we can complete this project by the fall of 1949."

INCREASED ENROLLMENT REQUIRES ENLARGEMENT OF ORIGINAL PLAN

During the last ten years the Goshen College enrollment grew steadily from 300 to 600 students. This growth produced bottlenecks in class rooms, physical education, student activities, bookstore, post office, and in public gatherings. An effort to meet these growing needs led to enlargement of the original plan of the Gymnasium by the addition of a wing for a student center and for student business.

Some of the other needs of Goshen College are: (1) Equipment for Science, Education, and Music Departments. (2) One additional Women's Dormitory. (3) Chapel-Seminary Building. (4) Residence Hall for Missionaries and Married Theology Students.

THANK YOU

The Board of Control, the Administration, the Faculty and Students of Goshen College are happy over the prospect that a new Auditorium-Gymnasium may become a reality within another year.

Hearty thanks are due to the many donors of gifts both large and small. Some have given at least four times to this fund, some three times, others twice, still others once. Farmers, businessmen, teachers, doctors, homemakers, preachers and workers in the Mennonite Church, alumni of Goshen College, former students, friends of the College from churches other than Mennonite, residents from the city of Goshen have all shared in providing the first $250,000 for this project. The number of personal gifts runs into many thousands, and to these thousands Goshen College says, "Thank You."

FRIENDS URGE COMPLETION OF BUILDING IN 1949

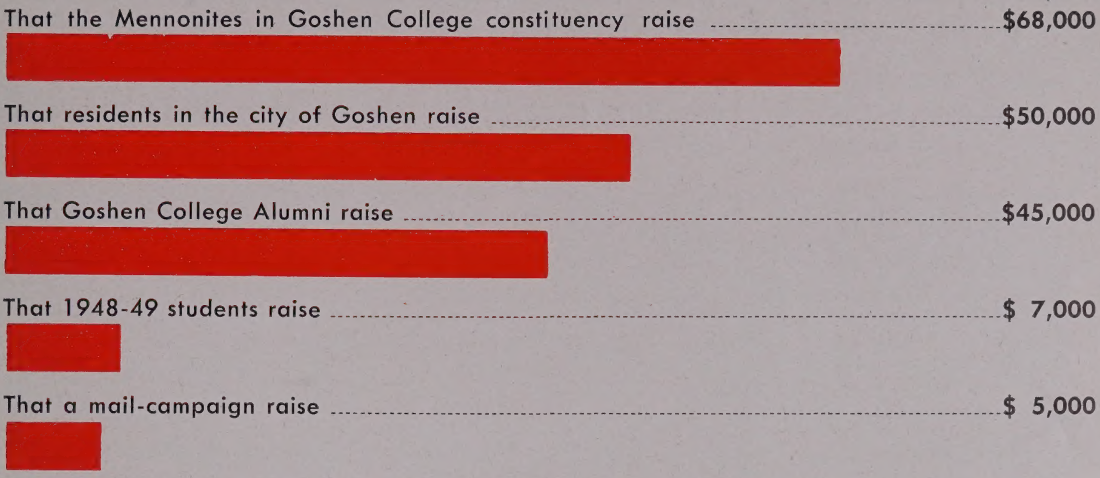
It is these friends that have made possible the progress to date. Many have committed themselves to help again if needed. In fact, it is the advice of these friends that has helped to develop at Goshen College the conviction that the time is at hand to push the drive for funds, and to bring the building to completion during 1949. Both by letter and in personal contacts, these interested groups have expressed themselves with statements like the following:

(1)	Business men in the Mennonite Church:	"If you need more money for the Auditorium-Gymnasium, come back again."
(2)	Two business organizations in the City of Goshen:	"We stand ready to help you in a city-wide drive for funds for your building project."
(3)	Members from the Alumni group:	"Tell us how much we'll have to throw in in order to finish this building in 1949."
(4)	Chairman of the 1948-49 student organization:	"May the students put on another work program in 1948-49?"
(5)	Ministers, Board members, friends in many places:	"Why not make an urgent appeal to finish this building free of debt by the fall of 1949?"

THE AMOUNT STILL NEEDED IS $175,000

With wages and material prices increased, and with the general effect of inflation, estimated costs were necessarily revised upward. The best estimates as to the cost of completing the Auditorium-Gymnasium place the figure slightly higher than $425,000. With $250,000 on hand, it would seem the goal for the balance should be set at $175,000.

TO RAISE $175,000 DURING 1948-49 IT IS SUGGESTED



That the Mennonites in Goshen College constituency raise	$68,000
That residents in the city of Goshen raise	$50,000
That Goshen College Alumni raise	$45,000
That 1948-49 students raise	$ 7,000
That a mail-campaign raise	$ 5,000

WAYS TO GIVE TO THE BUILDING FUND

(1) Give United States Saving bonds, or other government securites. These are the equivalent of cash.

(2) Give a pledge for later payment. A pledge is a form of credit. Credit rightly used is the hope of many enterprises. We make pledges on farms, homes, livestock, cars, furniture, equipment, and what not. Why not use a reasonable amount of credit to further the cause of Christian education?

(3) Give outright cash donations. Goshen College has a large number of friends who need pay very little or no income tax. These friends have added thousands of dollars to the building fund by giving small gifts. As one brick left out of a wall leaves an unsightly hole, so one small gift forgotten may wound a loving heart. Thanks to that multitude who gave so much by giving small gifts.

(4) Give corporation income deductible up to 5% of total, as allowed by law.

Corporation income	Gift of 5%	Tax on gift	Actual Cost of gift
$ 10,000	$ 500	$ 115	$ 385
20,000	1,000	230	770
25,000	1,250	313	937
30,000	1,500	795	705
40,000	2,000	1,060	940
50,000	2,500	1,325	1,175
100,000	5,000	1,900	3,100
200,000	10,000	3,800	6,200
500,000	25,000	9,500	15,500
1,000,000	50,000	19,000	31,000

(5) Give up to 15% deductible from taxable income. If your taxable income is:

up to $2,000	give 15% at 83c per dollar	Save 17c per dollar
$ 4,000- 6,000	give 15% at 77c per dollar	Save 23c per dollar
8,000- 10,000	give 15% at 70c per dollar	Save 30c per dollar
12,000- 14,000	give 15% at 62c per dollar	Save 38c per dollar
18,000- 20,000	give 15% at 53c per dollar	Save 47c per dollar
26,000- 32,000	give 15% at 45c per dollar	Save 55c per dollar
44,000- 50,000	give 15% at 37c per dollar	Save 63c per dollar
70,000- 80,000	give 15% at 29c per dollar	Save 71c per dollar
100,000-130,000	give 15% at 22c per dollar	Save 78c per dollar
over 2,000,000	give 15% at 18c per dollar	Save 82c per dollar

(6) Give a portion of the 1948 income tax "windfall." Due to a lower income tax rate, millions of taxpayers will be money ahead. According to the Golden Rule Foundation, the American people will receive in 1948 a total windfall of $4,800,000,-000.

According to the Mennonite Research Foundation, the income earners of the Mennonite church will receive in 1948 a total windfall of $1,620,000. This amount divided by the 60,000 members of the church would show a per member saving of $27. This $27 multiplied by 20,000 members in Goshen College territory would show a saving of $540,000. Assurming that increased living costs will absorb a share of this tax windfall, surely the Goshen College building fund may also expect to absorb a share. The table below will serve as a guide to discover how much one saves under the new law.

Taxable income before exemptions	Single: no dependents saves	Married: no dependents saves	Married: two dependents saves
$ 1,000	$ 26	$	$
1,500	38	42
2,000	48	53
2,500	59	64	50
3,000	63	67	69
4,000	85	108	105
5,000	111	167	157
6,000	129	226	200
10,000	223	564	501
20,000	556	2,146	2,002
50,000	1,936	7,594	7,533

GOSHEN COLLEGE
FOUNDED BY THE MENNONITE CHURCH 1894

ALUMNI SUGGEST IMPROVEMENTS

Acting on a suggestion made by the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association of Goshen College at their last meeting, President Miller 17 has directed rather extensive improvements, not only in the physical appearance in the buildings on the campus, but also for their repair and preservation.

The floor of the reading room of the library received a covering of rubber tiling—a mottled brown to match the birch of the trim and the walnut of the chairs and tables. This heavy rubber tiling manufactured by the Western Rubber Company of Goshen will not only preserve the floors, but will eliminate the noise of footsteps and of shifting chairs.

The same covering has been applied to the floor of the third story corridor in Science Hall. Here also the floor had been uneven and in bad condition otherwise.

In the Administration Building similar improvements have taken place. The floor of the lobby to the business office and the outer office of the personnel offices in what was formerly the student lounge has been covered with black asphalt tiling with gray and green mottling like the first corridor of the Administration Building.

On the second floor of the Administration Building, floor boards badly worn with the tramp of many thousand feet during the past forty-five years have been replaced with new flooring and the entire corridor covered with the same type of asphalt blocks as the first floor corridor. A new red oak tread and nosing replaces the worn top step of the stairs.

The general effect of these new improvements is to lend dignity and beauty as well as greater utility to the repaired areas. President Miller is willing to make additional improvements and repairs on the building which alumni point out as necessary and for which they are willing to foot the bill.

PROGRESS ON THE AUDITORIUM-GYMNASIUM

Now that the structural steel is in place, the size of the new auditorium-gymnasium can be judged more accurately. The bookstore, snack shop, kitchen and cafeteria in the north wing 34 x 90 feet is 11 feet high. The remainder of the building extending 268 feet south along South Main Street is 13 feet high. This includes the recreation room, 42 x 84 feet, joining the bookstore at the south end, also the lobby of the main auditorium, 34 feet high and 184 feet long.

The main part of the building, 98 x 152 reet (running east and west), including the stage, is 35 feet high. The area to the south of the auditorium-gymnasium, which will house the shower rooms for women and storage space for chairs, is 34 x 215 feet and 13 feet high like most of the front part of the building.

As stated in an earlier issue, the seating capacity of the building will be about 2,500. As a gymnasium with bleachers on the sides, it will provide a full-sized basketball court and seating space for about 1,400 spectators. With the bleachers folded back to the walls the main floor can be divided by wooden folding doors into two practice courts for basketball.

The growth in the size of the student body, crowded conditions on the campus, and the unlikelihood that other buildings can be erected in the near future, have encouraged several changes in the plans. Consideration is now being given to utilize the space under the stage, approximately 32 x 98, which was to have supplied additional space for physical education, as a special area for the music department. It would provide space for a sufficient number of practice rooms, several good-sized studios, and a recitation room. This would enable the removal of practice rooms and voice studios from the Administration Building and the Science Hall where they interfere seriously with the conduct of recitation and lectures.

The portion of the building raised above the lobby at the west end of the auditorium, which was to have been a projection room, will furnish added space for a lecture hall or recitation room. The bookstore in the east end of the north wing also must be used, temporarily at least, for a lecture hall.

Progress on the building is proceeding satisfactorily, even though somewhat behind schedule. The giant cement mixer has now poured all of the footings and walls. During the last week in August the carpenters began to make forms for pouring floors over some of the heat runs and under the projection room. Five carloads of cement had been used in the construction up to that time.

One of the interesting details of construction was setting up the 260 tons of structural steel. A powerful steel derrick picked up eight-ton trusses 10 feet high and 98 feet long, and swung them into place like so many matches. Seven of these trusses support the roof of the main auditorium.

Another interesting feature of construction was the riveting of the steel beams. A workman on the ground with a little blacksmith forge heated the rivets red hot. Then seizing a pair of tongs, he clutched a red-hot rivet, and with both hands swung it twenty-five or thirty feet up in the air where another workman, poised precariously on a girder, caught the red-hot rivet in a pail, quickly picked it up with another pair of tongs, handed it to another workman still higher up who quickly thrust it into the opening in the girders and held it while another workman played a rat-tat-tat-tat with the electric riveter completing the entire process in less time than it takes to tell it.

Bricklaying began about the middle of August. Mr. J. Gordon Jackson, the construction engineer, states that it will require a half million bricks or an equivalent in blocks to lay up the walls of the building. One of the bricklayers, by the way, is Stanley Moyer x46, of Goshen, who was smart enough several years ago to learn the trade in order to spend his summers earning big wages so that he could attend Northwestern University Dental School during the school year.

During the last week in August workmen also began to weld the steel decking to the steel beams supporting the roof. The entire roof will be covered with specially constructed steel. This in turn will be covered with insulating board and the roof built up on this foundation.

Although the building is severely plain and functional in design, it will not present an uninteresting appearance. As already mentioned, the north wing is eleven feet high and the remainder of the building facing South Main Street is thirteen. A fifty-five foot tower will rise from this part of the building about 118 feet from the north end of the building. The top of the projection room will be about thirty feet above ground and, as already stated, the main part of the auditorium will be thirty-five feet high.

Another feature adding interest to the construction will be the brick work. Although there will be no ledges to catch rain, snow, and ice, the construction will be of architectural brick. The predominant color is a sandy buff with an occasional brick of a burned brown color—sometimes almost black.

As construction proceeds it becomes increasingly evident that the building has been well planned and that every portion of it will be needed, in fact is needed now and has been needed for several years past.

COLLEGE INSTALLS AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE SYSTEM

The Indiana Associated Telephone Corporation is installing a fully automatic dial system for Goshen College. The four trunk lines entering the campus reach all the buildings and when the system is fully installed will accommodate from forty to fifty telephones.

Every faculty member will be able to call any other faculty member by simply dialing a number. He will be able also to reach any number outside the campus. A switchboard operator handles incoming calls.

The new system will dispatch the former inter-office system which was donated to the College more than ten years ago by John K. Stoltzfus, of Morgantown, Pennsylvania, as well as the former outside office phones and buzzer system. The system donated by Mr. Stoltzfus was much appreciated and saved much time and energy in conveying messages on the campus, but the new system has many timesaving advantages.

The new system is being installed by the Indiana Associated Telephone Corporation in anticipation of the installation of a dial system in Goshen city as soon as materials are available.

For several weeks during August, John L. Byer 48, college electrician, and his assistant bored holes through the two-foot brick walls of the Administration Building to make room for the tube and conduit work that carries the system, then bent tubes, and strung wires, and finally completed the various extensions and installations.

NEW OFFICES FOR ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICIALS

When the students returned to the campus at the beginning of September they found a number of interesting changes in the Administration Building. The room formerly used as a student lounge on the first floor of the building has been converted into offices for the Dean of Women, the Dean of Men, and the Religious Counselor.

These offices have been built in the south end of the student lounge. In the northeast corner of the room there is a separate compartment to be used as a testing and filing room.

Mrs. Harold S. Bender (Elizabeth Horsch 18), Instructor in German, and Miss Mildred Witmer 42, Assistant Professor in Education, occupy the office vacated by the Dean of Men; Paul Stoll 48, the newly appointed Director of Publicity, and Karl L. Massanari 36, Associate Professor of Education, the office vacated by the Dean of Women.

J. Howard Kauffman 47, newly appointed Instructor in Sociology and Economics, offices with Professor Willard Smith. Robert Buschert 48, who is serving as Instructor in Mathematics and Physics during the leave of absence of Professor H. Harold Hartzler, occupies the latter's office space in the office of Professor S. W. Witmer.

FACULTY MEMBERS RECEIVE DEGREE

John H. Mosemann, Assistant Professor of Practical Theology, who previously held the degrees B.A. and B.D., was granted the Th.M. degree at Princeton Theological Seminary last spring.

Howard Hess Charles 41, Instructor in Bible, who previously held the B.A. degree from Goshen College and the B.D. from the Union Theological Seminary at Richmond, Virginia, also was granted the Th.M. degree at Princeton Theological Seminary in June.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Karl L. Massanari 36, research assistant in the Bureau of Research and Service in the College of Education at the University of Illinois, has been appointed Associate Professor of Education at Goshen College and began his service at the beginning of the first semester.

Professor Massanari has been completing the work for the doctorate at the University of Illinois and expects to receive the Ph.D. degree in February.

He had been principal of the Mahomet, Illinois, schools until the beginning of the last school year when he resigned to complete his residence work at the university. During the past year, most of his work has been on public opinion polls connected with the bureau's services to communities where school districts are being reorganized. Mr. and Mrs. Massanari (Christine Yoder x38) and their three children are living at 323 South Seventh Street, Goshen.

Dwight Weldy 40, whose home address is Wakarusa, also is beginning service at Goshen College as instructor in music. He will assist Professor Walter E. Yoder in teaching vocal music. He also will conduct some of the classes in musical theory and music education. Following a very successful year as part-time instructor in voice at Kent State University and chorus director and teacher of music at South High School in Akron, Ohio, Mr. Weldy spent the summer continuing his graduate work in music at Northwestern University. Mr. and Mrs. Weldy (Marjorie Conrad 40) and their daughter, Cheryl Marie, are living in the home at 1303 South Main Street which they purchased during the summer.

RESIGNS AS DEAN OF MEN

Dean Levi C. Hartzler 35 has accepted an appointment as Secretary for Service Units and Relief under Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. His position is actually equivalent to Executive Secretary for the Mennonite Relief Committee. He will assume his duties under the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities at the end of the first semester of the school year 1948-49.

Dean Hartzler has been one of the busy men on the campus. He has held several positions in addition to his work as Assistant Professor of English and Dean of Men. Since he was ordained deacon of the Goshen College congregation he has been serving as chairman of the Mutual Aid Committee. He is a member with President Ernest E. Miller and Bishop Sanford C. Yoder of the committee planning the church program for the Goshen College congregation and the student body. He has been sponsor of the Trefoil Literary Society and until recently had charge of the Wednesday evening Cottage Prayer Meeting of the congregation.

Dean and Mrs. Hartzler, the former Irene Mayercik of Chicago, and their daughter, Carol Sue, will continue to live in the Coffman Hall apartments until the end of the first semester.

At the beginning of the second semester Atlee Beechy 35, now Director of European Relief under the M.C.C. with headquarters in Basel, Switzerland, will succeed Dean Hartzler. Mr. Beechy had served as dean of boys in a large elementary school in Columbus, Ohio, before he was called by Selective Service during World War II. In C.P.S. he made a good record as administrator and personnel director.

STUDENT LOUNGE RELOCATED

Since the student lounge in the Administration Building has been remodeled to serve as offices for the personnel officials and their secretary, the student lounge has been moved to the basement of the Science Hall. Mr. Roth x00, College carpenter and repairman, has "fenced off" the north part of the recreation room to serve as a student lounge. The furnishings of the student lounge have been moved to this new location. The room is not quite so large as the former student lounge, but it contains the same amount of furniture and should serve the purpose of the former room—a place for informal social gatherings of students and their friends.

This is a temporary measure and admittedly unsatisfactory. The space is not large enough and is not conveniently located to the center of student interest or student traffic, but it is the best possible solution until the student center is completed in the auditorium-gymnasium.

NORTHEASTERN OHIO ALUMNI HOLD REUNION

On Sunday, July 25, the lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. Millen Nussbaum (Idella Zuercher x36) furnished the setting for a well-attended, enthusiastic reunion of Goshen College Alumni and present and future students of the College.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswin Gerber 38 (Luella Amstutz 35) were in charge of the table arrangements prepared on the spacious lawn of the Nussbaum home, assisted by the students of the Kidron and adjoining communities. About 175 were present for a carry-in dinner and about 200 in the afternoon to hear the program.

The main address was delivered by President Ernest E. Miller 17, who spoke on the future of Goshen College. Allen Y. King 22, Superintendent of Social Studies of the Cleveland City schools, who recently made a study of school systems abroad, described educational conditions in Europe as he found them on his recent tour. Ellis M. Hostetler 31, Superintendent of the Mentor High School, spoke on "Today's Teaching Problems," and Professor A. J. Miller 11, of the faculty of Kent State University, on the problems and responsibilities facing tomorrow's teachers. Three musical selections were presented by the Amstutz Sisters' Trio.

Officers in charge of the reunion were: Francis Smucker x39, of Orrville, President; M. O. Krabill 22, of Louisville, Vice-President; and Wilma Lehman 42, of North Lima, Secretary.

The group decided to hold the Northeastern Ohio reunion annually and elected the following officers for next year: President, Don Kreider 38, of Wadsworth; Vice-President, Oswin Gerber 37, of Kidron; and Secretary, Nettie Glick 42, of Walnut Creek.

The Alumni Office has received a number of enthusiastic reports about this reunion. President Miller's address, especially, was appreciated by alumni.

SECRETARIAL GRADUATES

The gradual shift of Mennonite population from rural to semirural and urban life has created a demand for secretarial services by Mennonite young women. Miss Lois Winey 36, Instructor in Commerce and Director of Secretarial Services at the College, finds it difficult to supply this demand. Through careful training, she is able each year to develop a group of efficient, conscientious workers in this field.

The following students who were granted the secretarial certificate in June are now occupying remunerative positions in Mennonite enterprises or in desirable positions in Mennonite communities:

Ethel Irene Bachman, Metamora, Illinois, is employed full time in secretarial work at Goshen College.

Norma Jean Boegli, Orrville, Ohio, succeeds Mrs. Denton Croyle, the former Mary L. Schnell 47, as secretary in the offices of the Superintendent of Schools at Orrville, Ohio.

Susan Elizabeth Esh, Belleville, Pennsylvania, is pay roll clerk for the Mifflin County Packing Company.

Dorothy Jane Garber, Eureka, Illinois, is employed in a secretarial position in her home town at the Zimmerman Implement Store, dealers in Allis-Chalmers farm equipment.

Mary Ellen Hunsberger, Doylestown, Pennsylvania, is employed as typist and stenographer for Nyce Planing Mill in Doylestown.

Dorothy Jean Keller, Eureka, Illinois, is employed full time in a secretarial position in the Registrar's office at Goshen College.

Helen Margaret King, West Liberty, Ohio, is private secretary to the owner of the Nau Grain Company in Urbana, Ohio. It operates three county grain elevators.

Joellen Rae Metzler, Wakarusa, Indiana, is office secretary to Dr. Edward Mininger x36, of Elkhart.

Donavern Jean Miller, Topeka, Indiana, is secretary to the purchasing agent of the Montieth Brothers in Elkhart.

Pauline Miller, Kokomo, Indiana.

Dorothy Lucille Schrock, Metamora, Illinois, now Mrs. Dean Slagel, is employed full time—a five-day week—in secretarial services at Goshen College.

Mildred Eileen Schrock, Metamora, Illinois, is secretary in the Garber Store, the enterprise owned by the husband of the former Alverda Schertz x34, at Metamora, Illinois.

Martha Jean Swope, North Lima, Ohio.

Lorene Fae Weaver, Wakarusa, Indiana, is employed in a secretarial position in the office of Clapp's Foods (Home Foods, Inc.) in Elkhart.

Lorene and Lottie Smith, Columbiana, Ohio, also were registered in the secretarial course, but did not receive a certificate because they omitted from their schedule shorthand and the course in secretarial training.

Fourth Mennonite World Conference

The above picture gives a view of part of the audience seated on chairs on Foreman Field and that part of the audience occupying the east half of the bleachers at the closing session of the Goshen portion of the Mennonite World Conference held in Goshen, August 3 to 5, and at North Newton, Kansas, August 7 to 10. In spite of the extensive provisions made for seating guests, hundreds of people remained standing throughout the session.

The picture shows Professor Walter E. Yoder 33 standing on the platform leading congregational singing. The second person seated to his left is Jesse Smucker 18 who gave the principal address of the evening.

The subject for this final session, "Christ's Vision for Youth," was drawn from the experience of the Apostle Paul on the Damascus road. Harold Buller, of Mountain Lake, Minnesota, was chairman. Following the devotional period conducted by Miss Grace Liu, a Chinese Mennonite, Harold Bauman 46, of Orrville, Ohio, spoke on the general topic for the evening session.

His address was followed by three brief talks on the general subject, "Discipleship in the World Today"; "Living Our Heritage," by Jan Matthijssen 47, of Vlissingen, The Netherlands; "Channels of Service," by Helen Snyder 48, of Guelph, Ontario; and "Jesus' Way of Life," by Pyarelal Malagăr 49, of the American Mennonite Mission in India.

Following testimonials by representative youth leaders — Verney Unruh, Pulaski, Iowa; Wilhelm Kaethler 49, Paraguay; Johann Hilverda, The Netherlands; and Gerald Studer 47, of Orrville, Ohio—Jesse N. Smucker 18, pastor of the First Mennonite Church of Bluffton, Ohio, and student pastor of Bluffton College, delivered the closing address of the Conference on "Consecration to This Vision."

ANOTHER ALUMNUS A PHYSICIAN

James K. Skahen x35, formerly of Goshen, who attended Goshen College as a freshman in 1931-32, is now Dr. J. K. Skahen, M.D., of Loma Linda, California. Mrs. Skahen is the former Ellamae Watts. Dr. Skahen is interested in Dr. Paul Bender's project for Science Hall renovation and expresses his interest in a substantial manner.

NEW RELIEF WORKERS TO ETHIOPIA

On July 17, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lehman 39 (Margaret Swope 34) and their son, Thomas, of North Lima, Ohio, sailed from New York for a two-year term of service with the relief unit in Ethiopia. Mr. Lehman will be engaged in administrative work in the medical relief program being carried on at Nazareth. Mr. and Mrs. Lehman are members of the Midway-North Lima congregation. Also leaving for service in Ethiopia with them are Loretta Mayer x50, who was granted the Christian Workers' Certificate in June, and Dr. Meryl Grasse, M.D., 44 of Chalfont, Pennsylvania.

FRANK BISHOP ACHIEVES DOCTORATE

Charles Franklin Bishop 40 has received the Ph.D. degree from the University of West Virginia at Morgantown. After graduating from Goshen College he received the Master's degree from the University of West Virginia in 1942.

Dr. Bishop is employed as plant pest control specialist with the West Virginia Agricultural Extension Service. He advises and assists the county agents in that state on matters pertaining to the control of insects and diseases which attack crop plants.

The subject of his doctoral dissertation was "Investigations on Purple Top Wilt, and Insect Transmitted Virus Disease of Potatoes in West Virginia." Dr. and Mrs. Bishop, the former Suzanne Harnish x43, of Eureka, Illinois, and their two sons are living in Morgantown.

Honor List of Alumni Contributors

During the fiscal year which closed on August 31, 1948, alumni contributions have reached a new high. Between September 1, 1947, and August 31, 1948, the alumni of Goshen College, together with the faculty and students, contributed $34,123.51 to the Goshen College building fund, including construction of the Auditorium-Gymnasium and improvement of Science Hall laboratories and facilities.

Many alumni may not know that the increasing interest manifested in the alumni family is reflected also in other constituencies which support Goshen College. A certain alumnus said recently, "Anyone who has been a student at Goshen College and realizes the superior advantages that Goshen College affords simply cannot help giving to the institution." "But," this alumnus continued, "what amazes and pleases me is that many people, who never have even seen the College, contribute regularly, and in liberal amounts, too, to the financial program on which the building and instructional progress of the school depends."

The careful, conscientious, persistent effort of I. E. Burkhart 26, field secretary, also is bearing fruit. It is understandable that any solicitor for funds will not be able to please everyone, but Mr. Burkhart has succeeded far beyond the usual "life expectancy" of a fund solicitor in arousing interest among a widening constituency, in the financial program of Goshen College. The non-alumni contributors to Goshen College are increasing in number and some of them give increasing amounts.

C. P. Martin 27, president of the Alumni Association, and the officers of the College are highly pleased with alumni response during the past year. Many alumni contributed for the first time during this past year and many who have been regular contributors have increased the size of their gifts.

This is as it should be. As Orie O. Miller 15 stated in his address to alumni last spring, "Upon Goshen College continues to rest responsibility above that of any other one institution in the church for our effective entry through these doors . . . . Many new doors to other peoples and races and classes have opened to us and stand open now . . . Unless we continue to give, and do it more and more, we shall inevitably lose what we seem to have. In its relationship to this stream of kingdom work and channel of blessing to all mankind—if we allow God to use us thus—Goshen College is an essential and indispensable link. To us alumni comes a prior right and responsibility to make our Alma Mater strong in this commission."

This is the vision and the opportunity that alumni are grasping. This is the spirit and the program that the founders of the College had in mind when they adopted the motto, "Culture for Service."

Students also have caught this spirit. Last fall they volunteered to donate the product of two days' labor to the building of the Auditorium-Gymnasium. A student leader arranged with businessmen, factory administrators, and private individuals in city and country to give students work for this two-day period. Classes were dismissed and the students entered into the program with practically 100 per cent co-operation. As a result of their work, about $6,000 was added to the building fund. This amount also is included in the amount reported above.

Below is a list of faculty, students, and alumni who have contributed to the building fund during the past fiscal year. To them and to the many others who had a desire to contribute, but whom circumstances deprived of that privilege, President Miller 17 and the officers of the Alumni Association say a hearty "thank you."

SOUTHWESTERN PENNSYLVANIA ALUMNI ORGANIZE

Goshen College Alumni of the Southwestern Pennsylvania Conference District met at Somerset, Pennsylvania, on Friday evening, August 27, for an organization meeting. Mrs. Milford Paul (Winifred Erb 46), of Scottdale, Pennsylvania, was secretary of the committee which issued invitations to the meeting. At the August 27 meeting Paul Erb, Editor of the Gospel Herald and former faculty member, spoke on "Goshen College and You."

Those present decided to hold an annual reunion and elected the following officers for the coming year: President, H. Ralph Hernley 41, of Scottdale; Secretary, Ada Schrock 46, of Springs and Treasurer, Alvin John Blough 39, of Hollsopple, Pennsylvania.

Robert L. Yearout, Fresno, California, who received a Christian Workers' Certificate, has returned to his home with his family.

ADMITTED TO MEDICAL SCHOOL

Although medical schools in the United States were flooded with applications on account of the large number of GI's who had completed their college work this spring, Goshen College succeeded in having five men accepted by leading medical schools for admission to the freshman class of 1948-49.

In addition to the two men, Willis Kaufman 48, of Middlebury, and Roger Neumann 48, of Metamora, Illinois, who were previously announced as having been accepted by the Medical School of Northwestern University, three others have been accepted since. Robert Ebersole 48, of La Junta Colorado, has been admitted to Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia.

Jesse Heise 48, of Upland, California, who has been accepted for entrance to the School of Medicine, both of the University of Kansas and of the University of Cincinnati, Ohio, probably will enter the latter school.

Paul Widmer Herr 48, of Willow Street, Pennsylvania, who received the A.A. degree in June, has been admittted to the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy.

The application of Wilhelm Kaethler 49, of the village of Philadelphia in the Paraguayan Chaco, for admission to the School of Medicine at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, first had received unfavorable action, but when Dr. Carl M. Hostetler 33, of Goshen, accompanied Mr. Kaethler to Cleveland and explained that Mr. Kaethler expected to return to the Chaco where no native medical service is available, the Dean of the School of Medicine stated that they would make a special concession in his case in order to be of service to the Mennonite Colony in Paraguay. He was admitted in addition to Western Reserve's usual freshman quota.

COLLEGE SOPHOMORE BUILDS TELESCOPE

An eight-inch telescope on the campus is the result of extracurricular activities by Owen Gingerich, member of the class of 1950 and son of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Gingerich 26 (Verna Mae Roth x29), of Goshen.

The instrument is valued at several hundred dollars, and is about five times more efficient than the telescope donated to the College by the Vesperian Society and highly prized by the late Professor D. A. Lehman. Since the latter's death no one on the campus had shown special interest in astronomy, but Professor H. Harold Hartzler, now on leave of absence from the College to study at the University of Arizona, is devoting some time to that science.

Mr. Gingerich spent many hours during the past year constructing the mirror and the two-hundred-pound mounting of his telescope. Since its completion early this summer, more than seventy-five students and others have seen various planets, clusters, and nebulae with it.

Among other interesting objects seen with the telescope was Honda's comet, which Mr. Gingerich accidentally located during the summer. His favorite item, however, is the Ring Nebula, a small gaseous ring found in the constellation Lyra and visible only with a telescope.

Besides finding several score of clusters and nebulae, Mr. Gingerich has been doing serious work for the American Association of Variable Star Observers. Each day he observes the sunspots, and makes monthly reports to the Bureau of Standards. During the summer he has made about one hundred observations of variable stars for Harvard College Observatory.

The telescope is located at the far eastern edge of the campus, and, although it is the personal property of Mr. Gingerich, is available for use by the science classes. Visitors are welcome on any clear night, but should come in groups smaller than ten.

NEW MENNONITE PERIODICAL

The first issue of Der Mennonit, an international monthly published under the auspices of the Mennonite Central Committee at Basel, Switzerland, in the interest of displaced and resettled Mennonites throughout the world, was mailed in June. It is a 16-page periodical printed in the German language; the size is 9 x 12 inches.

The introductory article was written by C. F. Klassen. Other articles include "To the Scattered Mennonites of the World," by P. C. Hiebert, chairman of the M.C.C., "A Brief History of the West Prussian Mennonites from 1933 till Their Dissolution," by Hermann Epp; "To Paraguay," by Peter Dyck; and others.

The editorial board consists of H. S. Bender 18, C. F. Klassen, Robert Kreider, Peter Dyck, Siegfried Janzen, Irvin Horst, and Paul Peachey. The annual subscription for the United States and Canada is two dollars. Subscription orders may be sent to the Mennonite Central Committee, Akron, Pennsylvania.

MENNONITE RESEARCH FOUNDATION ENTERS SECOND YEAR

The Mennonite Research Foundation began its second year of work, September 1, 1948. Research projects approved for the immediate future include the compilation of a list of all Mennonite conscientious objectors in World War I, the collection of the camp experience records of each of these men, a study of Mennonite relief in Europe and the Near East following World War I, a study of Mennonite family size and occupations, and the listing of all Mennonite church buildings erected since 1918.

Projects completed during the past year included the collection of stories and biographies for a young people's book on heroes of nonresistance, the gathering of materials for a history of the Mennonite Church during World War II, and a study of Mennonite income.

A semiautonomous chartered agency under the Mennonite Board of Education, the Mennonite Research Foundation was organized in March and April, 1947, to serve the research needs of the Mennonite Church. Its Board of Directors approves topics for research from among those suggested by its own members and those proposed by agencies and boards of the church.

The Director of Research is Melvin Gingerich, Ph.D., 26 who after his graduation from Goshen College taught in the high school and junior college at Washington, Iowa, and then for six years served at Bethel College, North Newton, Kansas, as Associate Professor of History and Government. His assistant is Nelson Springer 41, who is taking part-time work in the Goshen College Biblical Seminary. The headquarters of the Foundation are in the former "Beck House," now known as Kenwood House, at 1613 South Eighth Street, near enough to the Goshen College campus to make easily accessible the materials in the Mennonite Historical Library and the Mennonite Church Archives.

Officers of the Foundation are Paul Erb, chairman; E. E. Miller, vice-chairman; A. J. Metzler, treasurer; H. S. Bender, executive secretary; Milo Kauffman, John L. Stauffer, and Sanford C. Yoder. Its 1948 budget of $5,500 is being raised by payments from those church agencies for which work is done and by gifts from individuals interested in promoting Mennonite research.

VESPER QUARTET TOURS WEST AND CANADA

The Goshen College Vesper Male Quartet made a summer tour through three Midwestern and western states and three Canadian provinces.

The tour started at Hopedale, Illinois, on June 8, proceeded through Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Arizona, California, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, then on July 11, into Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba, and returning through Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Nebraska, Iowa, and Illinois, where on August 2, they gave the final program at the Science Ridge Church at Sterling, Illinois, the home congregation of Ralph Wade 49, first tenor of the quartet.

Other members of the quartet are Ralph Buckwalter 48, second tenor, of Hesston, Kansas; his brother Albert Buckwalter 47, first bass, also of Hesston; and David A. Shank 48, second bass, of Goshen. They gave more than sixty programs during the fifty-five days between June 8 and August 2.

PROGRESS ON THE ALUMNI DIRECTORY

After repeated delays, the Alumni Directory at last is nearing completion. The Alphabetic Lists for both the Elkhart Institute and Goshen College were sent to the printers during the last week in August. The list contains the names of the 8,540 students who have matriculated. It contains the name of each married alumna, both by her maiden name and by her husband's name. The list includes, also, the maiden names of non-alumna wives of alumni.

The Class Lists will contain the names, occupations, and addresses of all former students and gradually are nearing completion. Data concerning graduates is practically complete. It has been impossible to discover the present location of a large number of non-graduates. Cards and letters mailed to former addresses or to friends and relatives of former students have in many cases brought no response. It is the aim of the Alumni Association, however, to make every effort to make this edition of the Directory as complete as possible.

Plans for the distribution of the Directory have not been completed. Several questions will determine distribution: How shall the cost of the printing of the Directory be defrayed? Shall each active alumnus, that is, each alumnus who is making an annual contribution to the financial program of the Alumni Association, receive a free copy, or shall each alumnus contributing a certain amount receive a free copy? These and other questions have not yet been decided. The Directory is being printed by the Herald Press at Scottdale, Pennsylvania, and is promised within approximately six months.

THE ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER BOUND

Alumni will be interested to know that a complete file of the Alumni NEWS-LETTER has been preserved. From 1912, when the first issue of the NEWS-LETTER appeared, until 1929 it was printed as Series 1, Series 2, and so on.

For the first seven years, four numbers were printed each year. The NEWS-LETTER seems to have been discontinued in 1919 as Series 8, but resumed in 1926 as Series 9, with F. S. Ebersole 01 as editor. The last "Series," Number 13, was edited by J. B. Cressman 21 in 1929-30.

Beginning in June, 1930, in order to avoid certain mailing complications, the NEWS-LETTER became a regular number of the Goshen College Bulletin, and has been printed from three to six times per year since that time. In 1937, the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association of Goshen College voted to print the NEWS-LETTER six times a year in the odd-numbered months. All of the copies of the NEWS-LETTER beginning in 1912 and including 1947 were sent to the bindery on July 28 of this year. They will be bound in two volumes and placed on the reference shelves of the Mennonite Historical Library.

WEDDING BELLS

Ernest P. Davis 39 is executive director of the St. Paul's Youth Hospital by a national organization known as the Christian Businessmen's Committee Incorporated. The St. Paul's Organization has converted a former USO Center into a Christian Youth Center. Mr. Davis visited the campus in mid-July. He related that when he applied for the St. Paul position and was called before the board to present his credentials, he felt some trepidation on account of having graduated from a small college. But when members of the board, a number of them multimillionaires, asked where he had received his training, he was surprised to find that all of them already were familiar with Goshen College and had the utmost confidence in the school. L. G. LeTourneau is a member of the board.

Charles Burkhart x49, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Burkhart 26 (Gladys Loucks 25), has been granted a liberal scholarship by the school of music at Yale University and will continue his music study at that institution beginning in September. Mr. Burkhart has shown himself one of the most talented and industrious pianists registered at the College in recent years and has appeared in several recitals at the College. Mr. Burkhart is interested also in musical composition and expects to spend a part of his time in that department of music education.

Hermine Blosser x48, of Salem, Ohio, has joined the voluntary service unit doing relief work in Poland.

Beulah Litwiller 44 is enjoying her work in Puerto Rico. Under the date of July 20 she wrote: "As I continue to work for the Lord here, I again and again thank Him for having led me here. I am thankful for a work to do and for hearts that are open and receptive to the Gospel of love. May I ask you to sincerely pray for the work here. Do remember us daily before the throne of grace that we may be used mightily in this time when the harvest is ripe." On July 20, Miss Litwiller and Mrs. Elmer Springer were planning to solicit students for their new school. They plan to begin with the first and second grades and hope to have about twenty in each grade. They are eager to serve the children of the Christian group and any others who wish to attend and who might profit from attendance. (The editor is indebted to Miss Lois Winey, instructor in commerce and director of secretarial services at the College, for this item. Miss Winey mimeographs and mails letters from Miss Litwiller and also from Mrs. Don McCammon in China to their friends. In fact, Miss Winey is a sort of "missionary in absentia.")

J. Otis Garber x24 is Chief of Field Service in the U.S. Bureau of the Budget with offices in the Old State Building, Washington 25, D.C. Milton Rush x46, of rural route one, Elkhart, is employed by the American Coating Mills Division of Ovens of the Illinois Glass Company.

The plans of Mr. and Mrs. Jan Matthijssen have undergone an agreeable change. Instead of teaching for a year and then going to Holland, Mrs. Matthijssen (Mary M. Berkman 47) accompanied her husband to Holland where both of them will study in the University of Leyden. Following the completion of their studies they plan to go to Java as missionaries.

Loren S. King 31, of West Liberty, Ohio, is employed by the Yoder Implement Company in that village. He also devotes considerable time to his duties as secretary of the Ohio Mennonite Christian Workers' Conference.

Mrs. Calvin B. Smeltzer, the former Myrtle Grosh x20, is living on rural route one, Elkhart. After attending two years at Goshen College as an academy student in 1916-17 and 1917-18, she and her sister went to Hesston College and Bible School and graduated there. Mrs. Smeltzer and her husband are active supporters of the program at Goshen College.

Linford D. Hackman WBT40 is a Mennonite minister at Carstairs, Alberta, Canada. He had been ordained in October, 1944, by the North Central Conference after he had gone from Souderton, Pennsylvania, to help in the northern Mennonite mission field in 1939. More recently he was called by the Alberta-Saskatchewan Conference to assist in opening mission work in the Peace River country of northern Alberta. He has now been permanently relieved by the North Central Conference and is living at Carstairs, Alberta, where he is minister and also field worker for the district mission board. There are two mission fields in the North, one at Smith, 150 miles northwest of Edmonton along the Athabasca River, where three families are stationed as workers and a congregation has been organized, the most northerly Mennonite Church in North America. The other field is at Culp, near the Smokey River, about 340 miles northwest of Edmonton. Three families of workers live there. The mission is also interested in the Hutterites in that conference district. Mr. Hackman extended his work as far as Alaska in April. In the leading article in the Gospel Herald for July 20, Linford Hackman writes on "Our Witness to the Frontiers" urging volunteers to enter these needy fields.

Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Lehman 04 (Lydia Liechty 05) are living in Berlin. They can be reached by mail, preferably airmail, through the following address: Governement Militaire, Neustadt/Palatinat, SP 50380, BPM 415, PAR BCM-C-Paris.

Mr. Miller is making use of his experience under Professor Walter E. Yoder by singing in the Orpheus Male Chorus and serving as baritone soloist in the Methodist Church at Cleveland Heights.

TABULATION OF ALUMNI DONATIONS

The following table presents in outline form the number of contributors in each class, the total amount contributed by the class, and the average contribution.

Several problems have arisen in connection with crediting donations to a given class. In those cases where both husband and wife are members of the Association, half of the contribution has been credited to the husband's class and half to the wife's. When husband and wife were graduated in the same class their donation was recorded as a single contribution.

Another problem was the crediting of contributions of summer school students and Winter Bible school students. These contributions are credited to the class graduating in the first year of the student's attendance at Goshen College. For instance, the contribution of a Winter Bible School student who first attended Goshen College during 1900 would be credited to the class of 1900 unless the student subsequently attended College as a member of a regular academy or college class.

In a few cases where only one member of a class made a contribution, the amount contributed is omitted, in line with the promise made during the year that the amount of no individual contribution would be divulged.

Class	Number Contributors	Amount Contributed	Average Contribution
1896	1	$	$

Vol. XLII NOVEMBER, 1948 No. 11

ANNUAL HOME-COMING 1948

The annual Home-Coming program, arranged by the social committees of the "Y" under the leadership of cochairmen Harold Yoder 50, of Columbiana, Ohio, and Doris Gunden 49, of Goshen, Indiana, and a committee of the faculty, will be held as usual over the Thanksgiving week end.

The schedule of events is slightly different from last year when the Home-Coming lecture was postponed to Saturday evening in order to avoid a conflict at the high school. The Home-Coming lecture will be by Francis Line who delivers his Arizona lecture entitled "Sheep, Stars, and Solitude" illustrated with natural color motion pictures.

HOME-COMING PROGRAM

Thursday, November 25

10:30	Thanksgiving Service	Assembly Hall
11:30	Thanksgiving Dinner	College Dining Hall
2:00	After Dinner Program	Assembly Hall
8:00	Program	A Cappella Chorus High School Auditorium

Friday, November 26

7:30 to 12:35		Regular Classes
10:15	Chapel	Assembly Hall

Home-Coming visitors should make reservations before making the trip to Goshen. Visitors who plan to "shift" by "doubling up" in rooms are requested to bring sheets and blankets. Address all reservation requests and correspondence to Professor Levi C. Hartzler, Dean of Men, or to Miss Viola M. Good, Dean of Women, Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana.

Auditorium-Gymnasium To Be Completed Next Year

Alumni Financial Program for 1948-49

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Alumni Association of Goshen College the committee decided on a budget for the financial campaign during the coming year. In addition to the usual $1,000 contributed annually to the College by the Alumni Association for current operating expense, the committee decided that it should be possible for the Alumni Association to contribute $45,000 during the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1948, and ending August 31, 1949.

As was indicated in the folder and letter sent to Alumni a few weeks ago, the budgeting committee in charge of the fund-raising campaign set the amount of each contributing group on a pro rata basis. Both the amount to be solicited from the Mennonite constituency and the amount to be raised by Goshen College Alumni were raised about 50 per cent over the amount contributed last year. The Mennonite constituency will undertake to raise $68,000 and it is hoped that Goshen College Alumni who contributed about $26,000 last year will raise $45,000.

This seems a reasonable amount to be raised by the more than 4,500 alumni who will be on the Alumni mailing list by December 1. Donations of twelve dollars per capita should not inconvenience the majority of Goshen College Alumni. Although only 1,004 Alumni contributed to the Alumni Fund last year, it seems reasonable to suppose that with construction actually under way, three or four times as many Alumni will be interested in helping with the building program this year.

One thing is certain, however: Alumni cannot raise $45,000 during the present fiscal year with gifts of $5.00 and $10.00. This is the year when as many as possible of the Goshen College Alumni family should donate as large an amount as possible of their "tenth" to the financial program of their Alumni Association to help Goshen College to complete the Auditorium-Gymnasium in 1949.

Student Work Program

Students again have shown keen interest in the building of an Auditorium-Gymnasium. The service committee of the "Y" through the cochairmen, Paul Hooley, of Hammett, Idaho, and Lydia Diener, of Wellman, Iowa, petitioned the faculty to grant a two-day work-recess as last year to enable students to earn money to contribute to the building fund. Cal Redekop, of Mountain Lake, Minnesota, had charge of student employment under the service committee and Paul Diller, of New Carlisle, Ohio, was assistant in the work office where a special extension telephone was installed for the two-day period. Practically one hundred per cent of the students responded.

The service committee hit upon an interesting method of announcing the work program. One day in chapel they informed the student body that on the following day they would make an important announcement at a service to be held in "the new auditorium." On the next day at the regular chapel hour faculty and students proceeded to the auditorium where the workmen suspended operations while the committee conducted a brief devotional service. Then to the accompaniment of the rap-rap of the mason's trowel, the staccato of the electric riveter, the hiss of the electric welder, and the clicking of cameras the committee chairman explained the plans for the work program.

On September 23 and 24 they donned sweaters, smocks, and overalls and worked at many different kinds of jobs. About one hundred of the women did house cleaning in Goshen and Elkhart. A few students went home to work, even to Ohio and Illinois. Thirty-two of the students, men and women, had breakfast on Thursday morning at 4:30 and by 5:10 were on their way to Archbold, Ohio, in a bus. The Lugbill Sales Barn, a number of farmers, and the Winora Canning Company employed the entire group for the two days. Those who worked for Lugbill were waiters and waitresses at dinner served in connection with a Calf Club sale. Eight or ten students were employed by Fred Lambright and his son at Shipshewana in completing a new sale barn. A number of students were employed in the College offices and at various cleaning jobs on the campus during the two-day period.

John Raber, of Bristol, again as last year, hired several men, put them on "made-work" jobs of cleaning about the barns and buildings, and paid them $20 a day. Milton Birkey, of New Paris, hired Arlin Shisler to do plowing for two days and sent him back to the College a happy boy with a check for $100. Twenty students on Thursday and twenty-four on Friday picked apples for Maynard Hoover, of New Paris. Ten picked up potatoes for Martin Hoover and fifteen performed the same operation for Ummels, south of Elkhart. The tomato cannery at Milford employed fourteen students Thursday, and Bristol Orchards hired eleven boys, paying them $200 for the two days.

The students appear to have given a good account of themselves in their various work projects. Several employers of students have expressed their satisfaction with the work done. The following is taken from a letter written to the College by an Elkhart resident who had employed several of the men.

"I want to express my good fortune in having noticed the ad in the Elkhart Truth. If all the young men who went out to work last Friday and Saturday did as excellent work as the three who came to me, I am sure everyone is happy and the good will of Goshen College has been greatly enhanced. I feel that I was the one most benefited and want to thank the boys and the school."

The committee's first announcement in chapel of returns from the two days' work was $3,193 which had been contributed by about 200 students. Students were encouraged, but not required, to donate the entire amount earned. Many faculty members also contributed several days' pay to the fund. (Later—On October 20 the amount already turned in totalled $6,299.06.)

Interest in Goshen

So far the city of Goshen has not been solicited for any specific amount. In fact, there has been no special campaign for contributions from the city. A considerable number of Goshen residents, however, have expressed a willingness to assist in the building program.

An indication of this interest is to be found in the following editorial which appeared in the Saturday, September 25, issue of the Goshen News-Democrat of which Roscoe C. Lehman x11 is editor.

"College Building Program"

"The entire student body of Goshen College took two days off this week to earn money to be contributed to the College's new auditorium-gymnasium building fund. The plan was first tried last year, and was so successful that the students themselves proposed that it be repeated this year.

"Perhaps not everyone in Goshen knows just exactly what these students are working for. They are raising money for a new building that is expected to cost $425,000, of which $250,000 has already been raised. The College needs $175,000 more to complete the building, something that it is hoped can be accomplished next year. The students will contribute every penny of their earnings during the two-day recess to the fund.

"Of the $175,000 still needed—and the College plans to keep out of debt and spend only what it is able to raise through contributions—the College hopes to obtain $50,000 from the residents of the city of Goshen. The remainder will come principally from the Mennonite constituency and from College alumni.

"Goshen College is deserving of all the support that the citizens of Goshen can give it. Both as an educational institution and for its religious influence it has a value to the city that cannot be measured. Little has ever been asked of the city by the College, and

This issue of the NEWS-LETTER is devoted primarily to an explanation of the financial campaign for the year 1948-49.

The editor appreciates the help of a large number of Alumni and friends who have responded to his request for addresses and other information regarding Alumni. Without their co-operation it would be impossible to complete the Directory.

As work on the Directory reaches the final stages a large number of new names and addresses are being added to the mailing list. More than one thousand Alumni who had not previously been on the mailing list received the September issue of the Alumni publication. That number again is increased with the present issue.

As stated in the leading article in this issue, the goal for the Alumni financial campaign has been increased by about 60 per cent over last year. This might be considered reasonable from several viewpoints. In the first place, the Alumni mailing list has been nearly doubled, and in the second place, with the steel structure already in the air, showing the extent of potential usefulness of the building, Alumni are sure to show increased interest in completing the building as soon as possible. Be sure to read on this page the letter of the President of the Alumni Association, Clifford P. Martin, President of the First Old State Bank at Elkhart.

Alumni will recognize, in the picture on the cover page, one of the favorite walks of students. This beautiful spot seems likely to remain open to the public for some time, although it is privately owned by the Northern Indiana Public Service Company. Other favorite spots are losing their semi-public character and are no longer available for picnics. Only a few lots are left in Roy Shoup's woods. Private homes are dotting Willard Shoup's woods. Three students and one faculty member now live there and six other homes have been built there within the last few years. A new street cuts through to the three prefabricated homes erected last summer by the College to house married students.

Auditorium-Gymnasium

now an opportunity to help is presented that ought not to be overlooked.

"Goshen College within the past decade has grown into a major institution of learning. Its enrollment has increased in ten years from 300 to over 600, a growth that has made new building imperative. The auditorium-gymnasium, with a wing for a student center and student business, will do much toward relieving crowded conditions.

"Very few cities the size of Goshen are fortunate enough to have a college. Most of them would give many, many times what is now being asked of this city to have such an institution within their boundaries. And it is as certain as can be that any contribution of money that is made to Goshen College will be used to the greatest possible advantage."

The Mennonite Constituency Willing to Help

I. E. Burkhart 26, Field Secretary, who has been doing some work in the field during recent weeks, states that he finds much sentiment in Mennonite communities that the Auditorium-Gymnasium by all means should be completed this year.

Parents of the students are saying, "The need is so evident and so great that the building by all means should be completed this year," or "This building can be finished in 1949 if all of us put forth a little extra effort." Still others are saying, "Although needs for funds in many areas are great and we have our own building program this year, we recognize that we must not forget the needs of the institution where our young people are being trained for service in the church."

A Final Word from the President of the Association

The erection of the Auditorium-Gymnasium is the greatest undertaking that has ever challenged the Alumni and friends of Goshen College.

Now the enrollment for the fall semester is over 700 students. This increase has meant a demand for more classrooms and more offices for the teaching staff. Consequently a day student from Elkhart recently stated, "Things are awful at Goshen College; there is no place left for a student to lounge when he is not in classes." In fact, the hallways, Assembly Hall, the library, and all the buildings are virtually having their walls pushed out by the overcrowded conditions. Many events must be held elsewhere because of lack of facilities at the College.

The main floor of this new building has an area of approximately 50,000 square feet in addition to basement and second-floor areas. It is 300 feet by 200 feet on the long sides. It truly is a gigantic structure of steel and masonry. It covers more ground area than all the other buildings on the campus.

Every corner and cubbyhole is being assigned to much-needed services, even the space between the roof trusses. In fact, the competition for needed space by departments of the College for certain areas becomes quite spirited at times. The music department has needs to be filled, the athletic and recreational departments their needs. Then there is the bookstore, the post office, and the student center. Each of these is being pushed out of its present quarters and must have more room because of the larger student body. The Auditorium, which normally will seat 2,000 persons, and can accommodate 2,700, will be of great service to the College, the church, and the community for those meetings and events which now go begging for lack of suitable accommodations.

The cost of this undertaking has mounted with the expansion of the needs to be filled. It now is estimated to cost $425,000. This is more than the cost of the entire College plant previously constructed. There is $250,000 now on hand, leaving $175,000 yet to be raised for completion in 1949.

Never have the Alumni had such a challenge, with a quota of $45,000 set for this year. Never has the Alumni Association been so well prepared in numbers, in means, and in good spirit to tackle such a task.

It will take much giving on our part, much larger giving than we anticipated, to reach this goal. However, with a $5,000 gift or so, ten $1,000 gifts, twenty $500 gifts, then one hundred $100 gifts, and the hundreds of gifts from 99.00 to 5.00 we can make our quota.

Won't you give this urgent matter your prayerful consideration and volunteer to accept the challenge and join one of these categories as you are able? Such a great challenge comes only occasionally in the lifetime of an Alumnus. With that in mind you may wish to make that extra special gift you have had in your thinking ever since you were a student at Goshen College. —C. P. Martin.

GOSHEN ON THE AIR

President Miller has made tentative arrangements with the radio station WTRC of Elkhart (AM and FM) to begin a series of fifteen-minute weekly broadcasts over that station and has delegated to Paul Stoll 48, assistant Director of Public Relations, the duty of preparing a schedule for the broadcasts.

Preliminary plans include programs to be presented by members of the speech and music departments, as well as by the various musical organizations on the campus: the A Cappella and Collegiate choruses, men's and women's choruses, the Vesper and Spartan quartets, and vocal and instrumental recitals.

Speech department broadcasts will discuss current problems in panel discussions or debates. President Miller hopes to begin the series soon after November 15.

LECTURE-MUSIC SERIES

Professor Willard H. Smith 28, chairman of the Lecture-Music series committee, has announced the following numbers for the year 1948-49.

October 26 The Chicago Symphony Quartet (A return engagement)

November 20 Hon. Walter Judd "China Today"

November 26 Francis Line "Sheep, Stars, and Solitude" (Illustrated and the Home-Coming number)

January 27 Carlos Salzado (The leading harpist in America)

February 28 The original Don Cossack Chorus

(Date to be supplied) Dr. A. W. Cordier, Executive Assistant to the Secretary General of the United Nations, on the subject, "The United Nations in the World Today"

April 7 The Augustana College Chorus

Season tickets to the general public are $4.20. Single admissions for the Home-Coming number will be eighty cents, including Federal Tax.

FRESHMEN PARENTS DAY

The personnel staff of the College has announced the second annual Freshmen Parents' Day for November 7. Parents will register in the Memorial Library at 9:00 in the morning. Following registration they are invited to attend Sunday school and church services at the College. Professor Harold S. Bender 18, Dean of the Goshen College Biblical Seminary, will preach the morning sermon. Parents will be the guests of the College at dinner in the College dining hall. The meal will be served cafeteria style.

In the afternoon the campus buildings will be open for inspection by parents. Staff members will be on duty to make explanations and answer questions. At 4:45 a faculty reception for freshmen and their parents will be held in the College dining hall. Parents and members of the faculty will be introduced.

The usual evening service will be held in Assembly Hall at 7:00. Howard Charles, Religious Counselor for students at Goshen College, will have charge of the worship service. Several students will speak on "Opportunities for Christian Growth at Goshen College." President Ernest E. Miller, speaking on the subject, "Workers Together with God," will give the principal address of the evening. Leader and chorister, respectively, will be Willard Krabill, Louisville, Ohio, President of the "Y," and Esther Shank, Goshen, Vice-President. A freshman men's quartet will give a special message in song.

ORDAINED TO THE MINISTRY

On Sunday, August 22, Wilbur Nachtigal, husband of the former Grace Kauffman, R.N., x42, was ordained to the ministry by Bishop Sanford C. Yoder, retiring president of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, assisted by Edward Berkey w11, the recently ordained bishop of the Manson congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Nachtigal are under appointment to the mission field in Puerto Rico. During the coming months they expect to serve in the local congregation at La Junta, Colorado, while studying the Spanish language under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. David Castillo w34 (Elsa Shank 34).

Paul E. Yoder 47, instructor in the biological science department at Hesston College, has been ordained to the Christian ministry by the Oregon conference to serve the Mennonite congregation at Albany, Oregon, where he was formerly a member. He will complete his second year as instructor at Hesston before returning to Oregon next summer with Mrs. Yoder (Flossie Lehman 37) and their two children.

THE SEPTEMBER MENNONITE COMMUNITY

Are you Alumni learning to read The Mennonite Community? The September issue has a number of interesting features. First of all, there is a growing number of "Mennonite" advertisements, that is, advertisements by Mennonite firms and individuals. The September issue, especially well illustrated, contains a number of interesting articles by Alumni. Roy S. Koch, Th.B., 45, pastor of the St. Jacobs, Ontario, Mennonite Church, writes on "Leadership in the Community"; Mrs. Lester Glick (Doris Miller 46) on "School Lunches"; Arthur D. Graeff, of Waterloo, Ontario, on "The Mennonites in Ontario, Canada"; and Professor Guy F. Hershberger on "The Significance of the Mennonite World Conference." The latter article is illustrated with an excellent picture of a number of the delegates and visitors on the steps of Memorial Hall at North Newton, Kansas, where ten of the seventeen conference sessions were held.

FACULTY MEMBER PUBLISHES BOOK

Dr. Sanford Calvin Yoder, S.T.D., D.D., Professor of Bible, is the author of a new book, Poetry of the Old Testament. For many years Dr. Yoder has been teaching a course in Old Testament poetry. Since there was no textbook in this field it was necessary for him to prepare his own outlines for the course. Hence, years of research and actual schoolroom practice have gone into the preparation of this work. Dr. Yoder's former instructors and other scholars who knew of the work he was doing in this field have urged him to publish his study in book form for classroom use in other institutions.

A beautiful volume of 426 pages is the result. The purpose of the author is stated in the "Preface": "It is the hope of the writer that a better understanding of the poetical selections and books of the Bible in its most lyrical translation, the King James Version, will result from this small effort to point out and bring before the reader this material in its proper form. It is further hoped that a wider interest in the study of this the greatest of all Books may be stimulated and that not alone its beauty will be appreciated but that the knowledge of the principles of faith and conduct which it reveals may become attached to and incarnated in human life and lift each reader above the littleness and grossness of his time into the Light Divine."

In an appreciative "Foreword" Professor John C. Wenger 34 of the College faculty states: "As an evangelical Christian the author of this book accepts the entire Bible as the inspired and authoritative Word of God . . . . Although there are many good books treating various aspects of the Old Testament, the present writer knows of none which fulfills the task of Poetry of the Old Testament."

Dr. Wenger goes on to say: "It is but a small circle of scholars who are competent to attempt the task of writing on Biblical poetry. No one but a poet can adequately discuss poetry. The reader's heart must sing in unison with the Hebrew bards of old before he is able to write of their stanzas. For this task Dr. Yoder is eminently qualified."

Professor George Livingstone Robinson, former instructor of Dr. Yoder to whom the latter dedicated the book and who is now an octogenarian, wrote to his former pupil recently: "I have examined the book and I am satisfied—perfectly satisfied."

Following the "Introduction" in which Dr. Yoder presents in a scholarly manner the nature, kinds, characteristics, and structure of Hebrew Poetry, he presents "The Poetry of the Pentateuch," "The Poetry of the Historical Books," "The Book of Job," "Studies in the Psalms," "The Book of Proverbs," "The Book of Ecclesiastes," "The Song of Songs," and "The Book of Lamentations."

The editorial work in the book leaves little to be desired. The poetical portions are printed as poetry without confusing the reader with chapter and verse citations. At the beginning of each section stands a quotation from some portion of the world's great literature. The introduction to each section gives valuable information on such points as historical setting, authorship, purpose, and other matters of interest to the general reader. An index might be useful but is hardly necessary because the book is so well outlined that the very complete table of contents probably is sufficient. For the student who wishes to pursue further study the author lists a valuable bibliography.

Goshen College and members of the Alumni family look with a large measure of justifiable pride on this excellent work by a former president and a greatly loved, honored. and respected professor.

The book is printed by the Herald Press at Scottdale, Pennsylvania, and is neatly bound in red cloth.

PROPOSED COLLEGIATE SCHOOL OF NURSING

No doubt many Alumni have heard of the hospital that was to be built in Elkhart County by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities and the Collegiate School of Nursing to be conducted by the Mennonite Board of Education in connection with the hospital. The following article written by Joseph D. Graber 25, Secretary of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, for the September 28 issue of the Gospel Herald, is the latest official pronouncement on the progress of the hospital and the school.

"It now appears that the original plan for building a Mennonite hospital at Elkhart will not be carried out. The Elkhart-Goshen community has gotten under the load and is at the present time in process of planning an adequate and unified hospital service for the entire county at a probable cost of several million dollars. However desirable it would be for the Mennonite Church to build, own, and operate a hospital in Elkhart County, Indiana, it is increasingly clear that a hospital large enough to furnish the clinical facilities needed by a collegiate school of nursing is beyond the financial abilities of our church. In any case, the community has taken the matter into its own hands and plans for building are under study.

"The Elkhart County organization investigating the hospital situation is strongly requesting the Mennonite Church to affiliate its collegiate school of nursing as a department of Goshen College with the new county hospital program. According to present plans it is anticipated that we should build our own student nurses' home and educational plant near the hospital, and liberal facilities are offered for the appointment and control by the Mennonites of the student teaching and supervising personnel in the hospital. The Mennonite Board of Education is at the present time studying carefully the situation to see whether such an affiliation will be possible according to Mennonite principles and practices and whether the church can achieve through such an arrangement its original objectives of trying to provide for additional nursing school facilities.

"The Board of Education Special Study Committee on this question met in Chicago on September 17. Further studies are being conducted and material is being prepared for examination at the time of the Board of Education public meeting to be held at Kitchener, Ontario, October 21 to 23.

"The funds raised for hospital building are on hand with the treasurer of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Only a comparatively small portion has been invested in the purchase of the hospital building plot, in the preliminary preparation of building plans and blueprints, and in activities incidental to fund raising. The question of the proper allocation and use of these rather large funds will be taken up by the Mission Board in special or regular session after the Board of Education has made its decision regarding the program to be followed in providing the new school of nursing. It is probable that some system of ascertaining the wish of individual donors will be followed after the Mission Board recommendation regarding an allocation of these funds has been made.

"In reflecting upon the developments of this program we must constantly remind ourselves that the primary objective has been to make available additional nursing school facilities adequately safeguarded. It would appear in the present developments of the program that this objective might presumably be reached much sooner and with considerably less financial load on the church than had at first been anticipated. Prayer is requested that God's will in this important development may be made plain."

Final decisions embodying some of the suggestions in the article probably will be made in the next few months by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities and the Mennonite Board of Education who have been working together quite closely in developing plans for a hospital and an affiliated Collegiate School of Nursing. Final decisions probably will not be made until after the next annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Education in February.

THE SECRETARIAL STAFF

Twenty-three young women are working at Goshen College who, if asked what they do, would say, "I'm on the secretarial staff at the College." This is one of the changes that an enlarged student body and a consequently more complicated administrative setup has made necessary. In the "older days" at Goshen College nearly all of the secretarial work was done by part-time students. Now a number of people are employed in various kinds of staff other than the teaching and administrative staffs.

Of the secretarial staff of twenty-three young women this year, three are registered as part-time students, five are full-time students and work what is considered a "student work load," and the remainder are employed full time in the various offices of the College. Three of the twenty-three hold degrees from Goshen College. Fifteen have been students in the secretarial curriculum of the College and, of these, thirteen have received the secretarial certificate.

Following is a list of the members of the secretarial staff and the offices in which they are employed:

Name and Address	Office
Ethel Bachman, sec 48, Metamora, Illinois	Director Alumni Relations
Phyllis Barkey, Mishawaka, Ind.	Director Alumni Relations
Helen (Good) Brenneman	Dean of Seminary
Anna Cocanower, Elkhart, Indiana	Secretarial Services
Lenora Dietzel, Pigeon, Michigan	President of the College
Inez Dintaman, Vestaburg, Michigan	Secretarial Services
Clara Eshleman, Harrisonburg, Virginia	Registrar
Mrs. Lena Fricke, Goshen, Indiana	Personnel
Doris Good, Elkhart, Indiana	Business Manager
Carolyn (Weaver) Hertzler, Goshen, Ind.	Dean of the College
Naomi Hertzler, Norristown, Pennsylvania	Personnel
Bernadette Hower, Goshen, Indiana	Secretarial Services
Thelma Kauffman, Topeka, Indiana	Controller
Ruth Keim, Sugarcreek, Ohio	Controller
LaVina Kramer, Portsmouth, Virginia	Field Secretary
Dorothy Keller sec 48, Eureka, Illinois	Assistant Registrar
Ellen Miller, Canton, Ohio	Assistant Registrar
Ada Shaum, Hesston, Kansas	Controller
Dorothy Schrock Slagel sec 48, Metamora, Illinois	Director Teacher Training Mailing
Lucille (Graber) Swartzendruber, Goshen, Indiana	Secretarial Services
Fern Troyer, Elkhart, Indiana	President
Elsie Zimmerman, Protection, Kansas	Controller
Lillian Zook, Wooster, Ohio	Controller

Miss Lois Winey 36, Instructor in Commerce and Director of Secretarial Services, has general supervision of the work program of the secretarial staff. She has prepared an "Office Manual" for use in the administrative offices of the College. It covers such points as "policies," "responsibility of being a staff member," "office procedures," and "stenographic procedures." This Manual includes not only the functions and privileges of members of the secretarial staff, but also such matters as courtesy, postal information, telephone techniques, and a number of valuable hints that enable the secretary to render the extra little services that make her more than an official automaton—a real office assistant in the highest sense of the word.

CRIPE WINS HONORABLE MENTION

Mac Cripe 49, who represented Goshen College in the Intercollegiate Peace Oratorical Contest last year and won first prize in the state, has been given honorable mention in the national contest. The national contest is judged on the basis of manuscript alone. This is the second successive year that Goshen has won honorable mention, John Howard Yoder 47 winning fourth place in the national contest in 1947.

Goshen won first in the state and first in the national in 1939, when Charles Ainlay 41, of Mishawaka, represented the College, and second in the state and first in the national in 1944 when Harold Bauman 46 represented the College in this contest. Goshen won first in the state in 1947 and in 1948 and honorable mention in the national both years.

POPULATION SURVEY BEING CONDUCTED

The office of the Alumni Association is co-operating in a population survey conducted by the "Population Reference Bureau" of Washington, D.C. The object of this survey is to determine population trends. The survey is expected to be useful to school administrators and to others who are called upon to meet increased housing and recreational needs due to growth in population.

The survey, now in its fourth year, deals primarily with families of college graduates. Each year the "Population Reference Bureau" bases its survey on the twenty-fifth and the tenth anniversary classes. Since this is the first year that Goshen is participating, our portion of the survey is a bit irregular. We are asked to send out blanks to the graduates of the class of 1923 and the class of 1939. Graduates of these classes will receive the blanks within the next few days, or have already received them. The Alumni Office hopes that we can have a one hundred per cent response to the questionnaire.

PEACE TEAM COVERS CENTRAL STATES

Three Goshen College students and Alumni composed a traveling Peace Team, sponsored by the Peace Problems Committee during the past summer. Members of the team were John Howard Yoder 47, Willard Hunsberger 50, and John A. Hostetler 50. They conducted nine week-end peace institutes in Mennonite churches from Iowa to Maryland, and conducted one or more meetings at thirteen other points. The team arranged with local ministers and young people a program for each community as was desired.

Part of the summer's experience, as reported by the team, follows:

"A few observations we have to report are: (1) While it is not always clear to our ministerial leadership how the principle must be carried out, all seem confident that nonresistance is teaching of our Lord; (2) Questions asked in our discussion groups usually came from ex-C.P.S. men and ministers; (3) Many local churches are ready to see the church move ahead in a church voluntary service program and young people want to know what services are available; (4) Our position on nonresistance must be further studied in the light of interests in prophecy, millennialism, and militaristic tendencies in the larger evangelical world; and (5) Nonresistance is often spoken of as a doctrine instead of a way of life."

At the end of the summer the team expressed the hope that many communities will wish within the coming years to arrange their own local programs on peace, and that peace teaching will become a regular part of the religious teaching program of every local church.

COMPLETES WORK FOR DOCTORATE

Professor Karl Massanari 36, newly elected Associate Professor in Education, has had his thesis accepted by the Graduate School of the University of Illinois.

The title of Professor Massanari's thesis is "Public Opinion as Related to the Problem of School District Reorganization in Selected Areas in Illinois." It contains the results of a series of studies conducted under the direction of the graduate department of education at the University of Illinois. From the standpoint of the State Department of Public Instruction in Illinois this study is extremely valuable in connection with the promotion of a state-wide program for the consolidation of rural and village schools.

Professor Massanari's thesis has been accepted for publication in the Journal of Experimental Education published at the University of Wisconsin under the editorship of Professor A. S. Barr.

Professor Massanari is to receive the Ed.D. at the University of Illinois in January.

JULY ISSUE OF MENNONITE LIFE

The editor had intended to mention in the September issue of the NEWS-LETTER the excellent articles in the July, 1948, issue of Mennonite Life. Many of the articles in earlier issues of this popular magazine deal with the cultural history of a Mennonite group with which most Goshen College Alumni have little familiarity. Most Mennonites of the middle west and east are descended from the Swiss and South German Mennonites. A very important branch of the Mennonite family is made up of descendants of Dutch and North German Mennonites.

Since Dr. Cornelius Krahn, editor of Mennonite Life, is descended from the Prussian-Russian group, he has an interest in and connections with the Dutch-Prussian-Russian Mennonites which enable him to present intimate and interesting details and viewpoints on their history.

Some of the important articles in the July issue are "Mennonite World Conferences," "Dutch Mennonite Youth," "The Portraits of Menno Simons," "Dutch Mennonites Unite During Crisis," "A Thrilling Story from an Old Diary" (Prussian-Russian), "Cultural Achievements of the Chortitza Mennonites," "Long Ago and Far Away" (early and later Russian Mennonitism), "From Russia to Canada—Twenty-Five Years Ago," "The Ethnic Origin of the Mennonites from Russia," and "Mennonite Refugees Leaving for Paraguay." No student of Mennonite history can afford to be ignorant of the history and development of this interesting branch of the Mennonite family.

Two other articles deal with general Mennonite movements in the United States: "The All-Mennonite Convention," by Dr. Noah E. Byers, former President of Goshen College and later Dean of Bluffton College, and "Conferences on Mennonite Cultural Problems."

The magazine is well illustrated and well printed. It is a worthy undertaking in every sense of the word, brilliantly conceived and well executed. Copies of the July issue may be secured from Mennonite Life, North Newton, Kansas. The regular subscription is two dollars a year.

Since the above was written, the October 1948 issue of Mennonite Life has appeared. It continues the excellent work of previous issues, in preserving the memoirs and history of the Dutch-Prussian-Russian Mennonites, many of those descendants now live in the central and western parts of the United States. This issue also presents pictures and interesting historical material of Bethel, Hesston and Tabor colleges.

FOREIGN STUDENTS AT GOSHEN

Again this year the registration of foreign students forms an interesting and valuable addition to the student body at Goshen. The largest number come from Canada with twelve from Ontario and six from Manitoba. This year again there are five from Puerto Rico. Both of the students from Ethiopia have returned. This year for the first time several German students have registered, and one native student from India. Argentina, France, Switzerland, and the Netherlands again are represented. Two students are returned missionaries from Nigeria. Following is a list of the names and addresses of the foreign students:

Alvarez, Antonio, Barranquitas, Puerto Rico
Beyer, Ursula, Krefeld, Germany
Brownsberger, James T., Toronto, Ontario
Erb, J. Frederich, Waterloo, Ontario
Gassmann, Gertrude C., Bas-Rhin, France
Gonzalez, Amparo E., Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico
Haile, Minasse, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia
Hodel, Walter, Munich, Germany
Hunsperger, Edna, Preston, Ontario
Jantzi, Orval M., New Hamburg, Ontario
Lehmann, Samuel, Bruss Bich, Switzerland
Limardo, Miguel, Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico
Litwiller, John T., Bragado, Argentina
Loewen, Emmeline, Steinbach, Manitoba
Loewen, Mel J., Steinbach, Manitoba
Makonnen, Adunya, Harrar, Ethiopia
Malagar, Pyarelal, Nagpur, India
Martin, Clare L., Kitchener, Ontario
Martin, Mary M., Waterloo, Ontario
Mercado, Fidel, Barranquitas, Puerto Rico
Meyers, Clara, Millbach, Ontario
Meyers, Earl, Kitchener, Ontario
Miller, Esther, Garkida, Nigeria
Nussbaumer, Regina, Riehen, Switzerland
Penner, Archie, Steinbach, Manitoba
Reimer, Clifford, Giroux, Manitoba
Rodriguez, Eliezer, Guayanilla, Puerto Rico
Sloat, Russell, Nigeria
Snyder, Harvey E., Kitchener, Ontario
Snyder, John W., Hespeler, Ontario
Snyder, Lucinda, Floradale, Ontario
Swartzentruber, Orley M., Pehuajo, Argentina
Talsma, Eke, Holland
Toews, Harvey W., Steinbach, Manitoba
van der Laag, Tina, Amsterdam, Netherlands
van Duehren, Ursula, Berlin, Germany
von Beckerath, Gerhard M., Krefeld, Germany
Wiebe, Peter, Plum Coulee, Manitoba
Witmer, Helen V., Preston, Ontario

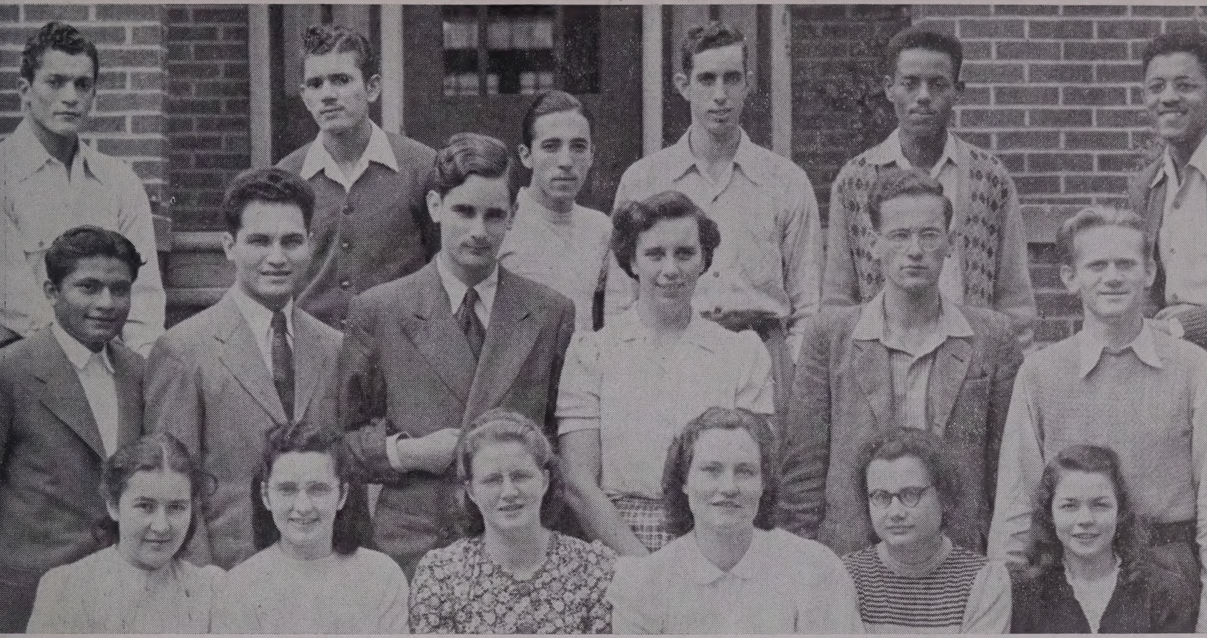
The students of the foreign group are so much in demand for addresses and talks, not only in Indiana but in near-by states, that the administration has found it necessary, in order to give the students time for their school work, to limit the number of appearances in a given period. Most of them have a fluent use of the English language, and on account of their advanced educational status and their varied experiences, are able to present an interesting program on many subjects.

A group of the foreign students gave an excellent Vesper program in the Goshen College Assembly Hall on Sunday afternoon, October 17. The program was as follows:

Theme: The Basis for International Christian Fellowship

"We Agree to Differ" Albertina van der Laag
"We Resolve to Love" P. J. Malagar
"We Unite to Serve" Ursula van Duehren

Leader, Walter Hodel; Devotions, Ursula Beyer; Chorister, Miguel Limardo, Scripture verses in native tongue: Samuel Lehmann, Adunya Makonnen, Gerhard von Beckerath, Eke Talsma, Regina Nussbaumer, Minassie Haile.



GROUP OF FOREIGN STUDENTS

Second Row: Pyarelal Malagar, Fidel Mercado, Gerhard von Beckerath, Tina van der Laag, Walter Hodel, Samuel Lehmann.

Back Row: Antonio Alvarez, Eliezer Rodriguez, Octavio Romero, Miguel Limardo, Minasse Haile, Adunya Makonnen.

CHURCH DEDICATED

The East Goshen Mennonite Church, which had its rise in student Christian activity during the past number of years, was dedicated on Sunday, October 17. The following program was rendered: Chorister, Merrill Swartley; Invocation, Bishop Sanford C. Yoder; Address "Review of God's Leading in the Past," President Ernest E. Miller; Dedication Sermon, Paul Mininger, Bishop of the congregation; "Goals for the Future," Paul M. Miller 49, pastor of the congregation; special music; dedication ceremony and prayer by the pastor; offering for the building fund; and the benediction. The building, erected at a cost of $18,000, still carries a debt of $5,000. The present membership is 68.

ALUMNI ATTEND CONFERENCE

President Ernest E. Miller 17, Joseph D. Graber 25, Professor John Mosemann, E. S. Bender pt41, and Ford Berg 45, served as delegates of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities to the World Mission Assembly which met at Columbus, Ohio, October 6 to 8, under the auspices of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. The Assembly was composed of delegates appointed by their respective mission boards, each board being allocated one delegate for every ten thousand members.

VALUABLE BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Professor Harold S. Bender 18, Dean of the Mennonite Biblical Seminary of Goshen College, brought back with him from Europe a valuable assortment of books obtained from various sources from Holland, Germany, Switzerland, and Poland, for the Mennonite Historical Library. The total number of titles exceeds six hundred in addition to numerous small books and pamphlets and were purchased at a cost of $1500. Those from Poland were found in the library of the abandoned Heuvuden Church of the West Prussian Conference. His purchases included the small but valuable library of the late W. J. Kuhler, Professor of Church History at the Mennonite Seminary in Amsterdam, and four different editions of the first Mennonite Martyr book in Dutch, the oldest dated 1570. The total amount of Dean Bender's purchases was $1,500 donated by interested persons in America and by the Mennonite Historical Society of Goshen College.

LARGE NUMBER OF MARRIED STUDENTS

Another result of the aftermath of the war is the large number of married students in Goshen College. One hundred and ninety-one married students are enrolled either full time or part time.

These married students are one of the reasons for Goshen's record-breaking enrollment—612 full time and 127 part time. While college enrollments are declining, Goshen's figures continue to rise. One element is the belated enrollment of students who volunteered for a two- or three-year period of relief work following their release from C.P.S. They form a solid, mature, highly desirable addition to any student body.

One aspect of what formerly would have been considered a very unusual condition in the student body is the number of married couples attending College this semester, cases in which both the husband and the wife are enrolled either full time or part time. They are living in the city, out in the country, in basement apartments, in rooms, in upstairs apartments, in trailers. Some have built their own houses. Three families live in prefabricated log cottages erected by the College in Willard Shoup's woods near the barn which Professor Alta Schrock converted into an artistic cozy cottage a year ago.

Following is a list of the twenty-five married couples enrolled in Goshen College this semester:

IN MEMORIAM

Byler—Joseph Plezner, son of Joseph and Nancy Zook Byler, was born in Cass County, Missouri, May 14, 1890, and died August 12, 1948, at his late home in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania. On October 22, 1936, he was married to Elsie Yoder 19 who survives him. Also surviving is his brother John I. 06, of Sheffield, Illinois, and four sisters, including Sadie M. 18 (Mrs. Louis Miller), of Normal, Illinois.

Smucker—Mary Elizabeth, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Birkey) Albrecht, was born near Tiskilwa, Illinois, February 18, 1874; died at the home of her daughter, Esther, September 4, 1948. On December 5, 1897, she was united in marriage to Frank I. Smucker of Nappanee. She is survived by her husband and four children, all of whom attended Goshen College; Ruth x23 (Mrs. Carl Magnusson); Esther 25 (Mrs. John Hodel—Dr. Esther Smucker Hodel), of Morton, Illinois; Mark x31, of Wheaton, Illinois; and Milton x42, of Lake City, Florida. She was a member of the Willow Springs Mennonite Church and always much interested in various types of missionary work. She and her husband spent two years in charge of the Orphans' Home at West Liberty, Ohio.

Landis—John W. Landis, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Landis 10 (Orpha Hostetler x10), of 801 South Seventh Street, died on September 29 at the Landis home. He was born November 2, 1922, and had been an invalid from early infancy. Surviving are his parents and an only brother, Donald E. Landis (B.A., Wabash; M.A., Northwestern), who is in partnership with his father in the Maytag Store in Goshen. Funeral services were in charge of the Reverend Robert Hartzler 41, pastor of the Eighth Street Mennonite Church, and burial was in the Violett Cemetery.

Cressman—Mary Ann, daughter of Joseph and Mary Shantz Nahrgang, was born near New Hamburg, Ontario, November 18, 1864; died at her home in Kitchener, Ontario, on September 10. On June 28, 1887, she was united in marriage to Menno C. Cressman. Surviving are her husband, one daughter, and a son, Joseph Boyd Cressman 23. She was active in local, district, and church-wide sewing circle activities. For a number of years she was president of the church-wide organization of the American and Canadian sewing circles.

Messner—The father of Miss Marian Messner, Dean of Women at Hesston College, passed away on the morning of September 22, at his home in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

Detweiler—Jonas M. Detweiler, the father of Mrs. John C. Wenger (the former Ruth Detweiler R.N.) died suddenly on October 6, in a heart attack in his home at Sellersville, Pennsylvania. He was 69 years old.

Kauffman—Benedict J. Kauffman, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kauffman, was born in Kalona, Iowa, February 10, 1878, died at his home, 313 Sunset Boulevard, after an illness of ten days following a stroke of apoplexy. He was a cabinetmaker and a faithful member of the Goshen College Mennonite Church. Surviving are his wife, Barbara; two sons, Roland V. of Goshen, and W. Paul, of Elkhart, the latter the husband of Retha Hostetler 36; and two daughters, Mrs. Dana Christner (Emily x29) of Lagrange, and Mrs. Donald Beam (Dorothy R.N.) of Palmyra, Pennsylvania.

Former Instructor Passes Away

Solomon F. Gingerich 00, 02 was born August 26, 1875, near Kalona, Iowa, and died at the home of his nieces (Edna and Mary Gingerich) near Kalona on September 27. Dr. Gingerich was professor of English at Goshen College from 1905 to 1911.

He received the Ph.D. degree from the University of Michigan in 1909 and returned to Ann Arbor in 1911 as a member of the English faculty. For twenty years, until his retirement in 1931, he taught English Literature to thousands of Michigan students who enrolled in his classes.

He was the author of a number of books. Among them were "Wordsworth: A Study in Memory and Mysticism," published in 1908; "Wordsworth, Tennyson, and Browning, a Study of Human Freedom," published in 1911; and "Essays in the Romantic Poets," published in 1924 and widely used as a college text.

In 1910, Dr. Gingerich married Beulah Kauffman 06, of Goshen, who survives him. Two sons were born to them: Horace, who died in 1927, and Dr. Hugh Gingerich, of Washington, D.C. Dr. Gingerich was the uncle of Dr. Melvin Gingerich 26, of Goshen.

During his student days at the Elkhart Institute, Dr. Gingerich was one of the most active members of the student body. When the Ciceronian Debating Club was dissolved he was one of the two students chosen by the faculty to divide the men into what later became the Aurora Society and the C.M.A. Debating Club, the predecessor of the present Adelphian Society. After the two groups had been chosen he was selected by lot as a member of the Aurora Society and remained a leader in that group. He was also a member of the organization which gave itself the rather high-sounding title "Philosophical Research Society." Probably few students of the Elkhart Institute were more widely and more favorably known than Solomon F. Gingerich.

FORMER DEAN DIES

Professor C. Henry Smith Ph.D., former Dean of Goshen College, and since 1913 Professor of History at Bluffton College, died of a heart attack at his home in Bluffton, on October 18. He was born at Metamora, Illinois, on June 8, 1875, the son of Bishop John and Magdalena (Schertz) Smith. On December 26, 1908, he married Laura Louise Ioder, of Tiskilwa, Illinois, who survives him. Granted the A.B. degree at the University of Illinois in 1902, the A.M. at the University of Chicago, in 1903, and the Ph.D. at the University of Chicago, in 1907, he was one of the first young men of the Old Mennonite Church to receive advanced degrees.

He was one of the most popular of the instructors in the Elkhart Institute in 1898-1900 and returned to Goshen College as instructor of history and Dean of the College after he had completed his graduate work.

His Doctor's thesis, based on extensive research in Mennonite history, was printed as The Mennonites of America in 1909. He kept up his interest in Mennonite history and, at the time of his death, was regarded as one of the outstanding authorities in American Mennonite history. His published works include The Mennonites, 1920; The Coming of the Russian Mennonites, 1927; Mennonite Emigration to Pennsylvania in the Eighteenth Century, 1929; Menno Simons, 1936; and The History of the Mennonites, 1941. As a historian he had the happy faculty of assembling large masses of facts and data and presenting them in readable style interesting to the layreader.

His superior ability and industry as a student and writer won for him membership in a number of learned societies: Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Gamma Mu, American Historical Society, American Society of Church History, Pennsylvania German Society, Mennonitischer Geschichts-Verein, Kansas State Historical Society, and Ohio Academy of Social Science, but that he was interested in local history is attested by his membership in the Allen County, Ohio, Historical Society. He also was a charter member and the first president of the Mennonite Historical Research Fellowship, a small body of scholars who have done outstanding work in the field of Mennonite History and Research.

In addition to his interests as a teacher and student, he was interested in banking and finance. He was president of the Citizen's National Bank, at Bluffton, Ohio, and Vice-President of the First National Bank, of Pandora, Ohio.

He also served the Church in several important capacities. He has been a member of the Board of Publication of the General Conference of the Mennonite Church of North America since 1940 and a member of the Peace Committee of the Middle District Conference since 1941.

Professor Smith was co-editor, with Dean Harold S. Bender, of the projected Mennonite Encyclopedia and had completed several important articles for that work. His passing makes a regrettable gap in the group of scholars who are responsible for assembling and preparing materials for this long awaited and much needed contribution in the field of Mennonite scholarship.

Professor Smith's sister, Mrs. B. J. Schertz, lives in Goshen, as do also a nephew, Professor Willard H. Smith, and nieces, Mrs. Samuel A. Yoder (Ethel Over x30), and Mrs. Roy Umble (Ferne Smith x35). A considerable number of the faculty members of Goshen attended the funeral at Bluffton on Thursday, October 21.

ANNUAL PEACE ORATORICAL CONTEST

Fifteen men have expressed their intention of entering the Annual Peace Oratorical contest. Several of the contestants are men who entered in previous years, but who have written entirely new orations for the coming event. An elimination contest will be held on November 11. At that time five or six contestants will be chosen for the annual contest to be held this year on November 24, just before the beginning of the Home-Coming week end. It has become a tradition that the judges for this contest are the men and women who have represented Goshen College in previous state contests. Dean Harold S. Bender annually awards a cash prize to the winner of the local contest. The winner of the contest on November 24 will represent Goshen College in the state contest.

PERSONALS

Bishop D. A. Yoder x07 of Elkhart, is principal; Roy D. Roth 43 of Peoria Heights, Illinois, administrative dean; and Lloyd V. Conrad 38, registrar, of the Winter Bible School to be held at Goshen College, for the forty-ninth annual term, January 3 to February 11, 1949. An unusually large number of courses will be offered in the Old and New Testament, in Practical Christian work, in music and chorus, and in public speaking. Both men and women will room in homes near the college. Requests for room reservations and other inquiries should be addressed to the registrar, Lloyd V. Conrad, Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana. The Winter Bible School bulletin will be printed about November 1.

Goshen Alumnae fill the "Family Circle" page of the October issue of the Gospel Herald. Mrs. Millard Lind (Miriam Sieber 42) of Scottdale, supplies the poem, a free verse bit, addressed to her youngest, Timothy. Mrs. Chauncey Smucker (Pearl Detweiler 29), of West Liberty, Ohio, shows intimate knowledge of, and a deep concern for, the problems of "Home-making a Christian Vocation." In a delightful, yet yearningly prayerful "Home Scene," Mrs. Lowell Hershberger (Clara Lehman x42) of Scottdale, permits an intimate glimpse into a mother heart. Perhaps not the least contribution that Goshen College is making to Christian education, is the training of young women to become godly wives and mothers.

Professor and Mrs. Harry A. Good 08 (Maud Warye 08), Columbus, Ohio, taught in the summer school of California State University, Los Angeles, California, during the past summer. He taught in the field of history of education, the same subject which he teaches at Ohio State University.

H. J. Andres, of Newton, Kansas, husband of the former Joanna Sudermann 30, has gone to Montevideo, Uruguay, where he will make arangements for the settlement of 500 Mennonite refugees from Europe. Mr. Andres is administrator of the Bethel Deaconess Hospital in Newton. He made the trip to Uruguay by air from New York and expects to return at the end of this year.

Mrs. John Duerksen (Ruth King 39) has been employed by the board of Weekday Religious Instruction to teach children of grade school age Bible lessons in the basement of the West Zion Church at Moundridge, Kansas.

Floyd W. Shore x40, assistant treasurer for the Alliance Manufacturing company at Alliance, Ohio, has a leave of absence to complete his degree, Bachelor of Science in commerce at the Northwestern University School of Commerce. He will complete his course in January, 1949, and will also have advanced work to his credit.

Enrollment Trends

Goshen College is beginning the third year of a much enlarged enrollment as compared to previous years. This third year also shows the third significant increase in enrollment. Full-time students number 38 more than a year ago or an increase of about 7%. Last year's increase of 70 represented a 14% increase whereas the previous year's increase of 217 was a 76% increase. The present year's increase is contrary to the trend in the larger American colleges, which are this fall experiencing a slight drop in enrollment. This continued increase at Goshen College may be explained in part by the fact that the return of men from CPS to continue their education was somewhat delayed as compared to the return of veterans to colleges. One factor in this delay has been the undertaking by many CPS men of a period of relief service after the close of their service for the government before continuing their education. Ten such persons, who had spent about two years in relief service, have entered Goshen College this fall. Another reason for the difference in the enrollment trend at Goshen College as compared to the larger schools is that Goshen College has had a much smaller proportion of ex-service men than most schools. This year's total of 134 ex-service men, composed of 79 ex-CPS men and 55 veterans, represents only 22% of the total enrollment, whereas the average enrollment of veterans in colleges of the country has been approximately 50%. This latter fact points to less of a future drop of enrollment at Goshen College than the average for American colleges with the discontinuance of the delayed education for ex-service men.

There is this year a significant number of entering students who are transferring from other colleges. These come largely from our sister colleges, Hesston College, Eastern Mennonite College, and Messiah College, although some also transfer from other schools. This group numbers 66 with 23 entering as sophomores, 29 as juniors, and 14 as seniors. Such a large group of tranfer students helps to increase the size of and enrich the upper classes at Goshen College.

The present total of 745 students, composed of 609 full-time and 136 part-time students, is 88 more than the peak total of 657 attained during the first semester of last year.

This year's total of 136 part-time students exceeds any previous enrollment of part-time students. The large number of such students is due to the fact that many elementary school teachers who do not hold regular teaching certificates are entering teaching positions and are compelled to continue their training while they are in service. The part-time students include 100 women, many of whom are school teachers.

Another interesting feature of this year's enrollment is the increased proportion of men students, which is 57% of the total enrollment as compared to 53% a year ago. Also this larger proportion of men is distributed throughout all of the classes whereas last year the women outnumbered the men in both the junior and senior classes. Last year's senior class was the last class to have a disproportionately small number of men. The total number of women students this year has actually decreased slightly over a year ago so that the men more than account for the total increase in enrollment. The fact that even in the freshman class the men significantly outnumber the women is probably partly due to the entrance of ex-service men whose education was delayed. The men will therefore probably significantly outnumber the women for several years in the future.

Married students also constitute a sizeable portion of this year's student body. which includes among the full-time students 82 married men and 16 married women, making a total of 98 or about 16% of the total full-time students.

Mennonite students of all branches number this year 504 as compared to 467 a year ago. That is, this year's full-time student body includes about 83% of Mennonite students, as compared to 81% last year. Those belonging to the Mennonite Church, the branch operating Goshen College number 431 as compared to 407 a year ago. These represent about 71% of the total for each of the two years. The discrepancy between this percentage and a preliminary determination at the time of registration has resulted from a lack of clear determination of Mennonite branches for some students, and from last minute changes in registration. These figures show, therefore, a notable increase in the students from other Mennonite branches as well as a proportionate increase in students from the Mennonite Church.

The freshman class is approximately of the same size as a year ago, as well as of about the same character as related to proportion of men and women and intended occupation. Teaching still heads the list among the intended occupations of freshmen, with 46. Business, including secretarial students, attracts 27 freshmen. Medicine and nursing also rank relatively high with 15 and 16 respectively. Religious work claims a goodly number, 14 in this year's freshmen class, which, however, is only about half of the number reported two years ago when the large proportion of men returned from CPS. Since these last two freshman classes represent a fairly normal group of persons starting their college career, it would seem that the occupational complexion of the student body for the future can be fairly well determined from these two groups.

An examination of the curricula of the students reveals that the Biblical Seminary has about the same number as a year ago, whereas the Liberal Arts college has absorbed practically all of this year's increase in the total enrollment. The various curricula within the Liberal Arts college maintain almost the same proportion of students as those reported a year ago.

There have been interesting shifts in the numbers of students coming from various states. Full-time students from Indiana number about the same as a year ago. There have been notable increases in numbers of students from the states of Ohio and Pennsylvania and, for the more distant states, particularly from Kansas as well as from Oregon and Manitoba. A few states show an actual decrease in numbers of students, particularly Illinois, Ontario, Minnesota and Colorado.

Looking to the future, it appears that, barring any major economic or political changes in the national life, the Goshen College enrollment should follow much of its present complexion as to interests of students, with relatively minor decreases in total enrollments in the next two years appearing principally in the upper classes. For the year 1949-50 the total enrollment should drop only slightly to about 600 with perhaps another drop in 1950-51 to about 575. Using the experience between the 1947-48 school year and the present school year as a guide, final enrollments by classes for 1949-50 would be about as follows: freshman 180; sophomore 145; junior 115; senior 170; advanced students 15; making a total of 625 for the school year, or about 600 for the beginning of the school year.
